BOTH SHOT BY MISTAKE

Boy Is Killed and His Aunt Wounded Near Vandergrift.

SEARCH FOR THIEVES

Youth Alarms His Relatives and Fatal Tragedy Is Enacted.

GUNS DISCHARGED IN DARK

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

VANDERGRIFT, PA., Oct. 5.—The village of Mateer, eight miles from here, was the scene of a tragedy last night, in which two persons were shot, one fatally. While hunting burglars around the home of his grandfather, Jacob Kanappenberger, Lloyd Remalay, aged 17, was shot in the abdomen by his uncle, Murray Kanappenberger, and the boy in frightened agony discharged his own revolver, the shot striking his aunt, Miss Lottie Kanappenberger in the thigh. Remalay received the full charge of gunshot in the abdomen from in front at close range and lived in terrible agony until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Under the impression that he heard burglars forcing an entrance through the back door, young Remalay arose and, dressing himself, slipped out the front door and crossed the street to his Uncle Murray's home. He gained admittance and apprised his uncle of what he had heard, and both then started back to Jacob Kanappenberger's home, Remalay armed with a revolver and his Uncle Murray with a shotgun.

Each went around the house in different directions and met in the darkness at the rear of the house. The uncle shouted "Throw up your hands!" to a figure coming toward him, which he thought was a burglar, and, the order being disobeyed, he fired. In falling young Remalay's revolver was discharged and at this moment Miss Lottie Kanappenberger rushed out of a side door to the rear of the house. Young Remalay was lying on the grass groaning in agony, and probably in a convulsion of pain pressed the revolver trigger again, the shot striking his aunt in the thigh. She fell in a faint and Murray Kanappenberger rushed away for a physician.

The news of the tragedy did not reach here until this afternoon, when physicians returned from Mateer, where they had been called in consultation on the case. Miss Lottie Kanappenberger is not seriously wounded and will recover. All the family are prostrated with grief.

COMPARTMENT BOTTLE FOR PRESIDENT ZELAYA

Pittsburghers in Nicaraguan Concession Company Make Novel Present to Executive.

A unique bottle is now on the way to President Zelaya of Nicaragua, as a present from the syndicate of Pittsburghers who have a concession to develop the mineral resources of about one-third of the Central American country. The bottle was shipped to New York by James A. McAfee and later sent to President Zelaya by James Dietrick, managing director of the Pittsburgh syndicate.

The bottle is three feet high and contains seven compartments, each of which will hold a quart of liquor. Each compartment has a separate cork and each now contains a different brand of headache producer. The list is claret, Pennsylvania rye, Kentucky bourbon, Scotch whisky, yellow chartreuse, creme de menthe and creme de yvette. Each compartment bears its proper label, and President Zelaya need not mix his drinks unless he chooses to do so.

FAIRBANKS LETS CONTRACT FOR ILLINOIS RESIDENCE

BLOOMINGTON, ILL., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Vice President C. W. Fairbanks has let the contract for a $35,000 residence at Mansfield, Ill., a small town in Platt county, where his brother is a banker. The Fairbanks own thousands of acres of valuable land in that vicinity and it is announced that after completing his term as vice president Mr. Fairbanks will make Mansfield his permanent home.

NEGRO ATTEMPTS THEFT OF TRAY OF DIAMONDS

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Just as business was at its height in Maiden Lane today a negro tried to steal $20,000 worth of diamonds in Cross & Beguelins. He got a tray of $5,000 worth of diamond rings and was caught after a chase of nearly a half mile. Before he was captured the negro drew a big knife and tried to stab every one within reach. The diamonds were recovered before he got out of the store.

TEXAS CRUDE OIL GOES UP THREE CENTS

BEAUMONT, TEX., Oct. 5.—A straight advance of 3 cents on Texas crude oil was posted today by the Texas company, making a total raise of 5 cents during the past two weeks. Quotations: South Lake, 37 cents; Saratoga, 31 cents; Batson and Humble, 30 cents.

ROME, Oct. 5.—The vatican was the scene of gymnastic contests today. The 250 Catholic contestants were escorted by papal guards to the Court of Belvedere where the contests took place. The events included bicycle races, running races and gymnastic exercises.

ON AND OFF THE WATER WAGON

OUSTS RAMSEY FROM WABASH

Gould Gathers Seven Directors Against Him and Quickly Does the Trick.

DELANO IS THE NEW HEAD

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Oct. 5.

Evidently made apprehensive by the steps taken and the proceedings contemplated by Joseph Ramsey, Jr., to wrest control of the Wabash railroad from the Gould interests at the Toledo meeting, directors of the Wabash met today and by a bare majority adopted a resolution removing him from the presidency of the Wabash and installing Frederick A. Delano, vice president, in his place.

Mr. Ramsey, who had been advised Wednesday night that Mr. Gould's supporters were determined to oust him, received a notice this morning that a directors' meeting was to be held at No. 195 Broadway. When he entered the board room he represented a minority of one as against seven other directors who were arrayed against him. Among his opponents were George J. Gould, chairman of the board; Edward T. Jeffrey, president of the Western Pacific; Frederick A. Delano, Winslow S. Pierce, Mr. Gould's personal counsel; Edgar T. Welles, and other Gould adherents.

Mr. Gould presided. A resolution was at once introduced authorizing the removal of Mr. Ramsey as president, on the ground he had made an attack on the Wabash railroad to the impairment of its interests. It was stated the action taken by Mr. Ramsey and the attitude he assumed were altogether unprecedented in railroad history.

Protests It Is Illegal.

Mr. Ramsey sprang to his feet protesting against the adoption of the resolution. He informed the directors he regarded their action as illegal. The bylaws of the company, he pointed out, distinctly stated a written notice of a directors' meeting must be sent out five days before the meeting was held. He understood the notices had been sent only the night before.

No response was made to the president's protest; however, and the resolution was adopted, placing Mr. Delano at the head of the Wabash system. The deposed president smiled and shook hands with his successor, but at once left the room in considerable agitation. Later, Mr. Ramsey said he was convinced the directors had exceeded their authority. He admitted he contemplated some form of legal action, the nature of which he would not divulge.

Mr. Gould and Mr. Jeffrey refused to make a statement. Mr. Delano, however, who had taken possession of Mr. Ramsey's office, said: "I do not wish to be regarded as having taken an active part in removing Mr. Ramsey. He and I have always been good friends.

"Regarding his statement as to the illegality of the board's action, I can only point out that neither Mr. Ramsey nor myself are lawyers. There were several good lawyers present, however. The meeting was regarded as an adjourned meeting."

Action Carefully Planned.

It is understood the removal of Mr. Ramsey was decided on by the Gould interests with the object of preventing him from presiding at the stockholders' annual meeting at Toledo, October 10. Mr. Ramsey announces he will be present at the meeting, nevertheless, and will insist on exercising his duties and rights as head of the Wabash system.

Mr. Ramsey still asserts his conviction that he will be able to present a majority of proxies at the meeting. A similar claim is made by the Gould interests.

The Ramsey interests contemplate contesting the ownership of a block of $4,-

RATE ACT IS ASSURED FACT

Congressman Townsend Talks With President, and Has Well-Layed Plans.

POWERS WILL BE FIXED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Railroad rate legislation was the topic of a long conference today between the President and Representative Townsend of Michigan, one of the authors of the Esch-Townsend bill, which was passed last winter by the house. At the conclusion of the conference, Mr. Townsend said it was his purpose to have his bill in readiness for introduction in the house as soon as congress convened.

"I have been working on it practically throughout the summer," said he, "and now have it pretty well formulated. My effort now is to make certain that it shall cover what is expected of it. It will embody my ideas and, at the same time, I am quite sure it will represent accurately those of the President. That he will approve of it in the form I shall present it to congress I have no doubt.

"After making it perfectly clear that the provisions of the measure apply to private cars, refrigerator cars and terminal charges, it will be my purpose, through the measure, to confer upon the interstate commerce commission the power to make its findings, in any particular case, effective within a reasonable time after they are announced. Efforts have been made to create the impression that it is the purpose of the advocates of this legislation to give the interstate commerce commission the authority to fix all the rates of a railroad. That is not true. It is intended only that the commission, if complaint shall be made to it that any particular rate is unjust, shall have power, after due investigation, to substitute a reasonable rate in case the complaint shall have been shown to be well founded."

"Do you expect that rate legislation will be enacted during the approaching session of congress?"

"I have no doubt of it," replied Mr. Townsend. "The house has indicated where it stands on that proposition and I believe there is a strong working majority in the senate in favor of such a measure."

M'CLELLAN RENOMINATED BY THE TAMMANY BRAVES

New York Democratic Convention Names a Municipal Ticket—Commends President Roosevelt.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Mayor McClellan tonight was renominated for the four years' term beginning January 1 next by the Democratic city convention of Tammany Hall organization. The ticket named by the convention is as follows: Mayor, George B. McClellan; controller, Herman A. Metz; president of the board of aldermen, Patrick F. McGowan.

A resolution was adopted highly commending President Roosevelt for his services in bringing about peace between Russia and Japan.

Mayor McClellan, in accepting the nomination, declared it had come to him unasked and unsought. He said he was pledged to no man or group of men; pledged only to the people to do his duty to the best of his ability.

EX-JUSTICE PAXON IS IN DYING CONDITION

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Former chief justice of the supreme court, Edward M. Paxon, aged 82 years, is in a critical condition at his home, Bycot house, at Bycot, Bucks county, from old age and a complication of ailments. For a week his death has been expected. He is resting quietly, but is steadily growing weaker.

BAND ON HAND, BUT NO BERRY

IS FOUND AND PILOTED IN

Special Telegram From WALTER J. CHRISTY, Staff Correspondent.

CLARION, PA., Oct. 5.—There was another evidence today of William H. Berry's need of a manager. When the last train over the Pittsburgh, Summerville & Clarion railroad arrived here tonight the Prohibition-Democratic candidate for state treasurer was not on board. The band was prepared to play and the leading members of the Democratic machine were on hand to extend a welcome. Berry was lost and it was not until near 9 o'clock this evening he was found.

Last night the Democratic candidate spoke in Uniontown and Connellsville. The Prohibition candidate appeared there last week. Berry was supposed to get on the 9:52 train at Connellsville this morning. This would have landed him in Pittsburgh in plenty of time to have connected with the Valley train which was to carry him to Summerville.

In some way Berry got off the map. He says he missed the Connellsville train and had to wait for a later one. As a result the trip here had to be made over the narrow gauge. The great defender was landed in the bushes at West Clarion after dark this evening and was piloted over the three miles by waiting Democrats.

No Outpour Here.

By his failure to arrive in the scheduled way Berry missed the music of the Clarion band and the welcome of the Clarion Democratic gang. They have a gang up here. It is of record in many ways. When Berry and Senator A. G. Dewalt tonight talked about machines and corruption, there was a good deal of snickering in the court house. There is a poor house here that stands as a monument to Democratic machine rule and has been one of the many reasons to cause honest Democrats to seek relief in the Republican party.

Senator Dewalt said the issue in this campaign is honesty. Clarion county believes this is true locally and is struggling to get out of the grasp of the corrupt band of pirates masquerading as Democrats.

Clarion county has always been noted as a Democratic stronghold. It was expected there would be a great outpouring

WAXES FAT OFF MUTUAL

President McCurdy's Son Makes $1,700,000 in Addition to Salary.

IT SIMPLY POURS IN

Son-in-Law, Too, Gathers Up Snug Little Fortune of Nearly a Million.

JEROME BIDING HIS TURN

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—That the astounding total of more than $2,000,000 has been paid as commissions by the Mutual Life Insurance Company to two members of the family of Richard A. McCurdy, president of the company, and the promise of District Attorney Jerome that the insurance scandals certainly will be submitted later to an extraordinary grand jury, were the sensational developments of the insurance situation today.

It was brought out by testimony before the legislative insurance committee that Robert H. McCurdy, a son of Richard A. McCurdy, has received as commissions on foreign business $1,163,829 and on domestic business $541,852; and that Louis A. Thebaud, son-in-law of Richard A. McCurdy, has received an aggregate of $320,113 in commissions from the company. It was also brought out that Robert H. McCurdy expected his income this year would be about $150,000.

Previous to this testimony, W. F. Thummel, an attorney of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, testified he had paid to the chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee $2,500 in cash as a campaign contribution.

Grand Jury Will Act.

Mr. Jerome, in announcing in court that the scandals will be submitted to an extraordinary grand jury, said the inquiry by the legislative committee had shown "greater moral obliquity and moral obtuseness on the part of persons important in the business world than did the shocking revelations in regard to the Equitable Life."

Another incident of the day's developments was the publication of a letter from Charles E. Hughes, counsel of the legislative committee, to Samuel Untermyer, counsel for James H. Hyde, the former controlling stockholder of the Equitable Life Assurance society, in which Mr. Hughes said the committee would make no discrimination in favor of Mr. Hyde in his examination before the committee.

The chamber of commerce at its meeting today adopted a resolution declaring that additional legislation is necessary for the proper regulation of life insurance companies.

W. F. Thummel, the attorney who was associated with Judge Andrew Hamilton in looking after legislation for the New York Life, the Equitable Life and the Mutual Life insurance companies, in the so-called legislative pool exposed last week, testified before the committee he is now employed as an attorney for the Mutual Life Insurance Company at a salary of $7,200 a year.

Gave $2,500 to Campaign Fund.

Mr. Thummel said he personally placed in the hands of the chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee $2,500 in cash which had been given the witness for that purpose by Vice President Robert A. Granniss of the Mutual Life Insurance Company. Witness said the contribution had been suggested by the danger of a Democratic house, which would result in tariff and other legislation of a character to upset business and effect policyholders. He said other companies had been asked to contribute, but he did not know how many did. Mr. Thummel denied paying any money to any legislator to influence legislation or to any other person for that purpose.

He described the legislative pool and said the expenses were met by the company looking after the territory in which expenses were incurred, and later an adjustment of these expenses was made between the three companies. He had received money from the New York Life in these adjustments, but kept no account of his disbursements.

Mr. Thummel said Mr. McCall was in error in his testimony yesterday that he had paid money to the witness to further federal supervision of insurance. Witness

NO REASON FOR SUICIDE

OFFICER COMES HERE

SUICIDE THEORY SCORNED

The United States authorities have inaugurated a vigorous investigation to find the murderer of Private Michael Ryan of Company C, First United States infantry, who died at the Allegheny arsenal under mysterious circumstances about six weeks ago. Secret service men from the war department will be detailed upon the case and before the inquiry is concluded the methods of the Pittsburgh bureau of police are likely to be exposed in its manner in dealing with the catching of criminals. If a murder has been concealed—and there has already been some hint of this—the parties who are responsible will be brought promptly to justice.

Maj. John Biddle Porter, first assistant judge advocate general of the United States army, has spent two days in Pittsburgh upon the investigation. Last night he returned to Washington with voluminous testimony bearing on the case. This will at once be transcribed and placed before the investigating board. On leaving the city Maj. Porter stated that The Gazette had been of inestimable assistance in bringing the case to public notice and that the newspaper's persistence in turning on the light of publicity had accomplished much in enabling the war department to secure valuable testimony.

Police Flagrantly Derelict.

The fact that Maj. Porter, who is next in rank to Judge Advocate General George B. Davis, was sent to Pittsburgh, alone is evidence that the Washington authorities believe that the Pittsburgh bureau of police has been flagrantly derelict in its effort to discover the motive of the crime or to find the person responsible for Private Ryan's death.

Maj. Porter came here on Wednesday and spent several hours at the arsenal questioning Lieut. Leonard and the men in the ranks who were comrades of Ryan. He took a report of the autopsy performed by the military surgeon and then went to the district attorney's office, where he had a long interview respecting the manner of procedure of the county authorities, inasmuch as the police had made no progress in fixing justification for the young man's death.

Yesterday Maj. Porter called upon Superintendent Alexander Wallace of the police bureau and met several of the officers who were detailed upon the case. From this source the army officer learned but little.

"I have traced every movement made by Ryan from the moment of his leaving the arsenal until he rolled his eyes upward and fell over in the stupor which ended in his death," said Maj. Porter last night as he left the Hotel Henry and started for his train back to Washington. "It seems ridiculous to think that he committed suicide. A soldier who is absolutely perfect, physically, and who is sound mentally, who is the favorite of his comrades and has the admiration of his officers, is not likely to kill himself. Moreover, he had just procured an honorable discharge after a term of service of which any patriotic American might well be proud. He had considerable money coming from the government and he was about to go home to visit his family, previous to going to the Philippines, for which service he had re-enlisted.

No Woman in the Case.

"Notwithstanding all this, we decided to give the benefit of the doubt to those who advanced the theory of suicide, and suspected that there might be a woman in the case. But we found that he had no sweethearts. He was almost a total abstainer, he was not given to dissipation and had led a clean, wholesome life. He was, in fact, a model soldier—I wish we had more of them. Is a man like this likely to drink a deadly drug? It is a mystery that baffles sociologists and army officers if he does. It is the general opinion that he did not.

"The United States army gives its soldiers and their friends the assurance when they enlist that they shall have every protection. In reopening this investigation the government is simply according the attention which it gives to every man who dons the blue and who donates his life to Uncle Sam's service."

It is not considered surprising that the war department should take up the investigation of Private Ryan's death. Those familiar with the history of the crime will remember that he had walked away from the arsenal with some of his comrades and drank a glass of beer in a Lawrenceville saloon, preparatory to his returning to the barracks. After he died his vital organs were found in perfect condition and he was regarded by the physicians as a perfect specimen of manhood.

The police jumped at the conclusion that he was a victim of suicide. His friends in the arsenal refused to believe the story and the officers favored a further investigation. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that death had been caused by chloral poisoning, but was not able to determine whether or not it had been taken with suicidal intent.

Should the government detect officers men find the murderer the case will be taken to the United States court. The case, then, will be thoroughly sifted and the responsibility of the police will be placed where it properly belongs.

MR. ROOSEVELT IS AIDING CAMPAIGNS IN THE STATES

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Since the President's return to Washington from Oyster Bay he has given evidence of a deep interest in the outcome of political campaigns now in progress in various states. He seems to be particularly concerned over Massachusetts, Maryland Ohio and Virginia, and in as direct a way as possible is giving aid and encouragement to the party leaders there.

The President has been free to express his opinion as to the desirability of Republican success in every state which went Republican a year ago. He has encouraged members of his cabinet to make incursions into Massachusetts, Ohio and other states for the purpose of assisting the party in its campaigns. He readily assented to Secretary Shaw spending the entire month of October on the stump. He will go to Ohio and possibly to Maryland and Massachusetts. Secretary Bonaparte is directing the Republican campaign in Maryland while familiarizing himself with the details of the management of his department.

Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture will make speeches in at least one state (Ohio) this month, and quite likely will appear on the stump elsewhere. It is expected that Attorney General Moody will find time to go to Massachusetts to assist in the election of a Republican governor.

FORAKER PRESENTS HIS RATE VIEWS

He Disagrees With President Simply Over Methods to Get Same Result.

INVITES SHIPPERS TO WRITE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 5.—Senator Foraker consented to an interview today and in reply to A. J. Hooker, a Cincinnati shipper, in favor of rate revision, who several days ago severely criticized the senator's position, he explained his views.

"What about the report that there is a serious disagreement between yourself and President Roosevelt?"

"There is nothing serious about it. We don't agree, that's all. It is a difference in methods to attain the same result."

Speaking of a 55-cent rate from New England cotton mills and those of the south, he said:

"If the New England mills can get into Chicago on a 55-cent rate the southern mills must do the same or stay out. In other words, it is not an arbitrary dictatorial arrangement of the rates, but it is the law of competition and the natural operation of commercial forces that have fixed the rate to Chicago from both points. It is changing conditions that make rate making so complicated and difficult that only experts are equal to its requirements.

"I think a shipper who has a just complaint, instead of being compelled to go to the expense and trouble of a long and tedious trial before the interstate commerce commission, and afterward before the court, should be given a prompt and efficient remedy at the outset, as all other litigants are supposed to have, and I will be very greatly disappointed if the legislation congress enacts is not a great improvement on what is proposed."

In conclusion the senator states that so far as his personal interests are concerned they are far greater as a shipper than in any other way.

In giving out his reply to Mr. Hooker, Senator Foraker said he welcomed an opportunity to discuss the rate question fully and frankly with his constituents.

"I shall be glad to receive an open letter from the shippers inviting a discussion of this question," he said, "or I shall be glad to meet with them and debate and discuss the question at length. I have never taken a position on any question that I was not ready to assert and explain before my constituents."

BEARDLESS YOUTH IS A RAILROAD MAGNATE

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Count Judah Leon Teschinsky, Russian nobleman, railroad and steel magnate and president of the Michael Leon Teschinsky Company, contractors for the construction of 13,000 miles of railway in Southern Russia, arrived here today on the Hamburg-American liner Pennsylvania. He is a beardless boy of 17. Count Tesehinsky is called "Cornelius Vanderbilt of Russia." He says he is a friend of Vanderbilt.

The count will spend a month here looking over the various locomotive and car shops and will arrange for the building of the necessary equipment for the Russian railway and its delivery in Russia. The system which the count is building is to gridiron Southern Russia from Rostowdon to Baku and will consist of 13,346 miles of track in all, four times the distance from New York to San Francisco.

WIVES GALORE HAS BOT.

Five of Them Are Living and Two Earlier Ones Are Dead.

Andrew Bot, a Hungarian, confesses to being a much more married man than his latest wife imagined. She, who was Antonina Tranovanewski of No. 5 Cabot way, was married to Bot two years ago by Alderman Kirby. Recently she heard Bot had a wife living in Homestead, and, going before Alderman Edgar, charged him with bigamy.

Edgar's constable went to Homestead and found Bot the happy head of a second family there. He was arrested and proudly told the constable that two wives were not all he had, for two other women in Austria called him husband and one in Russia. He almost wept when telling of two who had made him a widower twice by dying.

McKeesport Republicans Meet.

Four hundred Republicans of McKeesport held a meeting yesterday evening to arrange for opening the campaign. R. E. Stone of McKeesport, candidate for register of wills, was present. The meeting was addressed by Mayor G. J. F. Falkenstein, William H. Coleman, Attorney E. P. Douglas, the Hon. James F. Woodward, Fred W. Edwards and Col. W. E. Thompson, ex-county controller. Mr. Thompson in his address asserted that the Citizens party had spent over $100,000 more in their first year in office than the Republican officers of the county had expended during any of the years that they were in power.

000,000 of securities which changed hands just before the books closed. Large amounts of stocks and bonds have been acquired in the open market during the last few months, and are reported to be in the hands of a group of speculators.

It is rumored now that there will also be a contest for the control of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company at the latter's coming meeting. Mr. Gould is supposed to have a majority interest in the company.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Oct. 5.—When shown the dispatch from New York regarding the removal of Joseph Ramsey, Jr., from the presidency of the Wabash railway at the special meeting of the directors in New York, F. W. Lehmann, an attorney representing Mr. Ramsey in the application recently filed for a writ of temporary injunction against the holding of a meeting in Toledo, October 10, said:

"This is certainly news to me. All I have to say at this time is that the action in New York today will not in any way effect our action here for an injunction. We will proceed just as had been decided upon."

LARKIN AND BIGELOW TALK ABOUT BOND ISSUE

Think It May Be Needed to Pay Damages Placed on City Through Recent Improvements.

A municipal bond issue of from $500,000 to $1,000,000 may shortly be proposed. Director Bigelow and Controller Larkin have talked the matter over, but have come to no definite conclusion. Both are said to believe that a bond issue to pay for damages on street improvements will be necessary, perhaps before the end of the year.

Damages will soon amount to about $500,000, exclusive of those assessed by the board of viewers on the city for the proposed Hamilton avenue improvement, amounting to $275,000. For example, the damages caused by the widening of a portion of Webster avenue aggregate $145,000; a sewer in the Thirty-second and Thirty-eighth wards add $50,000, and another sewer in the Twenty-second ward $50,000 more; 50 smaller improvements caused damages of about $1,000 each, and the damages still to be caused by the widening of Sixth avenue from Grant street to Fifth avenue will amount to at least $50,000 and may run up to $200,000.

The appropriation for the wages of viewers has dwindled down until there is now only $143 in the fund, not enough to pay viewers' outstanding fees. Director Bigelow is trying to think up some way of getting the money to pay the viewers, and it is not doubted that he will succeed, as he has a faculty of discovering somewhere some fund, usually in some other department than that of public works, that can be drawn upon.

LOCAL MAN MARRIES A NEW JERSEY GIRL

Miss Ethel McLean of Elizabeth Becomes the Bride of Robert Coleman Johnson of Pittsburgh.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 5.—A fashionable wedding took place at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas N. McLean on East Broad street. The bride was their oldest daughter, Miss Ethel McLean, while the groom was Robert Coleman Johnson of Pittsburgh, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. The maids of honor were Miss Bessie McLean, sister of the bride, and Miss Henrietta Atwater, daughter of Judge Atwater of Elizabeth.

The bridesmaids were Miss Stella Johnson of Pittsburgh, the bridegroom's sister; Miss Louise Carrington of East Orange; Miss Myra Southworth of Newton, Mass., and Miss Elizabeth Bush of Westfield, Mass. The best man was James Howard Johnson of Pittsburgh, brother of the bridegroom. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Henry Elliott Mott of Westminster Presbyterian church, Elizabeth. A reception followed the nuptials.

A dinner to the bride and her maids was given Wednesday at the Hotel Brayton, Madison avenue, New York, by Mrs. M. B. Tucker, an aunt of the bride. On this occasion souvenir gifts of gold and pearl pins were made by the bride-elect to each of her attendants. The pins were attached to pretty bows made from the tulle veil of the bride.

SULZBACH'S BAIL ISN'T VERY HIGH THIS TIME

Man Accused of Jumping Bond in St. Louis Not Treated Harshly—Promises to Be on Hand.

George E. Sulzbach, who was arrested on Wednesday on the charge of using the United States mail to defraud, was taken before United States Commissioner W. T. Lindsey yesterday. Sulzbach is supposed to be the same man who, under the name of G. Louis Stern, was indicted in 1903 by the federal grand jury in St. Louis, gave bail for $2,000 and was not present when his case was called, forfeiting his bail. This is the offense for which he has just been arrested.

Sulzbach retained the Hon. Josiah Cohen as counsel and when he was taken before Lindsey the bail was fixed at $5,000. A married woman, said to be a relative of Sulzbach, gave bond, but later it was decided that a married woman could not go bail legally and Sulzbach was detained in the United States marshal's office until other bail was forthcoming.

Oliver M. Young, who says he is merely a telegraph operator hired by Sulzbach, was arrested yesterday by Detective Cecil G. Rice. In Young's possession were found cards indicating that he had been in the brokerage business in Boston and Montreal. It was a "bucketshop" that Sulzbach was to open in the Fitzsimmons building today. He has promised to return to St. Louis when his case is again called.

PITTSBURGHER'S SUCCESS SPURS HIS RIVALS ON

British Company Formed to Take Over European Business of Wellman-Seaver-Morgan Co., Cleveland.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—In view of the success attending the efforts of Julian Kennedy, Sahlin & Co., Ltd., of London—of which Julian Kennedy, the world-famous Pittsburgh blast furnace expert is the head—in the securing of contracts for the reconstruction of British and continental European iron and steel plants on American methods, a company has been incorporated under the British joint stock acts, to acquire the British patents and the entire business in Europe and the British colonies of the Wellman-Seaver-Morgan Company of Cleveland.

S. E. Wellman, president of the Wellman-Seaver-Morgan company, will be the chairman of the British company. Benjamin W. Head, of the London firm of Jeremiah Head & Son, will be the managing director. Jeremiah Head & Son have hitherto acted as European representatives of the Cleveland concern.

The British company will take over the European rights to manufacture the Wellman patent electric charging machines, open hearth and reheating furnaces, tilting open hearth furnace and mixers, electric and steam coal and ore hauling plants, car dumpers and crane equipments for shipbuilding berths.

AN ATTRACTIVE BOOKLET.

One That Will Be Especially Appreciated by Non-Residents of Pittsburgh.

We have just received from the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings of this city a copy of their new "Banking by Mail booklet. It contains specific instructions for transacting banking business at long distance. The various methods of remitting are illustrated by reproductions of Money Orders, Checks and Drafts received from depositors residing not only in different sections of the United States, but in many foreign countries. It is a book that will be perused with much interest, especially by those residing in the country, where the local banks do not pay any interest or pay a lesser interest than Four per cent, the rate paid by the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings. A copy of the booklet will be mailed free by the bank if you will mention The Gazette.

MR. BONAPARTE IS INDEPENDENT

Secretary of the Navy Declares in Favor of Individual Partisanship.

BELIEVES IN THE KICKER

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ANNAPOLIS, MD., Oct. 5.—The annual convention of the Maryland Bankers' association began here today and was attended by a large number of bankers from the counties and from points outside the state. The address of welcome was delivered by Gov. Warfield.

The feature of the banquet tonight was an address by Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte on "The Necessity for Independent Political Action on the Part of the Men Governing the Finances of the Country." Secretary Bonaparte said in part:

I am speaking tonight for that class of citizens who call themselves independents, but are called a number of other things by those who do not agree with them, generally "kickers." The most indispensable condition of a satisfactory business situation is an honest and reasonably conservative financial system. Under a corrupt system every business man has reason to fear that his interests will suffer from experiments in finance.

The kicker is the only means by which any American party is kept in order. Unless the men who control the policies of parties know that if they insult the intelligence and sense of honesty of the masses of the people too much the kicker will rise up and cast them out of power, they will treat resolutions and denunciations merely as "big words which break no bones."

Now, in the kicker necessarily consists of a party. The best devotion to party is shown by the man who will refuse to follow it away from the beaten path of right. In the last campaign I was frequently asked if I were a Republican or an independent, and I had no hesitancy in answering that I was both.

ORGAN RECITAL SEASON OPENS IN ALLEGHENY

City Organist Koch Offers Excellent Program for Initial Concert in Carnegie Hall.

City Organist Caspar P. Koch of Allegheny, opened the free organ recital season last night with one of the best programs that has been offered in the Carnegie Music hall for a long time. Francis J. Torrance was patron of the affair, the soloists assisting Mr. Koch being engaged through his liberality.

As an opening number Mr. Koch played the overture from William Tell. Mr. Dan Beddoe sang several numbers, his final solo being "Onaway Awake, Beloved," from "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast."

Miss Nellie J. Bender rendered several violin solos. The concerts will be held every Thursday evening during the winter, and Mr. Koch promises programs of the highest musical standard.

PATRIOTIC WOMEN WILL RESTORE "CONSTITUTION"

BOSTON, Oct. 5.—The Daughters of 1812 and the Daughters of the Revolution propose to raise funds to restore the frigate Constitution, now moored at the Charleston navy yard. The suggestion that school children of Brooklyn, N. Y., collect money in order to take "Old Ironsides" to that port, and the report that the historic frigate was slowly rotting, has aroused local interest and steps will be taken to save the vessel so that she may again be utilized as a training ship.

BAND BUT NO BERRY

of the Democracy. It did not outpour. There were dozens of seats not occupied in the court house. When County Chairman B. H. Framton introduced Berry, he remarked he was sorry the audience was so small. The candidate could have told him he was used to it. His best meeting was the one of last night when the speakers' stand was erected within reach of the bar of the Union hotel.

Great Campaign, Says Berry.

Berry told his audience tonight he is doing his state a great service by being a candidate. He is sure this is the most important campaign in the history of the state. The Democratic candidates all say that. Berry is new at the game, and he may believe it. The lack of interest in his meetings show the people of the western end of the state do not have this impression. One would think Berry would attract crowds, for a man who is a Prohibitionist and a Democrat at the same time is necessarily a curiosity.

Berry is still worried about the interview of Senator Knox. The Democratic candidate says it makes him sick. While endeavoring to impress the audience tonight with the strength he has in Philadelphia, Berry told of the newspapers with him. In mentioning the Record, he said: "It is supposed to be Democratic." The Record has evidently not been printing his speeches.

Senator Dewalt tonight in a Democratic county eliminated from his speech all reference to the "magnificent achievements" of the Republican party. He did not even mention the names of Lincoln, Grant, McKinley and Roosevelt. He told the Democrats not to be disheartened. "We can win another victory," said he, and then he started to beg for Republican votes to do it with. From Dewalt's speech tonight, one would imagine Senator M. S. Quay is still in the flesh and the chief issue in this campaign. His attacks on the dead were not well received.

The Democrats expect to lose a part of their local ticket this fall. They have gotten to the place where the election of G. E. Arnold as treasurer, and W. E. Kaiser as register and recorder, is practically conceded. They are Republicans.

If Berry does not lose himself, he will speak at Reynoldsville tomorrow night.

LEA REUNION A SUCCESS.

Interesting Gathering of Descendants of Noted Man at Heidelberg.

Three hundred descendants of William Lea crowded McCabe's grove, Heidelberg, yesterday at the first annual reunion of the Lea family. Leas, Nixons, Richardsons and Duffs were there from every section of the Chartiers valley, many of them being some of the most prominent residents of the valley.

William H. Lea, postmaster of Carnegie, and Samuel Lea, superintendent of the county home at Woodville, were the oldest members of the family present, both belonging to the fourth generation. William H. Lea acted as toastmaster during the dinner and addresses were made by the Rev. I. A. Spodgrass of the First Baptist church of Carnegie; Rev. W. E. Allen, of the First Episcopal church of Carnegie; Rev. James M. Duff, of the First Presbyterian church of Carnegie. Hezekiah Duff of Pittsburgh, who is a great grandson of Jane Nixon Lea, the daughter of the original Maj. Lea, who was the first white child born west of the Allegheny mountains, read a brief history of the family.

During the whisky insurrection all the records of Maj. Lea were burned, at the same time Maj. Lea's residence and the old army chapel which stood where the St. Luke's church stands today, near Woodville, were destroyed. Maj. Lea had been appointed tax collector by Gen. Washington and his house was burned in retaliation by the insurrectionists.

PLAN TO KIDNAP MR. ROCKEFELLER

Pat Crowe Had a Scheme to Make $2,000,000 from the Abduction of the Oil King.

HIS PARTNER FAILS HIM

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BUTTE, MONT., Oct. 5.—Pat Crowe confessed today he and a partner, whom he refused to name, concocted a plot shortly after the Cudahy kidnaping case to kidnap John D. Rockefeller and hold him for a ransom of $2,000,000 to be demanded from John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Crowe says the scheme was hatched in Chicago and that he had gone to Cleveland to spy on the Rockefeller home and its environs for the purpose of laying out the details of the kidnaping. "If my partner had not cold feet," said Crowe, "we would have made two millions out of the deal. We went out to his place on Forest Hill, six miles east of Cleveland, and sized up the place. It was dead easy. The old man was there. It is a quiet country place. It was a snap, I tell you.

"Well, to get down to business, we planned to hold up the watchman, get in the house at night—we had a plan of the entire place we fixed it to hustle the old man into a rig and make the young fellow dig. You bet he would have come through so fast it would make your head swim.

"We fixed the thing for Wednesday night. About 6 o'clock my partner said he wasn't feeling well and he asked me to put it off until the next night. I put it off and, at noon the next day, Thursday, he broke down and got cold feet and said he thought we were going to give the whole snap away about the Cudahy affair, so I lit out for New York, from there to South Africa and that was all there was to it."

DECLINE TO RUN FOR MAYOR OF NEW YORK

Justice Aspinwall Will Not Be a Candidate and Woodruff Repeats His Declination.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—An important conference of Republican leaders was held tonight at the Republican club for the purpose of considering the municipal campaign. Former Lieut.-Gov. Timothy Woodruff was summoned from Syracuse and hurried to the conference which was also attended by State Chairman Odell and County Chairman Halpin.

Justice Aspinall of Brooklyn today finally declined to consider a mayoralty nomination by the Republicans.

Mr. Woodruff, it was said tonight, again declined to run at the head of the Republican ticket, saying his business affairs would not permit of it. State Chairman Odell at the close of the conference said the Republicans would issue a statement regarding the municipal campaign tomorrow.

PAULIN SCORES ALL DEMOCRATS WHO FUSE

The Unterrified Foe Allegheny Hear Oratory at City Committee Meeting.

The Democratic City Committee met last night in common council chamber for the purpose of organizing district committees and to make necessary arrangements for the coming campaign. City Chairman Henry Meyer presided and Secretary Robert Heck kept a record of the proceedings. There was only a quorum present at the meeting and the chair declared there no profit in the proceedings. Some committees worth attending from a political point of view.

Victor Paulin contributed the gaiety by a savage attack on the Citizens party and Director W. M. Bigler. He spoke all Democrats who favored fusion, declaring they were not true Democrats but subjects of bigelow. He scored the citizens for refusing to indorse Berry, the Democratic candidate for treasurer, and said if the citizens sincerely wished reform they would take up Berry and work for him.

Richard McCormick, the Ohio saloonkeeper, said he was opposed to Berry because the latter was allied with the Prohibitionists.

Thomas B. Alcorn, chairman of the Democratic county committee, urged the Democrats to support the ticket. He lauded all the Citizens candidates and extolled the virtues of Henry Meyer, candidate for register of wills. He abused Candidate Stone, the Republican nominee for the same office, and called Fred W. Edwards names because the latter is a friend of Mr. Stone.

Chairman Meyer appointed chairmen in all the wards except the Eighth and Fifteenth, the following being made ward chairmen:

First ward—Richard McCormick; Second, Fleming Jackson; Third, Robert Bess; Fourth, John Beasley; Fifth, Thomas Buckley; Sixth, George J. Moser; Seventh, Joseph Mangold; Eighth, to be appointed; Ninth, J. J. Flaherty; Tenth, Victor E. Paulin; Eleventh, James P. Wall; Twelfth, Robert McCarrey; Thirteenth, Frank Hoch; Fourteenth, John Wenger; Fifteenth, to be appointed.

Sore Throat Wisdom

If every mother could realize the real danger that lurks behind every case of sore throat, she'd wouldn't rest until she had effected a cure every time a child has it.

Your family physician will verify the statement that it is a positive fact that every child with sore throat is in immediate danger of contracting Croup, Quinsy, Tonsilitis or Diphtheria, and is not removed from that danger until the throat is cured. Think of it!

Liniments or outward application of medicines do not and cannot cure the ailment, though they may offer temporary relief. Neither can you cure sore throat with a cough syrup or a cold cure.

To cure, you must get at the seat of the disease, removing the cause. Nothing does that so quickly, safely and surely as TONSILINE. A single dose of TONSILINE taken upon the first appearance of sore throat may save long weeks of sickness, great expense, worry, even, death. TONSILINE is the stitch in time.

Use a little sore throat wisdom and buy a bottle of TONSILINE today. You may need it tomorrow.

TONSILINE is the standard sore throat remedy—best known and most effective and most sold. Look for the long necked fellow on the 25 or 50 cent sized bottle when you go to the drug store to get it.

PRESIDENT M'CURDY'S SON WAXES FAT OFF THE MUTUAL

had talked with Mr. McCall on this subject and Mr. McCall had promised to contribute to it, but no money was paid to Mr. Thummel.

Fees for Legislative Work.

He further described the division of territory in the country under which the three companies looked after legislation affecting insurance interests and said the Mutual Life had paid out in 1904 about $15,000 for legislative work.

It was at this point Robert H. McCurdy was called. He had a number of documents in his hand as he mounted the platform, and when he had been sworn he testified he was the general manager of the Mutual Life Insurance Company. His powers, he said, were delegated to him by the president and vice presidents of the company. His duties were principally confined to the supervision of the agency system of the company in this country and abroad. Like Mr. Perkins of the New York Life Insurance Company, he appeared to be the one factor that built up the foreign business of his company. His salary was $30,000.

Mr. McCurdy had a typewritten statement of his career, which he asked permission to read. This detailed his various compensations, contracts and commissions. There were a number of reductions in the commissions, which, he said, were made at his own request, owing to the unforeseen success of the foreign business. This foreign business was inaugurated because of the success attained by the New York Life Insurance Company and the Equitable Life Assurance society.

Made Fat Commissions.

Mr. McCurdy started this foreign business in 1885, and assumed the office of general manager in 1903 at a salary of $20,000.

The most startling part of Mr. McCurdy's testimony was made just before the recess, when he submitted a statement of his profits, or the revenue from his contracts, on the foreign business of the company. From 1886 to 1902, while he was a member of the firm of C. H. Raymond & Co., the metropolitan agents of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, his profits were $208,123. Under his contract with the firm he paid one-half, or $104,561, to Mr. Raymond, and from 1893, when he left the firm, down to August 31, 1905, his commissions were $1,669,267, making a total personal revenue from the foreign business from 1886 to 1905 of $1,183,829.

During the period of his connection with the firm of C. H. Raymond & Co., Mr. McCurdy, according to his own testimony, was receiving his share of the profits in the business of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, as written by his firm as the metropolitan agents. This sum Mr. McCurdy was unable to give any estimate upon. Later in the day, when Mr. Raymond was called, it was brought out that these profits to Mr. McCurdy amounted to $541,852 net, or after his share of the expenses of the firm's profit had been deducted. This made a total of $1,725,681 that Mr. McCurdy received in commissions.

Son-in-Law Prospers Also.

In 1852, when Mr. McCurdy retired from the firm of C. H. Raymond & Co., he was succeeded by Louis A. Thebaud, a son-in-law of President Richard A. McCurdy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company. He was practically under the same contract as Robert McCurdy, and from 1853 down to 1904 he received in commissions on first premiums and renewals, $820,113. All these amounts were in addition to salaries paid Mr. McCurdy and Mr. Thebaud.

Charles H. Raymond, who was called to the stand to supply the figures of profits Mr. McCurdy was unable to produce, occupied the stand for the remainder of the session. He was examined as to the scope and territory of his business, and the amount of commissions he received from the Mutual Life Insurance Company, as well as the amount his firm paid sub-agents, was closely inquired into. Mr. Raymond's examination was not finished when the committee adjourned for the day.

Edward J. Devlin, the real estate manager for the New York Life Insurance Company, was the first witness today, having been called to conclude his testimony interrupted by the adjournment. Mr. Devlin presented statements as to the real estate holdings of his company in several western cities. They showed but from one to about three per cent was realized last year on the company's investments in buildings, but he added that it was expected that four per cent would be realized this year.

Mr. Devlin testified that an apartment house at Park avenue and Sixty-second street cost the New York Life Insurance company 1,009,866 and is carried on the company's books at $850,000. The loss, he said, was due to the administration preceding Mr. McCall's.

The office building in Kansas City cost $1,901,731. It is carried on the books at $1,200,000, and its net income is $39,002, or 3.03 per cent return on the investment.

The Omaha building cost $1,246,641 and is carried on the books at $950,000, and pays a return of a little under 3 per cent. The net income is $34,806.

The building at Minneapolis cost 1,029,752 and pays a return of 2½ per cent. The net income is $25,906.

In St. Paul the building cost $922,440 and has a net income of $8,122, or a little less than 1 per cent.

The Montreal building cost $818,329, is carried at $350,000 and has a net income of $2,212, or about 1¼ per cent on the actual cost.

Mr. Thummel, in the course of his testimony, said that in keeping track of legislative measures affecting insurance he became acquainted with as many members of legislative committees as possible, and presented such arguments as he could. He told of his inability to defeat a general revenue bill in Nebraska, and when Mr. Hughes asked if his argument was not persuasive enough, said he was not impressed enough to win out against the railroads, who had a combination against the life insurance.

"You were dealing with intelligent men were you not?" asked Mr. Hughes.

"I was dealing with legislators," witness replied.

Concerning the division of legal expenses among the New York Life, the Mutual Life and the Equitable Life, Mr. Thummel said:

"The Mutual Life has Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama, Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan, Minnesota, Washington, Oregon, New Mexico. The Equitable attends to Maryland, South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, Colorado, Arkansas, California, Nevada. New York Life had Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Tennessee and Oklahoma. The rest of the territory is open."

Mr. Raymond, in his testimony, said agents were paid larger commissions for writing deferred dividend business, and tried to discourage the annual dividend business by paying smaller commissions. For the past 10 years about 100 per cent of the business written has been annual dividend business.

Jerome Will Wait.

To Justice Davy in the criminal branch of the supreme court today, District Attorney Jerome announced his intention of foregoing for the present his plans to prosecute the officers of the Equitable or other insurance corporations. In announcing the postponement of his application for the convening of an extraordinary grand jury, Mr. Jerome said:

It would be a very simple thing for the district attorney of this county to select certain individual transactions and place them before the grand jury now in session, and it would undoubtedly meet with general commendation if he should do so. There is in this community, and I presume throughout the state, a state of outrage at what has been done. There is a burning and eager desire that somebody should be hurt for the things which have been done which the most desperate man must say have been wicked and wicked to a very great degree.

But to take up this examination at such a time as this would be to work not upon the best conditions. Here is the second week in session which each day is finding more and more facts that bear on the whole situation; which, each day, underline the skillful handling of witnesses by its astute counsel, is bringing forth matters that may very properly be the subject of inquiry by an extraordinary grand jury.

The researches of the committee have developed such moral obliquities on the part of the persons who had before occupied positions of high respect in the eyes of their citizens, that it would be a simple proposition were we at this time to select certain individuals and submit certain evidence now in the hands of the district attorney to the grand jury. But, in view of the recent developments before the committee such action would not be complete, it seems to me, therefore, we deem it wise to take no steps until the termination of the legislative investigation. Then the district attorney will be in a position to place before the grand jury an array of evidence of a clean and comprehensive nature.

In response to a letter of inquiry from a member of the Royal Arcanum, Senator Armstrong, chairman of the legislative insurance investigating committee, wrote today that "we intend to devote some time to fraternal insurance before we finish our labors."

In lieu of an appearance in person, James Hazen Hyde, through his counsel, offered today to the legislative insurance committee his testimony given before Superintendent Francis P. Hendricks.

In a letter sent to Samuel Untermyer, Charles E. Hughes of the legislative committee's examining counsel, declared he was "instructed to say" by the committee that "no discrimination will be made in favor of Mr. Hyde with reference either to the scope or method of his examination."

Judging from Mr. Hughes' letter, it seems improbable that Mr. Hyde's new offer will be accepted. Whether the committee will resort to the extreme measure of attempting to have Mr. Hyde indicted and extradicted remains to be seen.

The Up-to-Date Men's Hat Store

This house is always on the alert to get the right things for men's wear—
And it gets them—
The newest ideas from every leading designer are always here—
Many of them are exclusive—not to be found in the ordinary hat shop—that's an advantage you have as a patron of this store—
Soft hats are very popular this season—
The Belray is the newest—and one of the most popular—it's entirely new—low crown, medium brim—looks right on most any one — comes in Pearl Gray and Nutria shades—
The Black Derby is still the popular, dressy business hat—
The tendency is for smaller dimensions—5½ crown by 1½ brim is very good—5¼x1¼ is probably the most popular—and the small 5x1⅛ is favored by those who like the neat, nobby shapes—
Will you want a silk hat this year?
Knox is ahead of everybody on the silk hat question—
The Knox young man's hat is the smartest piece of headwear ever turned out—
Come in and get acquainted—a look over the styles—the advantage won't be all ours—
The prices—$3 and $4 for our Stiff and Soft hats—$5 for the Knox—our $3 hand-made hat has no equal at the price—
Silk Hats $6—Knox's $8.
Silk Opera Hats $8—Knox's $10

FINE DRIVEWAY NOW PROCURED

Bigelow Explains Why Proposed Relocation of Boundary Street is Good Thing.

LAKE PROJECT ABANDONED

Director Bigelow is much pleased with the plan of relocating the unopened part of Boundary street, and trading it for the Junction railroad's right-of-way. The director thinks the new street, besides setting off the northern edge of Schenley park, will supply a beautiful drive, making the park accessible from Second avenue and eventually resulting in the improvement of Forward avenue from its terminal near Second avenue to where it crosses Murray avenue.

The director was asked if the new ordinances necessary to make the arrangement legal will relieve the Junction railroad of the obligation to use hard coal to avoid smoke, and to permit other railroads to use the tracks. "Not at all," said the director, "the new ordinance will merely relocate Boundary street, putting it where the railroad tracks now are, giving the railroad the present unopened street, but not relieving the railroad of anything for which it is liable under the present ordinance. The railroad right-of-way is 66 feet wide, exclusive of the slope on each side. That will make a handsome street. The lower end of the street will terminate near the lower end of Forward avenue, so that eventually there may be a fine new driveway all the way on Forward avenue, around on Boundary street, to a point in Schenley park near the technical schools. In fact, the new Boundary street may be so graded as to run into the street on which the technical schools are located. The ordinance will be introduced at the meeting of councils on Monday.

"The long ditch dug on the site of the present Boundary street will not cost the city anything, for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad company will pay the contractors, the T. A. Gillespie Company, the cost of the excavation and of filling it up. The water main will be put under the railroad present right-of-way, which is to become Boundary street."

It is realized that the Junction railroad may be of importance some day to the Wabash railroad, as furnishing a route to get through the city. Some persons feared that the new ordinances might be so drawn as to make the Junction railroad the exclusive possession of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and relieve it of its contract to use hard coal. It is true that the railroad never has used anything but soft coal, and the local courts refused to enjoin the use of that fuel, but the decision was appealed to a higher court and the case is still pending. Bigelow's declaration that there is no intention to abolish these restrictions will relieve the fears of a good many people.

While Director Bigelow thinks the new arrangement will be a great improvement over present conditions his gratification is tinged with a slightly sentimental regret. He always hoped it would some day be possible to construct an artificial lake in Junction hollow, covering Boundary street, but that idea is now abandoned, as the railroad will occupy the bed of the proposed lake.

HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY.

Three Additional Members for Both the Academical and Commercial Departments.

The High school committee of the Central board of education met last night and elected three additional members of the academical department faculty and the same number of the commercial department faculty. Those elected for the academical department are: Professor, Ernest D. Lewis of Boston, graduate of Leland Stanford and of Harvard university, six years high school experience; assistant professor, Arthur C. Baird of McKeesport, graduate of Wooster college and the University of Chicago, with five years high school experience; teacher, Orton Lowe of Homestead, with five years high school experience.

The selections for the commercial department were: Professor, George P. Eckels of Pocono Pines, Pa., a graduate of Carlisle Commercial college, with five years experience; assistant professor, William H. Shrawder of Pittsburgh, with 11 years experience; George B. Snyder of Pittsburgh, a graduate of Pennsylvania State college, with four years experience.

The six were elected from over 30 applicants.

The contract for coal for the Fifth avenue building was awarded to the Dilworth Coal Company at $5.89 per 100 bushels, and for the South building to the same firm at $5.84, the coal to be run over a two-inch screen.

HERRICK AND DICK SPEAK.

Opening of the Republican Campaign at Findlay—Message from the President.

FINDLAY, O., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The opening of the Republican campaign in Hancock county was held tonight with speeches by Gov. Herrick and Senator Dick. Senator Dick traveled from Washington to make the speech tonight, and said he had an interview with the chief executive, who stated that the Republican success in Ohio this year was of as much moment to him as the Ohio election last fall.

Gov. Herrick spoke for an hour and a half on the state questions and defended himself in his action in the matter of the Bannock bill, and the race horse veto. Neither speaker touched national questions as was expected, but confined themselves to the defense of the party policy in Ohio.

RE-ELECT DIRECTORS OF ALLEGHENY SEMINARY

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 5.—At the annual meeting of the Ohio and Michigan synod of the United Presbyterian church today, the Rev. Theodore Littell, of Marlin, Mich.; the Rev. J. C. Taggart, of East Liverpool, O., and J. W. Adams, of Millersburg, O., were re-elected directors of Allegheny Theological seminary, and the Rev. W. H. Hubbel was also elected a director.

Kidnaped Boy is Found.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Tony Marendino, the small Italian boy who was kidnaped from his Brooklyn home two weeks ago and has been held captive while demands for a $5,000 ransom were made upon his parents, was found tonight. The boy was brought to the East Sixty-seventh street police station by a street car inspector. He had been left on a surface car by a man he did not know. The boy could give no information about himself.

Will Watch the Fishermen.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 5.—Acting on authority given him by Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw, Charles F. Leach, collector of customs for Cleveland, sailed from Detroit today on the Morrill for a cruise over the lake fishing grounds in search of boats carrying fish caught in Canadian water. He will take into custody all fishermen and cargoes found to be in violation of the United States customs laws.

Today's Splendid Offers Which Have Already Been Advertised.

The underpriced (very much so) articles were given in detail yesterday afternoon, but the news is so good, the features are so attractive that an epitome is given again this morning. It has been some time since we had such a fine collection of underpriced requisites of dress for men and women.

Silk Petticoats, One-Third Less—

This is a sample line from one of the most noted makers of silk petticoats in the country. All colors and their shades, including black and a combination of black and white.

The silks used are very fine. There are different grades, as the prices of the petticoats would indicate. Things used as samples are always gotten up a little better than those they represent, and this sample lot of silk petticoats, although only one of a kind, shows effective workmanship. As there is but one of a kind it necessarily follows that there are a great many kinds.

$3.75 for $5.75 Petticoats.	$ 7.00 for $10.50 Petticoats.
$4.00 for $6.00 Petticoats.	$ 8.00 for $12.00 Petticoats.
$4.50 for $6.75 Petticoats.	$ 9.00 for $13.50 Petticoats.
$5.00 for $7.50 Petticoats.	$10.00 for $15.00 Petticoats.
$6.00 for $9.00 Petticoats.	$10.50 for $15.75 Petticoats.
$6.50 for $9.75 Petticoats.	$11.00 for $16.50 Petticoats.

And others at higher prices, though representing the same discount.

Jouvin & Co.'s $1.75 Kid Gloves, $1.35—

This sale started yesterday, and many women bought these Jouvin & Co. gloves in half dozen lots. They had their eye on the holidays. No one ever heard of Jouvin & Co.'s gloves selling for $1.35 before. They are three-clasp suede gloves, all colors, including black and white. All sizes.

Another lot of our regular $1.00 gloves will be on sale today for 68c a pair. They have a glace finish, various delicate and pretty colors, such as should accompany an elegant toilet. Also quite a collection of black and white. All sizes.

Ostrich Plumes—Reduced Prices—

Four different lengths, 12, 16, 18, 20 inches. Such colors as plum, navy, brown, gunmetal, pink, cell, pearl, lavender, peacock and black and white. These were on sale yesterday, and the way women bought them set every person in the department on the jump.

13-inch Plumes, fine wide heads, various colors as above, value $3.50, our special price $2.25.

16-inch Plumes, showy, wide full head, various colors, value $4.50, our special price $3.00.

18-inch Plumes, a fine plume for the regular price of $6.50, our special price $3.75.

20-inch Plumes, extra wide, very showy and very handsome, value $7.00, our special price $5.00.

Trimmed Hats, $5.00—

That's a very matter-of-fact way of stating this price for the most values in trimmed hats for women ever offered by our Millinery department. Choice is from Sailors, Turbans, Walking Hats, Street Hats and Suit Hats, and there is not one in the whole exhibit but what is worth several dollars more than our exceptionally low price of $5.00.

These $5.00 hats will serve to introduce you to a collection of millinery that is replete with every new and up-to-the-moment style.

Men's $1.00 Neckwear, 55c—

Within a nickel of half price, and if ever there was neckwear exhibited worth $1.00, every piece in this collection is worth that sum.

We got this neckwear from a manufacturer who was anxious to prove he could give us finer neckwear to sell for nearly half price than any other maker.

Styles are French Four-in-Hands, 2¾ inches, all silk, inside and out. All the popular colors for Autumn. In this collection there will also be found pretty Folded Squares. Both Four-in-Hands and Squares today, 55c.

Men's Undergarments at 90c—

For the price of 90c today men can select underwear that sells regularly for $1.25 and up to $1.75 a garment. The sizes of the garments have something to do with the regular prices, but in this sale all sizes look alike to the figures, 90c.

It is a medium weight cotton underwear made for those who cannot wear wool. It will not shrink. Here is some further detail—

Shirts range in size from 34 to 50 inches. The material is an extra quality of Derby Ribbed Balbriggan in natural gray; French neck, facing of satine down front, four pearl buttons.

Drawers range in size from 30 to 48 inches, have reinforced gussets, suspender tapes, four fine pearl buttons.

Men's $3.00 Hats, $1.85—

That's great news for Friday or any other day. There's not a hat sold in this town for $3.00 that is better. We get these hats from a New York maker who sells to no other firm outside of New York—his entire time and those of his numerous employes is taken up in supplying a number of the more prominent retail hat stores in New York with their entire line of hats.

There are 2,000 Black Derbies in about twenty-five different blocks, all widths of brims with different sets and curls.

There are 2,500 Soft Hats in most every color known. The shapes are all good and up-to-date. All sizes.

We might say right here that our guarantee goes with each one of these $3.00 hats for $1.85.

A Sale of New Nottingham Curtains

Prices Much Below Usual Quotations.

This is Nottingham day in the Lace Curtain Department, and we are going to show housewives and housekeepers and hotel keepers how they can save quite a sum by investing in curtains, either for present use or for future use.

A manufacturer of Nottinghams over in New York had a lot left on his hands after he had filled his Autumn orders, so he said to us, "So much for the lot," and we said to him, "Ship them at once."

Some 85 different styles, mostly pure white, with white border effects, which women will recognize as assimilations of the very fine French Lace Curtains.

95c Nottinghams for 65c a pair.	$2.50 Nottinghams for $1.85 a pair.
$1.00 Nottinghams for 75c a pair.	$3.00 Nottinghams for $2.25 a pair.
$1.25 Nottinghams for 85c a pair.	$3.25 Nottinghams for $2.50 a pair.
$1.35 Nottinghams for $1.00 a pair.	$3.75 Nottinghams for $2.75 a pair.
$1.75 Nottinghams for $1.25 a pair.	$4.00 Nottinghams for $3.00 a pair.

Women's Fall Style $15 Black Cheviot Coats for $10.

Odd and even sizes. You may think this expression odd, but here's the explanation. These coats were made for hard-to-fit women as well as for those who can put on a coat and walk out of the store with it, without any alteration.

By odd sizes we mean coats that are short-waisted in the back, extra full over the hips. So come prepared to get a coat more nearly a perfect fit than you ever bought ready-to-wear before.

These coats are made of Lymansville cheviot, which has a reputation for fine wear. The color is black, and there are two different styles.

Strapped seams, flat collar, lined throughout with good taffeta.

Sizes 31, 32, 33 and from that to 43.

Newly in the department is a lot of 54-inch Broadcloth and Covert Coats ranging in price from $16.50 to $65.00—so you may expect an abundant assortment, and you will not be disappointed.

Notes on Needlework.

In the Art Needlework Department, third floor, West, plenty of novelties, both in fancy articles and in embroidery, that will interest anyone who is capable of being interested in needlework.

Pillow Ruffling, large line of colors and beautiful combinations, finished with draw strings. These are washable. 4½ yards in each piece at 65c for the piece, worth $1.25.

Fancy Pin Cushions, made of felt, in such shapes as sunflowers and poppies, painted and decorated with ribbon. 40c each.

Table Covers, of ecru linen, tinted in rose, daisy, poppy and holly designs, 27 inches in diameter, 20c each, real value 50c.

Lace Waists, Over Silk Foundation, $5

An all-over waist of lace is generally considered somewhat sumptuous, and when it has a silk foundation it rates as an expensive garment. Any woman who attempts to make such a waist or have it made by her dressmaker would find the cost run to considerably more than $5.00. Yet we offer you the finished article today for that price.

Our $5.00 line of waists includes plain tailor-made styles and a good assortment for evening wear.

Other styles of crepe de chine, radium, messaline, wool batiste, albatross, wool de laine, Persian lawn, hand-embroidered linens and fancy laces at $1.00 to $75.00.

Today 200 Silk Waists at $2.50 Each.

Worth $3.50, $4.50, $5.00 and $6.00.

Every waist in the lot is this autumn's style in such popular colors as green, brown, blue, white, etc.

At this time of the year two hundred waists of a quality like these at a price like the above will not last long.

Fall Fashions in Women's Footwear.

Women who would learn the latest fashions in footwear are invited to inspect our new lines. We are just a little proud of the showing, and after seeing same you will concede our right to be so.

Below we give three lines of women's Boots that should have more than ordinary interest for you—inasmuch as there is a saving of $1.00 possible on each pair. These shoes are just in the house, and not only are they good styles, but they are good wearing shoes:

Women's $5.00 Patent Leather Boots, smart and dressy, special at $4.00.

Women's $5.00 Kidskin Shoes, built on commonsense lines, splendid street boots, $4.00.

Women's $5.00 Kidskin Boots, rather a dashing shoe—neat Cuban heels, $4.00.

Women's Boots at $5.00 a pair that are full $6.00 values. Women's bench-made Patent Leather Button Shoes at $6.00 a pair that have all the earmarks of $7.00 and $8.00 boots.

Hand-Made Beaded Bags and Purses.

We invite your inspection of our new line of Beaded Bags, brought direct from the peasant homes of Germany, of tiniest powder grain beads with the lustre of diamonds, wrought in the prettiest and most dainty designs.

Calling and Evening Bags, $10.00 and $15.00.

Visiting Card Cases, $8.00 each.

Coin Purses, $2.50 and $4.00.

SPECIAL—A little lot of delicately colored Beaded Purses, that are really remarkable value—50c and $1.00 each.

NOTE—After present supply is exhausted no more can be purchased this year. This is intended for the notice of those who buy for Christmas when the time is most opportune.

VANITY BAGS—A lot of imported Vanity Bags in pastel colors, four different kinds, lilac, old rose, turquoise and reseda, at $1.50 each. Ordinarily these bags would sell for $3.00 each, and you would call them cheap at that figure.

Friday, October 6, 1905.

A new use for steel is found in the manufacture of radiators and it is gratifying that Pittsburgh is to be the place of manufacture. The process for uniting the sheets is naturally the discovery of a Pittsburgh inventor. This district is destined surely to become the center for the manufacture of the finer steel products as it has long been for the production of its heavier forms.

Director Bigelow and Controller Larkin are again discussing a bond issue of $500,000 to pay for street and sewer improvements not included in the ordinary appropriations. The issue of bonds will temporarily avoid large increase in the millage, but will add to the interest and sinking fund charge. It is not economy and does not tend toward Larkin's promised 10 mill rate. In fact nothing connected with the present administration tends in that direction.

Removal of Joseph Ramsey as president of the Wabash pending the annual meeting next Tuesday, is an indication that Mr. Ramsey has been "making it interesting" for the Wabash management. This fight is remarkable in more than one aspect and the final outcome will be awaited with interest by the public. There is naturally considerable sympathy for Mr. Ramsey in Pittsburgh, wholly apart from the merits of the controversy, for he is a Pittsburgh product.

So many railway accidents have resulted from nonobservance of warning signals that a western road has placed expert oculists on the engines of its fast trains, preparatory to a revision of the system for examining trainmen for defects in sight. A change in the present manner of displaying lights and semaphore arms is contemplated. An unusual number of accidents have occurred lately, and the railroads seem to have awakened to their responsibility to make traveling less dangerous.

The attorneys for the Chicago beef packers are evidently preparing an elaborate defense. Another plea for more time was made yesterday and granted. The legality of the grand jury which found the original indictments having been sustained, a demurrer is now being prepared. It will be argued, and then, in a week or two, we shall have a decision on this point. Then, if the indictment is sustained, the trial will begin, unless some other device for blocking the wheels of justice can be invented in the meantime.

Obviously the Ryan case has not been disposed of to the satisfaction of the United States authorities. The visit here of Maj. J. B. Porter, judge advocate, is proof of the fact. He will endeavor to unravel the mystery, a process far more difficult now than if it had been intelligently undertaken by the police bureau at the time of Private Ryan's death. The police administration preferred an arbitrary theory of suicide as one calculated to cause the least trouble, but which has caused the army authorities the maximum of trouble.

Squire Braun's seizure of the Citizens party rights in Allegheny is amusing, but not important. The administration in that city which obtained possession of the title originally by a similar trick has brought it to such utter discredit it is worthless. The vice that has flourished in Allegheny under Citizens control and the scandals that have been rife make it a name not to conjure with. It would be difficult to elect a dog catcher on a Citizens ticket in Allegheny and the city hall crowd will probably be glad to part with it.

The temporary closing of Moscow university by its rector, owing to alleged pernicious activity of outside agitators who endeavored to inflame the minds of the student body, is evidence that the recent grant of autonomy to the universities is not accomplishing all that was intended. A general suspension of work at the universities is feared. The hot-headed, enthusiastic students have ever been the prey of the agitators, for they are naturally best equipped to organize threatening demonstrations. The enthusiasm of the students is not always directed toward the wisest ends.

Real Issues.

All is not harmonious in the fusion camp and there are even suggestions of trouble at the approaching meeting. These are small considerations, however, by comparison with the real issues. The quarrels of bosses and speakers and candidates may arouse momentary curiosity, but the interest of the people lies deeper. They are concerned with the government they are to have—with the transaction of their public business. The orators on Saturday night may spout flame, but they cannot conceal the fact that Democratic-Citizens government has been vastly worse than anything ever charged against the "old ring." Not half of what was charged against that organization was true, but the Democratic-Citizens control has been worse in fact than those charges.

Worse than all, this carnival of corruption and incompetence began under the false pretense of reform. The Democratic-Citizens control was obtained by solemn promises that all of the evils of the "old ring" were to be cured; it has been conducted on the basis of outdoing those evils, every one. First of all there was the promises of economy and reduced taxation. There has been an increase of one-third in the cost of city administration, accompanied by a decrease in efficiency in every bureau. Next was the promises of compensation for franchises. No such compensation has been exacted. Corporations which have offered compensation have been compelled to submit to having the compensation clauses removed from their ordinances by the very traitors who were loudest in their promises to the contrary. Franchises have been granted to leaders of the unholy alliance, gratis, and immediately disposed of to the traction monopoly for cash. These things are known to every intelligent citizen and the duplicity is condemned by every man who has any sense of honor.

In the conduct of county affairs the record is almost as bad. Register George H. Stengel has actually conducted the business of his office in the public interest. His efforts have been conspicuously rewarded by omitting his name from the ticket prepared by select committees for this year. Commissioner Evans, who showed a right disposition, has also been dropped. The county officials who have been renominated by the select committees have run their offices for partisan, factional and personal advantage. In the offices of the recorder, the county treasurer and the clerk of courts there has been politics, there has been favoritism, there has been self-seeking, there has been a continuous effort to promote the interests of the most ravenous and unscrupulous machine that ever controlled any offices in Allegheny county. The incumbents of these offices have not a single claim on the people for re-election. They have made of their offices private and party "snaps," as far as lay in their power.

There has been no "better government" from those offices. It is the same kind of "government" we had 10 years ago, 20 years ago, 30 years ago, less efficiently administered and with a sharper lookout for selfish and partisan advantages. It was not for that kind of administration those officials were elected, but it is for that they have been renominated, while better officials have found no place on the ticket. There is no reason for their re-election.

Interesting Revelations.

A witness at the insurance investigation in New York, yesterday, confessed to the use of money to defeat "strike" bills in Iowa. He said he was employed for that purpose. In Pennsylvania those bills would have been called "pinchers." They are not unknown in this state, but are obviously as well known in other states. President McCall declared the day before that life is made miserable for insurance executives six months of every year by the measures introduced in legislatures.

To many people these statements will come as revelations. They have not known how the corporations of the country have been "held up" year after year, to kill proposed legislation that, if enacted, would seriously hamper their business. They may have heard how the corporations have gone ravening forth to buy up legislatures to obtain special privileges for themselves, but less is said, usually, about the "hold up," "pinch," or "strike" bills. One of the reasons for this is that these most pernicious measures are frequently introduced under "reform" auspices.

There are newspapers in this state which make a business of defaming the fair name of Pennsylvania, which have caused the impression to go broadcast over the country that Pennsylvania is peculiarly corrupt, and these same newspapers have been active in the promotion of "pinch" bills. But when all of the facts are known, if they ever are, it will be found that Pennsylvania has been freer from bribery, corruption and chicanery than many of its sister states. It will be found less tainted by graft than some of the commonwealths that have been throwing stones and such taint as it has will be traced up to the loudest mouthed advocates of "reform" outside the party.

Lynching's Inspiration.

Discussing the subject of lynching, Cardinal Gibbons, in a current magazine article, lays special stress on the delay in bringing criminals to justice which is characteristic of American legal machinery. Racial prejudice, especially in the south, is responsible for a large proportion of the illegal executions which disgrace our country, but, in Cardinal Gibbons' opinion, this prejudice would be mitigated in some measure were criminals promptly punished by the law of the land. Between the years 1885-1903 there were 2,875 lynchings in this country. There are but five states in the union where a lynching has not taken place. They are Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island and Utah.

There can be no doubt of the difficulty of securing conviction of a known murderer often met with in this country. The attorney's art of piling up technicalities on questions of law, entirely apart from the facts in the case, and which remove it from the consideration of the jury to that of the judge, has been developed to a high state of effectiveness. Too often the question is not, is this man guilty of the crime with which he is charged? but, is there not some trifling flaw in the indictment, some legal loophole through which he may escape the gallows, entirely separate from the testimony adduced? Then, even when conviction is secured, numerous obstacles to execution are imposed. There are stays pending long drawn-out appeals, and, finally, the application for executive clemency. As Cardinal Gibbons point out, there is an elaborate protective system thrown about the transgressor which has done much to deprive juries of their effectiveness. Whether a direct cause of lynchings or not, these dilatory tactics of the law are made the excuse by the lynchers for their wrongdoing, and call for radical reform.

Beginning to Take Notice.

Director Moore of the public safety department has, apparently, taken notice of the inefficient administration of the police bureau. It was reported yesterday he had called the superintendent and inspectors in conference with a view to securing better service. Obviously there is ample room for improvement, but it is quite another matter whether Director Moore will be able to get it with the material on hand. The conditions in the vicinity of the court house, complained of by Warden Lewis have been remedied by the county detectives. That is the apparent cause of the present agitation.

While police protection is of most vital importance, the shortcomings of that branch of the service are no greater than in other bureaus and departments. The whole public service in the city is below par. The city is unusually dirty, it is in a torn-up condition to a greater extent than is necessary. There is no class of work dealt with as effectively as in former years—and apologies were often needed then—except the line of work which the public does not demand, namely, political solicitation. The payroll is kept uncommonly busy in that matter. When there is no election for officers pending, the men are given exercise drumming up support for unpopular measures.

Mock Marriages.

We are sorry to observe a revival of the social entertainment which flourished some 10 years ago, and was known as the "mock marriage." Sorry an institution which means so much to the nation should be travestied in this manner, and sorry there are apparently a large number of persons, who have hitherto given every evidence of sanity, who delight in such an entertainment. When the "mock marriage" takes place under the auspices of a church society and for the benefit of charity, it is especially objectionable. It is a truism that marriage is the most solemn of ceremonies (a fact which the shaking bridegroom will no doubt corroborate) and a funeral or church service might be burlesqued with almost equal propriety.

While the participators in the "mock marriage" are generally thoughtless, merely, and without serious intention of casting ridicule upon the sacred institution, they are aiding indirectly the cause of those carping critics, of whom George Bernard Shaw is a conspicuous example, who profess to believe the world has outgrown marriage, but are unable to suggest a satisfactory substitute. Many assaults have been made upon marriage as an institution but, somehow or other, it seems to find favor still with the vast majority of persons. Men and women do not wed at as early an age as in the "good old days," but manufacturers of wedding certificates report a cheery outlook for the fall trade and the license clerks at the court house are having their hands full, the same as usual. Let us have as many real marriages as possible, and no more of these mock marriages.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS ON WAYS OF WORLD

How to Be Beautiful, and to Live Long and Prosper.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

I would rather have a hearty alimentary
Than be garnished all over with passementerie.
—Bill Nye.

Of course you want to be beautiful, if you are a woman, and at least handsome if you are a man.

And if you are the right sort of a man you want women to be beautiful, or at least one; while if you are a woman you want all men to be handsome, healthy and strong, and one out of the lot to out-point the others.

This state of affairs is exactly what was contemplated in the original plan, but by reason of neglect, abuse and ill use the human form divine is little more than a suggestion of what it was intended to be, or what it may be.

Some imagine that our bodies can never be restored to their original proportions, but they are wrong in this, for creative force exists now the same as when Adam was formed. Without this force broken limbs and torn flesh would not heal.

By proper care on our part the creative force will restore the race according to the original plan, which included health and happiness.

One of the principal reasons, if not the reason in chief, why women are less beautiful and shapely than they want to be, and ought to be, is that they do not drink enough water.

According to the latest and best authorities on human physiology, three pints of water daily are necessary to run the human machine.

Do you drink six glasses of water daily? If not, you are starving your body and impairing your vital machinery.

Is it any wonder you are dried up, dingy or wrinkled, your liver and lights inefficient, your blood thick and more or less muddy?

This is no joke, and is not written for fun, but to stir you up a bit.

Ask your doctor about it.

It is generally conceded that it is the quantity of water drank at health resorts that produces favorable results rather than the minerals which the water contains.

You can readily see that if your body requires three pints of water daily that you are robbing it every day you live.

It is the clamor of your nerves for water that causes you to spend money for soda water, ice cream, candy and spices, none of which can take the place of palatable water—water that is fit to drink.

See to it that you drink your quota of water, with another pint or two for good measure, and you will pick up in flesh, your health will improve generally, and you will be glad you are alive.

Stout people will find their health improved, and they will begin to return to their normal proportions. Fatness is distinctly a symptom of ill health as is thinness.

Drink more water and take less medicine, beer and booze and be healthy.

Isn't it funny, so to speak, that woman with their great desire for beauty do not form health clubs and study themselves? They surely know that health is essential to real beauty, the kind that wont come off.

Possibly you have seen them rushing to beauty lectures given by some one who has beautifiers to sell, beautifiers that breed ugliness. Do you think they would rush so wildly to hear practical lectures on health, which is the only real beautifier?

Not much. They would rather fake figures and complexions than to take nature's plan to secure the real thing, even though comfort and happiness were thrown in for good measure.

Instead of our women growing more beautiful and our men handsomer, the outlook is good for a steady deterioration of both.

This need not be, and will not be if the people turn their attention to the matter of health and use the means so bountifully provided for its maintenance and development.

Drink water, not hoggishly, nor even piggishly, but freely and rationally. Give it to your children instead of sweetmeats and ice cream, bearing in mind that the toddling child requires at least a pint of water a day. So long as it is on a milk diet it gets it, but when given solid food it is not encouraged to drink water.

Give water to babies, but give it in reason, and they will not fret nearly so much, and will grow plump and fat and pretty.

Too much water on the outside, and not enough inside, is one of the main causes of the high mortality among infants.

Among the causes of death on mortality sheets should be "soap and water," for these carry off their thousands annually.

It is not popular to say this, but facts are good standbys, whether they are agreeable to all the people or not.

So if you would be healthy, happy and beautiful get on the water wagon, and stick to it.

Following are some good rules for water drinking, and if you will follow them for a few months you will find yourself greatly benefited, much more than by a course of medication or a trip abroad.

To do its work properly water should be taken between meals, and at least three pints, or six ordinary glasses, a day should be the average of an adult. It must be said, though, that ice water taken in this quantity will do harm. The water should be chilled, but never iced.

This scientific drinking of water, which will do the system real good, and which many women have tried with much benefit, begins as soon as one awakes. Drink then a glass of water—not, if troubled with indigestion, or cold with a half-teaspoonful of powdered charcoal dissolved in it if digestion is good.

Don't drink with meals. If food is eaten slowly and well masticated, it will soon be possible to eat without drinking, and the meal will digest far better than when swallowed and washed down with liquids.

About half an hour after a meal drink a glass of water, and from then, until half an hour before the next meal take it frequently. The quantities must be decided by the individual, but the end must be to absorb three pints before bedtime.

A woman whose skin is the envy of others, and who is believed by many to resort to all sorts of "beauty" devices, attributes it entirely to the plentiful use of water, both internally and externally. She drinks it a glassful at a time almost every hour.

Hot water, if taken a cupful on rising and another when going to bed, will help to reduce the weight of a stout person.

The Inevitable Knocker.

Somebody has unearthed a record which indicates that John Paul Jones added to his other accomplishments that of being a bail jumper. It will not seriously tarnish his fame. If we remember aright, Vasco Nunez de Balboa was once an absconding debtor who got himself headed up in a cask and thus shipped out of the country to escape his creditors. But then he went on to discover the Pacific ocean. Besides, it is quite probable that the claim against Jones was one which congress ought to have settled.—New York Tribune.

DISCOVER A NEST OF JUVENILE THIEVES

Number of "Fagins" in Lower East Side Surprises the School Officials.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—What is believed by criminologists to be the most remarkable nest of juvenile thieves that has ever come under the observation of old detectives, now exists in the lower East Side, and a man and a woman are trying to break it up. The man is H. W. Smith, principal of public school No. 20, and the woman is Miss Julia Richman, district superintendent of the schools in the section where most of the work of the several gangs is done.

Throughout the district east of the Bowery, from Chatham Square north to Fourteenth street, it is estimated that there are more than 25 different gangs of either small boys or girls that operate under the immediate direction of what are known as "stalls," and who receive their criminal education from male and female Fagins. The "stalls" are the alumni of the seminary of juvenile crime, most of them being in their teens. Miss Richman is devoting all of her attention to the little girls who have been corrupted by the female "Fagins."

"The condition of affairs in this district which within a radius of about a quarter of a mile includes four schools, is something that the police have never had to cope with before," said Mr. Smith today. "In each school there are at least 2,000 pupils for the 'Fagins' to draw upon, making a total of nearly 10,000 in all. I have been in this district for more than 30 years and know all about it. These children are menaced by young men and women, the oldest of whom is not more than 25 years, which fact is an aid to them in their evil works."

J. P. Morgan to Retire Again.

The retirement of J. P. Morgan in favor of his son, J. P. Morgan, Jr., now in charge of the London branch of the banking house, was predicted in Wall street today. The election of Morgan, Jr., who is 37 years old, to the directorate of the Western Pacific Railway Company, the first office he has ever accepted in the United States, was taken in the financial district as confirmation of the recent report that the son was soon to relieve his father of his business cares. Now it is said that before or by January 1, 1906, young Mr. Morgan will have stepped at least partially into his father's shoes.

Elephant Monument May Be Razed.

In connection with the work of the city of New York in condemning property for water shed purposes in the northern section of West Chester county many historical monuments are being razed. Now there is a report that a part of the town of Somers is to be wiped out and the monument to America's first elephant will have to go. The odd memorial stands on the public square in the town of Somers. It is in memory of the first elephant brought to the United States and to the spot on which the first circus in this country was held. The monument was erected 60 years ago.

Opera Queen Injured on Shipboard.

Among the passengers on the North German Lloyd steamship Main, which arrived in Hoboken today, was Miss Margaret Sommerfeldgen Thorsten, a German opera singer who is on her way to Cincinnati where she is to appear. While she was skipping rope on the deck of the Main three days ago the singer met with a painful accident. The ship gave a slight lurch and Miss Thorsten fell to the deck. Her right arm was broken and she was considerably shaken up. She hopes, however, to be able to keep her engagement.

New Caruso from East Side.

It is believed that in Isaac Routman, a huckster of the East Side, a tenor has been discovered who will startle the world and will rank with Caruso and De Reszke. The "find" was made by Dr. H. Holbrook Curtis, an authority on the voice. Fritzi Scheff, who has sung with the greatest artists of the world, says Routman is marvelously gifted and will equal the greatest singers of the time. "His stage name will be Caruske," said Miss Scheff, "a combination of Caruso and De Reszke, for he will equal them both."

Mr. Hanzens' Busy Week.

Because there are 69 prisoners in the Tombs awaiting trial who are represented by the same attorney, Carl Fischer Hanzen, "the lawyer philanthropist," District Attorney Jerome this week has kept Recorder's Goff's court in general sessions busy in disposing of some of Mr. Hanzen's clients. When court convened Monday 14 of Mr. Hanzen's clients were arraigned before Recorder Goff. All of the cases called were disposed of and on Tuesday a batch of 15 more were tried. Five more of Mr. Hanzen's clients were tried today in the recorder's court.

Romance Goes to Model Tenement.

J. G. Phelps Stokes and his bride, who was Miss Rose Harriet Pastor, have fitted up a flat in the tenement house at 47 Norfolk street, which is to be their home. They will occupy it on October 15. The house is on the northwest corner of Grand and Norfolk streets and is a model tenement six stories high. There are 24 tenants, all Jews, except the janitor, Jacob Bommersheln. Mr. Stokes' neighbors on the sixth floor will be Mr. Epstein, an actor; J. M. Shapiro, a grocer, and E. Schneider. The rent of the flat is $38 a month.

CALL OF THE WHISTLE A LABOR SYMPHONY

It Is the Hymn of Industry and the Ballad of Prosperity Altogether Lovely.

By JOHN E. DAY.

Zum! a-ah! e-e-e-e, ma-a!

These mysterious ejaculations in type are not meant to represent the "call of the wild." They are not jungle gutturals either, but the momentous signals of life—real life; the life that makes the wheels go 'round. Assembled in one grand chorus they make a sweet symphony of sounds. Paradoxical as it may seem, it is a concord of discords. These sounds are heard everywhere in Pittsburgh, sometimes near and sometimes afar off, but the droning or the shriek of the whistle of the factory or the shop, the mill or the foundry, bears the same sweet message of industry alive and men working. It is the hymn to the dinner bucket; it is the grand processional of occupation and labor and the ratification of many voices that screech out a pæan of praise to PROSPERITY.

A Great Symphony.

Perhaps the dwellers among the lents of wickedness do not pay much attention to the call to work, but out in the East End the whistle is a great awakener. It is, in fact, an eye-opener. It is a cheerful sound to some and a disturbance to others. In the exclusive atmosphere of the East End we slumber. It is exceedingly bad form to sleep. We do not even go to bed, we simply "retire." However, if you have a conscience void of offense I am inclined to believe that you can be refreshed just as much by sleeping as slumbering. The whistle! The music of it! It is great, if one appreciates the proximo and ultimo of its call. The whistles do not begin at one time. There is first a faint screech, and the answering to the call. Then they blend. It is piano, pianissimo, forte and fortissimo. What a jubilee of sound it is. You waken, you stretch and yawn, and when the last moan dies away over the distant hills you arise and call yourself blessed, because if you're not working at that hour some other man is. And then there is much more music in the combination of the trebles, baritones and basses than the sounds that grieve the air floating out from the near neighbor's house where the young lady is torturing the piano by running chromatic scales. I would rather hear the whistle.

Open Air Overture.

The circus calliope may have some faint suggestions of melody, but it does not compare with the sonata of the whistles, the grand opera of industrial supremacy. The anvil chorus of employment is called to attention by the whistle's blow, and then the boiler yard gets busy, the wheels turn and the breadwinner begins his toil, learning "to labor and to wait"—wait for his week's end pay. We are all waiters, more or less, in this respect. I have heard many soul-stirring compositions, including "the music of the spheres," but after all, I would rather be awakened by the droning of the whistles, that grand open-air overture, than by the synchronism of violins, violas, the blare of trumpets and the crash of drums and cymbals.

Individuality of Whistles.

The first whistle that arouses you from your slumbers—slumbers is still good instead of sleep—is a shrill "noise," sounding just like an asthmatic man clearing his throat for his day's swallow of smoke and sooty atmosphere. Then there comes an answering cry. It is an awful jumble for a time, but when all the valves are opened and the steam gets busy then we have the antiphonal beauty of this varied orchestra. The whistle has its individuality. The shrillest and loudest is frequently perched on a small unpretentious shop. It is the deep-throated one that makes the air vibrate in tremulous waves that voices the majesty of some great industrial establishment. The convulsive whistle is the note of spasmodic work—some days idle and a few days working. When the vibrant air is again stilled, there comes another awakening to sweet sounds—the tinkling of the school bells, a tintinnabulation that is welcome to every ear except the lazy scholar. The lark sings in the morning and it is a pleasant vocal offering, but as for me and mine let me rather be aroused from sleep by the whistle, the old shrill whistle that sings out so clear.

Is This True?

One of the reasons given by spokesmen for the great life insurance companies for favoring the federal control and regulation of insurance has a peculiar significance quite beside the mark aimed at. It throws a ray of light into dark places of the life insurance situation. It is urged that some of the states persecute insurance companies legally domiciled in other parts of the country. Hints are thrown out that those corporations are compelled to resort to devious methods of defense against blackmail by state authorities. All of which is quite possible.—Cleveland Leader.

"No, Narcissus isn't," said Col. Chinn. "Narcissus is by Top Gallant, for I bred her."—New York Sun.

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

"There's a marked difference this year in the movement of foreigners as contrasted with the movement in the fall of '03 and '04," said Interpreter Pulkert at the Baltimore & Ohio depot last evening. "In those autumns the movement outward of immigrants returning to their old homes was very marked. The reason was simply that the foreigners did not see in the industrial conditions any encouragement to remain in this country, and many of them went back to their homes taking their savings with them and determined to spend the rest of their days in the lands of their nativity. How many of them actually do this it is hard to tell. They do not see fit nowadays to know that, there will be a return of the active operation of steel plants, coke ovens and coal mines where thousands of them pursue their callings, but when the reports reach them both in their homes of the demand for employes they are likely to change their minds and come back to America to add to their gains.

"This year the outward movement is much smaller, and for the same reason the number reaching Pittsburgh is especially large. There is work for all and they know it, and are waiting or coming to take advantage of their opportunities.

"So far the outward movement is confined to the Northern Europeans—Hungarians, Poles, etc. The Italians do not start their return until next month.

"There is an exceptionally large number of Bohemians and Lithuanians arriving here now. One trainload of Bohemians numbering 600 went through here yesterday, their tickets reading Cleveland and Chicago. The majority of this nationality seem to find their American employment in tailor workshops."

Short-Stalk Corn Is Now It.

"The short-stalk corn is now a proved success in Iowa and its supplanting the much-boasted long-stalk corn is a matter of only a short time," said Roger B. Piper, of Des Moines, in at the Union station last evening. Mr. Piper had just come from a trip in Iowa, Nebraska and Missouri, where he had traveled through the corn belt. He was en route to New York.

"One used to hear much about the 16-foot, 18-foot or 20-foot corn of the corn belt of the middle southwest, but the growers found such stalks to be much better in theory than in actual farming practice. The agricultural departments of several states, notably Iowa, started to develop a corn which would be but six feet or less high, and would grow its ears near the ground. The reason for this is mainly the enormous damage from wind inflicted upon a stretch of the high corn. The ears grew near the top and their weight made it certain that the stalk would go to the ground if it were swayed far. The corn would be partly spoiled at least. The shorter corn, which has been obtained after much experimentation, is so much better that one sees little else now in Iowa. To be sure, it does away with the great growth of stalk, but this is found to be a gain not a loss. The big stalk simply took so much more strength from the soil and gave back in return much less than does the smaller stock with its better chance for a yield of fine quality."

Welcome for Brigadier.

Around the approaches to the terminals of the Baltimore & Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wabash stations last evening were numerous officers and privates of the local companies of the United Boys' Brigades of America. Each wore a badge marked "Hospitality" and each was there to welcome any stranger arriving to take part in the national convention of the organization opening here today. Delegates came singly and in groups in nearly every train and the prospects looked good for a big attendance.

On to Washington, Pa.

Two special cars passed through Union station last evening en route to Washington, Pa. Each was filled with women and each woman was filled with a mission, for they were all delegates to the Women's Christian Temperance Union state convention which opens in the historic college town today.

Back from Burgettstown Fair.

A special train was needed yesterday to handle the crowd that left in the morning and returned in the evening over the Panhandle carrying the local visitors to the great Burgettstown fair. All the wonders of the exposition that new makes life a thrilling sensation in the busy town had been seen by the Pittsburghers and they were satisfied.

THE CASH ACCOUNT.

I cannot make the thing come out.
Though I have thought and thought and thought
And tried to make a cheerful note
Of everything that I have bought
The more I think and think and think,
The more it puts my head forlorn.
Confound the pesky cash account!
Where did I spend that thirty cents?

Ten cents for car fare—that's all right!
Three dollars for a new straw hat.
For luncheon fifty; shoe shine five—
Oh, hang it! Yes, I've got all that!
Considering the scant supply,
The treasury has too many vents.
It's outgo, outgo all the time.
Where did I spend that thirty cents?

Cigars, four-fifty; grape juice, ten
(I think it had some rum in too);
Peaches and peanuts, thirty-five,
And ice cream soda for sleeper pop.
But still that haun

MILLIONS BACK STEEL RADIATOR

Pittsburgh Capitalists Organize Stock Company Which May Revolutionize Business.

JULIAN KENNEDY PRESIDENT

With the granting of incorporation papers yesterday by the state of West Virginia to the Orient Steel Radiator Company with a capital of $2,000,000 a syndicate of Pittsburgh capitalists was formally organized which hopes to revolutionize the manufacture of radiators the world over. The incorporators as given are: Julian Kennedy, C. E. Safford, Reid Kennedy, J. W. Lee and Eugene Mackey.

Julian Kennedy, who holds the bulk of the $1,000,000 of preferred stock, will be president of the company. Options are now being taken on sites for the location of the main plant of the company within a radius of 30 miles of Pittsburgh. This plant will cost, approximately, $750,000, while there are possibilities of establishing auxiliary manufacturing plants in other sections of the country. Associated with Mr. Kennedy in the ownership of the preferred stock which has been taken up at par, are such prominent local capitalists as E. C. Converse, the former Pittsburgh capitalist, now of New York, and C. E. Bray, first vice president of the American Sheet & Plate Company. The common stock has not been and will not be offered for sale.

Work of a Clever Inventor.

The Orient Steel Radiator Company controls patents issued to Clarence E. Safford of Monticello street, Pittsburgh, on a sheet steel radiator. The new radiator is made entirely of sheet steel stampings, though radiators can be constructed of brass or copper to suit the fastidious. This steel radiator finds its special attraction in the fact that it is unsoldered and it was for the purpose of discovering a method by which to join two halves of a radiator section without solder and keep the joint airproof, that Mr. Safford has devoted six years and a fortune of upward of $100,000 which he accumulated while serving a lifetime in the radiator business and organizing several companies which have lauched several improved radiators.

To join the two halves of each section of these sheet steel rapiators a process known technically as "freezing" is employed. When the two halves meet each has a sheet steel flange. These flanges are turned under and coiled up together in five plys and stamped together under pressure of 2,000 pounds to the square inch. The only escape the steam will be able to find is by following between the coils of these two flanges which will have been hammered together inseparately. To secure this joint it was necessary to devise special dies and special machinery, and these also have been patented.

Many Points of Merit.

It is claimed for the sheet steel radiator that it can be heated instantly by foregoing the necessity of heating a heavy cast iron contrivance; that less steam will have to be generated to accomplish the same purpose; that great tonnage will be saved in shipping and in handling; that the expense of molding every section of every radiator will be saved and that the cost of production will be minimized as well as the sale price. The radiators will be made to hang upon the walls as well as stand upon floors, and will be removable when not needed.

The main plant, which will be erected in the Pittsburgh district, will be supplied with automatic machinery and it is expected that 500 employes will be engaged in operating the plant.

Mr. Safford has secured patents on his radiator in the United States, Canada, England, France, Sweden and Germany.

PROSPEROUS CONDITION OF UNIVERSITY SHOWN

Chancellor McCormick Reports to the Board of Trustees That Students Have Increased in Number.

Very encouraging facts were told the board of trustees of the Western University of Pennsylavnia at the fall meeting yesterday.

Chancellor McCormick's report showed that the number of students in all the departments has increased, and that in that respect the entire institution is prospering. The entering classes in every department show a remarkable growth, and the attendance in the collegiate and engineering departments will be the largest in the history of the university. Chancellor McCormick said the enlarged faculties and equipment enabled the institution to do better work than ever before and to accommodate a larger student body.

Action was taken acquiring complete control of the dental department, which was organized in 1895, under the authority of the general board of trustees of the university, but which had its own subboard and management.

The report of the treasurer was submitted, showing the financial operation of the university for the past year.

GONG FOR ETNA ELKS.

Presented by Register Stengel for Honors Won at Buffalo.

One of the most successful lodges of the county will be rewarded for the energy displayed by its members in a very pleasing way this evening. County Register George H. Stengel, in order to create interest in the annual reunion of the Elks in Buffalo last July, offered to the lodge in this county having the greatest number of members in line of march in proportion to its membership, a handsome gong. On the day of the parade in Buffalo Etna lodge had 52 members in line out of a total membership of 125, and this being the largest proportion of any lodge in the county, Mr. Stengel decided that the gong had been won by that lodge.

He has selected to present the gong William M. Benham, Esq., and arrangements have been made for the presentation speech at tonight's session of the lodge. Thomas J. Ford will receive the gong on behalf of Etna lodge. This lodge was instituted a year and a half ago and is constantly growing in membership. Already arrangements are being made for the attendance of the members at the annual reunion at Denver in next July.

GREELEY'S POLITICAL SPONSOR FOUND DEAD IN A BARN

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Louis Carmichael, the man history gives credit for the nomination of Horace Greeley for the presidency in 1872, was found dead in a barn at Sydney, N. Y., yesterday. He was 88 years of age. He took charge of Greeley's boom and secured a united delegation for him from New York, and then started the movement in the other states.

CITY EXTENDS WELCOME TO YOUTHFUL GUESTS

Delegations of Boys' Brigade of America Are Arriving—Opening Event Today.

The national convention of the United Boys' Brigades of America will be held here today, tomorrow and Sunday, and delegations already have begun to arrive. Maj.-Gen. Henry F. Spicer, commander of the Pennsylvania division, arrived yesterday morning.

The athletic contests this morning and the competitive drills this afternoon in Friendship park will be the most interesting events today. The Pennsylvania state council will meet at 10 o'clock this morning in the Hotel Schenley to discuss the affairs of the Pennsylvania state convention, whose meeting is coincident with that of the national convention. The business session of the United Boys' Brigades of America will be held Saturday morning, in the Smithfield Street Methodist church, instead of the First Presbyterian church, as originally intended. The parade will take place Saturday afternoon. The complete program for the three days is as follows:

This morning, reception of delegates and visitors; athletic contests to be held in Friendship park. This afternoon, competitive drills to be held in Friendship park, weather permitting; if not, in Eighteenth regiment, N. G. P., armory, corner of Forbes and Craft avenues, on Friday evening. This evening, open house at all company headquarters. Saturday morning the national convention meets at 9 o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal church, Smithfield street. Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock the parade forms on Cedar avenue, Allegheny, right resting on North avenue. The route of the parade is as follows: Move on North avenue to Federal street, Federal street to Sixth street, Pittsburgh; Sixth street to Market street, to Fifth avenue, out Fifth avenue to St. Pierre, to Schenley park, pass in review, to Forbes street and dismiss. Saturday evening the commander-in-chief's reception at the Eighteenth regiment armory, corner Forbes and Craft avenues. Sunday morning, attend church at different churches, as desired. Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock boys' mass meeting in Nixon theater, Sixth avenue, between Smithfield and Grant streets; annual address of commander-in-chief. Everybody welcome.

THINK WAR MUST COME.

Members of the Riksdag of Sweden Are Not Satisfied With Norway's Terms of Arbitration.

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 5.—Both chambers of the riksdag today referred the bill regarding the dissolution of the union between Norway and Sweden to a special committee appointed by each chamber. During the debate in the first chamber several members criticized the Karlstad agreement on the ground that Sweden's concessions gave the impression that Norway had secured the advantage. Some of the members protested against the arbitration clause, and went so far as to say that war between the two countries was bound to come.

Artesian Committee Is Called.

Councilman A. G. Roenigk's committee on artesian wells has been called to meet at 4 p. m., today. The ordinance is at present in the hands of a sub-committee of three physicians in councils, who are opposed to the idea of boring artesian wells in school house yards, on the grounds, as they allege, that the water from such wells is often impure.

COMMISSION TO STUDY IN EUROPE

Representatives of the National Civic Federation Will Tour the Old Country.

ELECT INGALLS PRESIDENT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Melville E. Ingalls of Cincinnati, president of the board of directors of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad, today was chosen to head the commission of the National Civic federation, which has undertaken a study of the municipal ownership problem as it appears both in this country and abroad. The commission met in this city today, the first session being presided over by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor and first vice president of the National Civic federation.

August Belmont, president of the federation, was unable to be present, having undergone an operation today. Near the close of today's session a telegram was read from Mr. Belmont saying he had come safely from under the surgeon's knife and was on the road to recovery.

Mr. Ingalls presided over the afternoon session and after formally accepting his place as head of the commission, said:

"A tremendous pressure for municipal ownership is abroad, and it is our duty to the public to give them all the facts we can get together. You read both sides in the public press, one showing that it is a success, while the other records a failure. What is good for one country is not good for another. The great fault we are liable to fall into is to try to do too much. We want to study gas plants, electric lighting plants, and especially water plants. I consider this investigation a public duty, and if we put the facts before the American public we will give them a history of today and we will do a greater work for our country than ever was performed by any statesman."

In addition to Mr. Ingalls as president, the other officers of the commission chosen today, are: First vice president, John Mitchell of Indianapolis, president of the United Mine Workers; second vice president, John G. Agar of New York City, president of the Reform club; secretary, Edward A. Moffett of New York city, editor of the Bricklayer and Mason.

An executive committee and a committee on investigation also were named as follows: Executive committee, the officers ex-officio: Alexander H. Revell, Chicago; E. E. Clark, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; Isaac N. Seligman, New York; E. Rosewater, Omaha, Neb.; William W. Rowe, New Orleans; Samuel Insull, Chicago; John Bancroft-Devins, New York; Frederick N. Judson, St. Louis; Oscar S. Straus, New York; Hamilton Holt, New York; Walter MacArthur, San Francisco; D. L. Cease, Cleveland; Franklin MacVeagh, Chicago; Henry M. Farnam, New Haven; George H. Harries, Washington, D. C.; Louis D. Brandeis, Boston; Marcus M. Marks, New York; James O'Connell, Washington, D. C.; Lawrence F. Abbott, New York.

Committee on investigation: M. E. Ingalls, Cincinnati; Talcott Williams, Philadelphia; W. D. Mahon, Detroit; Frank J. Goodnow, New York; Walter Clark, Philadelphia; Dr. Albert Shaw, New York; Edward W. Bemis, Cleveland; John H. Gray, Chicago; Walter L. Fisher, Chicago; Timothy Healy, New York; William J. Clark, New York; H. B. F. MacFarland, Washington, D. C.; Daniel J. Keefe, Detroit; Frank Parsons, Boston; John R. Commons, Madison, Wis.; J. W. Sullivan, New York; Leo S. Rowee, Philadelphia; F. J. McNulty, Washington, D. C.; Albert E. Winchester, South Norwalk, Conn.; Charles L. Edgar, Boston; Melo R. Baltbie, New York.

The commission will meet again tomorrow. The investigating committee will first take up the municipal ownership plants in this country and will not begin its European inquiry until next year.

WON'T TAKE THE BONDS.

West Homestead Can't Get Successful Bidder to Put Up $70,000.

The borough of West Homestead needs the money which it ought to derive from the bond issue of $70,000 recently awarded to W. R. Todd & Co. of Cincinnati. The firm has not lifted the bonds, so the borough solicitor, John G. Silveus, has been instructed by the council to write, fix a reasonable time for the lifting of the bonds and in case of the firms' failure to do so to sell them to a Cleveland firm and collect the $1,500 certified check deposited by the Cincinnati firm.

The borough has already almost completed the grading and paving for which the bonds were issued. The "certified" check of the Cincinnati firm was deposited in bank but was returned "protested."

CHINESE MINISTER WILL BE GUEST ON FOUNDER'S DAY

Sir Chentung Liang Cheng, the Chinese minister to the United States, will be one of the visitors in Pittsburgh on Founders' day at the Carnegie institute, and will be one of the speakers at the annual banquet of the chamber of commerce on the evening of November 3, the day following Founders' day.

This will be the second time that a distinguished citizen of the orient has graced the celebration at the institute. Four years ago Wu Ting Fang, the famous predecessor of Sir Chentung, was one of the principal orators of the day. This year's guest is no less an orater and converser fluently in the English tongue. He will speak of the advancement of modern civilization in the Flowery Kingdom, and his speech will be most timely in its character.

Changes Hour of Services That Mill Men May Sleep

Beginning with next Sunday the Rev. James E. Walker, pastor of the Atlantic Avenue United Presbyterian church, McKeesport, will abandon the regular morning service and hold it during the afternoon. The change is made for the accommodation of many members employed in the mills until late Saturday night. The pastor believes that many are unable, on account of having to sleep late Sunday forenoon, to attend morning services, and he will experiment during the winter with afternoon services instead. All other services will be held as usual.

NAME CAPT. BATCHELOR.

He Will Be Chief Marshall of East End Mardi Gras Parade—Merchants to Participate.

The executive and sub-committees of the East End Mardi Gras Hallowe'en association at a meeting last night elected Capt. J. A. Batchelor chief marshal of the parade, which position he filled on last year's celebration. It was also decided to issue invitations to all the merchants of the city to participate in the parade. Communications from merchants of Brushton, Homewood and Wilkinsburg were read stating they would have floats in the parade and that their districts would be well represented by costumed marchers in the evening.

A parade committee was appointed consisting of J. Albert Odell, J. M. Pitman, Edward F. Kridell, Dr. E. R. Walters, Clayton F. Decker, Henry Kreiling and Charles E. Predmore. It will have general supervision of the parade and will engage the music to be allotted the different divisions. At the night costume affair prizes will be offered for the most artistic and most grotesque costumes.

THE OLD WAY AND THE NEW.
Instead of toiling over the mountains by the old ten-day stage coach route, the busy Pittsburger of today avails himself of the modern ten-hour Pullman train method of getting to New York.
Startling but True
Instead of the old ten-year Paderewski method of playing a very little of the world's best music, the modern business man carries into his home the greatest means for the interpretation of all instrumental music the world has known—namely, the

and in ten minutes he is able to play music which Paderewski couldn't play with his fingers if he practiced for a hundred years. "Can't be done?" you say. That's what Cyrano de Bergerac said about Angelus piano playing last spring, and he selected a committee composed of Edwin H. Lemare, Emil Paur and A. M. Foerster (whom he thought would decide in his favor) to test the Angelus. We'll be glad to send you fac similes of the opinions these gentlemen rendered after giving the Angelus a test which no other piano player dare be subjected to
If you will spare us ten minutes of your valuable time, Mr. Business Man, we'll prove to you that there's no other investment of $750.00 which you can make that will repay you as an Angelus Piano can and is today doing for people whom you know.
It won't cost you anything but a little time to look into the Angelus Piano matter. Remember—you only live once. Get all the music out of your life that you can. You'll get more with an Angelus Piano than by any other means. We take old style pianos in exchange.

HAY ESTATE TO BRING SUIT IN LOCAL COURTS

Attorney H. F. Baker Takes Out Ancillary Letters of Administration on Hay's Estate.

Papers are being prepared in a suit to be entered in the local courts in connection with the settlement of the estate of the late Secretary of State John Hay. Ancillary letters of administration on the estate of Mr. Hay have been granted to Attorney H. F. Baker of this city, who, with Attorney A. O. Fording, will have charge of the suit to be brought.

Attorney Baker yesterday stated that all the papers in the case have not yet been received, and at present he is not in position to give the details of the action to be brought. A notice has been published in which all persons indebted to the estate of the late Secretary Hay are requested to make immediate payment, and those also who have claims against the estate are asked to make them known without delay.

The nature of the suit to be entered is withheld until the papers in the case are filed in the courts. One of the attorneys stated that the suit was brought in this county because the people who will be made the defendants reside here. It is understood that several thousand dollars are involved.

ARE OVERCOME BY GAS.

Two Negro Waiters In McKeesport Are Taken Out of Gormley's Hotel Cellar Unconscious.

Two negro waiters were made unconscious by escaping gas at Gormley's hotel in McKeesport yesterday, being finally rescued by Policeman James Reace and Detective Percy Anderson. The injured are William Davenport, aged 28, who will probably recover, and Louis Payton, who may die. Both are at the McKeesport hospital.

There was a break in the gas pipe in the cellar and the two waiters heard the noise of the escaping gas. Payton went down and Davenport saw him fall. He rushed in to rescue his comrade, but was also overcome by the gas. The open cellar door attracted the attention of several men, who saw the prostrate bodies and notified Reace and Anderson. By this time most of the gas had escaped through the door and the two negroes were rescued. Davenport was restored to consciousness, but late last night Payton was still in a comatose condition.

SHUFF GAINS VICTORY.

Judge Buffington Decides in His Favor in Grant Boulevard Case.

Judge Joseph Buffington, in the United States district court, yesterday decided that the plaintiff's witnesses in the Grant boulevard traction case now before the court shall all be heard. This is the suit which was brought by John L. Shuff of Cincinnati, to prevent the laying of tracks on the Grant boulevard.

On Wednesday the attorneys for the defense objected to the taking up of so much time by the examination of the plaintiff's witnesses, and yesterday Judge Buffington said that the plaintiff had a right to have all his witnesses examined. The further hearing of the case was postponed until October 16. On that day former Judge James H. Reed, president of the Philadelphia Company; George H. Earle, Jr., and L. Bowdoin of Philadelphia, and Patrick Calhoun of Atlanta, Ga., will be heard as witnesses. They are the directors of the Philadelphia Company who signed the agreements by which the company acquired the charter of the concern which had the boulevard franchise.

WILL CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hering, who are among the oldest residents of the Third ward, Allegheny, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary tonight with their family and a large number of friends. The couple live at 1110 Middle street, but so many have been invited to the affair that it will be held in Turner hall, East street. Besides the old folk there will be three children and 11 grandchildren to take part in the occasion.

The Death Roll.

Paul Nelson Phillips.

Paul Nelson Phillips, lieutenant of Company E, Eighteenth regiment, N. G. P., died yesterday morning at the home of his father, W. J. Phillips, 341 Rebecca street, of pneumonia. Lieut. Phillips was aged 21, and a graduate of Park institute, Allegheny. Recently he was associated with his father in the foundry business in Smallman street. In 1901 he enlisted in the Eighteenth and rose rapidly from the ranks, filling all the positions of a non-commissioned officer. On December 28, 1904, he was elected second lieutenant of the company. He is survived by his father, three brothers and two sisters. He was a member of the Friendship Avenue Presbyterian church. His comrades will attend the funeral at the Uniondale cemetery tomorrow, and a firing squad and a bugle corps will perform the military rites at the grave.

Mrs. Priscilla Rogers.

Mrs. Priscilla Rogers died yesterday morning at the family residence, 852 Washington avenue, Allegheny, after an illness of 10 weeks. She was born in Columbiana county, Ohio, October 4, 1819, and was the daughter of John and Jane Kountz. She was married in 1837 to Capt. Thomas Rogers, a riverman of this vicinity, and removed to Allegheny. Since then she had always lived on the North Side, where she was well known. Her husband died 12 years ago. She was a member of the Melrose Avenue Presbyterian church and is survived by the following children: William D., Mrs. Jennie Golden and A. J. Rogers, all of Allegheny. Services will be held at the residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Peter Wagner, Sr.

Peter Wagner, Sr., aged 72, a well-known resident of the Braddock district, died Wednesday night at his farm at Milltown, near Unity. He was born in Bavaria, Germany, and came to Braddock with his parents when 21 years old. He was one of the oldest converting millmen at the Edgar Thomson plant until his retirement several years ago. He was one of the charter members of the St. Joseph's German Catholic church of Braddock and leaves his widow and the following children: Mrs. Thomas Harris, Mrs. Edward Farfitt, Anthony, Peter, Jr., Harry, Charles and John.

Mrs. Rachel Almira Barclay.

Mrs. Rachel Almira Barclay, aged 61, widow of Lieut. George Barclay, first night warden of Riverside penitentiary, died Wednesday afternoon at the home of her son-in-law, Thomas Poyntz, Davis and Michigan avenues, Allegheny. She was born in Johnstown and was the daughter of Adam and Mary Brenneman. After their marriage the couple lived for a time in Allegheny and then moved to Braddock, where Mr. Barclay died in 1882. She is survived by three sons, Charles, Merwin and George, and one daughter, Mrs. Poyntz.

Mrs. Walter C. Childs.

Mrs. Ida Smith Childs, wife of Walter C. Childs, a broker of New York city, and a former resident of this city, died suddenly yesterday at her home in Yonkers, N. Y., of heart failure. Mrs. Childs had been an invalid for some time previous to her death, but her condition was not considered as serious. She was born in California and was married to Mr. Childs about eight years ago.

Obituary Notes.

Aaron Serbin, a merchant of North Braddock, died yesterday morning at his home in Price avenue, North Braddock. He leaves a widow and four children.

Solomon Scherzinger, aged 75, for over 40 years a jeweler at 513 Ohio street, Allegheny, died yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. His wife died several years ago. He is survived by five children.

Arthur Scott Mills, aged 21, of McKeesport, died yesterday at McKeesport hospital from appendicitis. Mr. Scott was a member of the Jr. O. U. A. M. and the McKeesport Cyclers. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. John O'Connor, and two brothers, Frank and Charles.

Miss Florence O'Neal of McKeesport died yesterday at Mercy hospital after an operation. She was a member of St. Peter's Roman Catholic church and the C. M. B. A., McKeesport. She lived with her brother-in-law, A. R. Good, at 558 Fifth avenue. She is survived by two brothers, J. B. and Perry, of McKeesport, and three sisters.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

A Remedy Which Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Stomach Troubles.

The remedy is not heralded as a wonderful discovery, nor yet a secret patent medicine, neither is it claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles with which nine out of ten suffer.

The remedy is in the form of pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges, containing vegetable and fruit essences, pure aseptic pepsin (government test), golden seal and diastase. The tablets are sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Many interesting experiments to test the digestive power of Stuart's Tablets show that one grain of the active principle contained in them is sufficient to thoroughly digest 3,000 grains of raw meat, eggs and other wholesome food.

Stuart's Tablets do not act upon the bowels like after dinner pills and cheap cathartics, which simply irritate and inflame the intestines without having any effect whatever in digesting food or curing indigestion.

If the stomach can be rested and assisted in the work of digestion it will very soon recover its normal vigor, as no organ is so much abused and overworked as the stomach.

This is the secret, if there is any secret, of the remarkable success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a few years ago and now the most widely known of any treatment for stomach weakness.

This success has been secured entirely upon its merits as a digestive pure and simple, because there can be no stomach trouble if the food is promptly digested.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act entirely on the food eaten, digesting it completely, so that it can be assimilated into blood, nerve and tissue. They cure dyspepsia, water brash, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive power which weak stomachs lack and unless that lack is supplied it is useless to attempt to cure by the use of "tonics," "pills" and cathartics which have absolutely no digestive power.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be found at all drug stores and the regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit better than any other argument.

Turkish, Indian and Persian Carpets and Rugs

An Autumnal display—rich in the designs and colorings of the Orient, and in variety, size and price to suit every requirement.

A collection of masterpieces of Oriental art as applied to the loom, unequaled by anything yet shown in this market.

We have already proved that in the selling of these goods we are far in advance, in both selections and in the manner in which we price them—basing all prices, as we do, on commercial values—and not on eastern romance. We cannot describe so large a stock—nor specialize as to prices—THEY MEAN NOTHING UNLESS YOU SEE THE RUGS—therefore see them.

Our Oriental Rugs are offered on the same low profit basis that we have always sold our Domestic Rugs—this means 25 TO 50 PER CENT LESS than prevailing prices in most Oriental Rug stocks—

A LOVELY COMPLEXION
New York Lady Proves That Every Woman May Have It By USING CUTICURA SOAP

Mrs. R. Reichenberg, wife of the well-known jeweller of 146 Fulton St., New York, says: "I had a friend who was justly proud of her complexion. When asked what gave her such a brilliant and lovely complexion, she replied, 'A healthy woman can be sure of a fine skin if she will do as I do, use plenty of Cuticura Soap and water.' She insisted that I follow her example, which I did with speedy conviction. I find that Cuticura Soap keeps the skin soft, white, and clear, and prevents redness and roughness."

BISHOP DESIRES MORE FRANKNESS

Asks Pastors Not to Tell Congregation One Thing and Bring Him a Different Story.

DR. EATON MAY GO WEST

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM JEROME J. NORDMAN, Staff Correspondent.

BEAVER, PA., Oct. 5.—"There should be more frankness in the ministry, as well as without. Clergymen tell their congregations they want to stay, and then go to the presiding elder, and come to me, and tell us they want to be changed. When I change them the congregations complain and appeal to me to wonder why I changed the pastor."

This was the statement made to the clergymen of the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist Protestant church at the morning session today by Bishop Earl Cranston, while he was discussing that important subject of ministerial appointments.

Continuing he said: "On the other hand, congregations ask their pastors to remain, and then the laymen come to me and tell me that the action was only complimentary. I don't believe in those kind of compliments. I disregard them.

"I want this to be an orderly conference. Let the appointments be made by the cabinet. Let no gossip get out. We want no lobby appointments. Let there be no talk of things being 'fixed.' I came here without any appointments agreed upon except one—the Rev. Dr. E. L. Eaton goes out and the Rev. Dr. C. H. Blodgett goes in, in the North Avenue church, Allegheny."

The Disposition of Dr. Eaton.

The topic of most discussion among the ministers attending conference is relative to the disposition to be made of Dr. Eaton. He has repeatedly declared that he would like to stay in the conference, if a place could be found for him, but that he would not stand in the way if, as it appears, there be more to appoint than appointments. A prevailing rumor, and one that appears to be authentic, is that Dr. Eaton will be transferred to the far west. He leaves tomorrow morning to attend the Rock River conference in Wheaton, Ill. It is also authentically reported that the Rev. C. L. Smith, of Rochester, will be transferred to the Salem, O., church, and that the Rev. Maurice Floyd, of that church, will succeed the Rev. Mr. Smith.

Interest was lent the morning session by the reading of the annual reports by the presiding elders of the various districts. The Rev. Dr. James Mechem, of the Pittsburgh district, caused a mild sensation when he took exception to a certain method of holding revivals, which was construed by many to refer to the methods of the Presbyterian church, and to the simultaneous revival held in Pittsburgh. He said:

"Our pastors have not very much sympathy with the revival methods, so largely mechanical, that have obtained among our sister denominations. The results which have followed these operations have not been proportionate to the expenditure of time, labor and money."

Praise for Christ Church.

Dr. Mechem, as did the other elders, reviewed the church in his district for the past year and especially mentioned the fact that Christ church had given $40,000 to benevolences during the year, and to the improvements being made by the Knoxville congregation.

The Rev. Dr. T. N. Boyle of the Allegheny district, announced that the Rev. Drs. T. J. Leak and H. L. Chapman would ask to retire, and that the Rev. J. E. Kidney, of Bridgewater, would ask for a change "to take a rest." He dwelt upon the lack of business methods among congregations and declared that this was the cause that kept some congregations from paying their pastors by the month. In conclusion he said: "A pastor who figures prominently in conventions and does not attend to his meetings at home, is but an insignificant factor in utility."

The Rev. Dr. George W. Terbush, of the Washington district, announced in his report that he approved "up-to-date methods in pastoral support rather than some of the haphazard methods now pursued by church officers, who, if they would apply the same methods in secular affairs, would soon be poverty-stricken. That the church exists under some of the present conditions is only further evidence that it is a divine institution."

The Rev. Dr. S. T. Mitchell, of the Blairsville district, reported that 196 conversions had taken place in the town of Nant-G-Gio during the year, and that the Greensburg congregation had sold their church for $58,000, and would build a new, elaborate structure. The Rev. Dr. J. F. Murray of the McKeesport district, told of the retirement of the Rev. Dr. William Pitt Turner, after a pastorate of 45 years, because of failing eyesight.

Discussion Oven Centenary Fund.

During the afternoon the Centenary Fund society, which has $300,000 in custody, held its annual meeting. After the secretary had read the report of Treasurer Joseph H. Holmes, showing the funds to be invested in stocks, bonds and mortgages, the Rev. N. H. Holmes asked why the incorporators could not be informed what stocks and bonds had been purchased. The Rev. Dr. C. W. Smith answered that it would not be wise to make them public, but that the incorporators had auditors who could investigate. After much discussion the motion passed and the Rev. J. W. Miles arose and announced he was sorry the motion passed. Then it was reconsidered. Then Mr. Miles said publicity would cause too much division of opinion on the merits of the investments and that the officers of the society were trusted men. Dr. Smith announced that the treasurer was under $25,000 bond, and that nothing near that amount was ever carried in cash. After further discussion the motion lost on a second vote. The old officers were re-elected.

During the afternoon the Rev. Dr. C. H. Mead, of New York, delivered a strong temperance address, and the Rev. Dr. Charles Roads of New York, spoke on Sunday school work. In the evening the Rev. Dr. B. S. Haywood, superintendent of Porto Rican missions, delivered an interesting address on work on that island and paid a tribute to the civic administration.

INSTALL NEW OFFICERS.

Allegheny County Union and Allegheny City Christian Endeavorers Hold Regular Autumn Rally.

The regular autumn rally and installation of officers for the Allegheny County union and the Allegheny City branch of the Christian Endeavorers, was held last evening at 8 o'clock in the Third United Presbyterian church, Ridge avenue, Allegheny.

John H. Bollen reported on the 22d annual international convention of the Christian Endeavor leagues of the United States at Baltimore recently. He said there were nearly 20,000 delegates present, 1,000 of whom were from Pennsylvania. Twelve foreign nations were represented.

The following county union officers were installed:

President, J. M. Copeland; vice president, W. H. Tospon; treasurer, H. W. Kollam; recording secretary, Miss Maude Jamison; corresponding secretary, Miss Anna Haigh; junior superintendent, Miss Mary Cort; intermediate superintendent, A. K. Bing. The officers installed for the Allegheny City branch were: President, James V. Capps; vice president, A. J. Koerner; recording secretary, Miss Annabelle Mendelhall; treasurer, Clyde E. M. Copeland; corresponding secretary, Miss Elizabeth Kiessling.

The Rev. G. W. Montgomery's address, "The Way to Win," was an excellent appeal to all present to go into the endeavor work in all earnestness.

Next Thursday, October 12, will be Christian Endeavor night at the exposition.

Mabel McKinley in Drama.

Seldom has anyone shown such remarkable adaptability for dramatic work who had previously confined her stage appearances to singing as has Miss Mabel McKinley, who comes to the Alvin next week as the star in Carroll Fleming's idyllic comedy-drama, "The Parson's Wife." Many who were among Miss McKinley's greatest admirers for her undisputed vocal abilities, were somewhat skeptical as to the possession by her of such remarkable histrionic talent as, according to all the criticisms which appeared of her work, she has displayed.

GORDON QUICKLY DROPS INQUIRY

Finds Employe Who Protests When Assessed for City Party's Campaign Fund.

THE AFFAIR IS FARCICAL

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Press Building, PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.

James H. Clayton, a watchman in the bureau of highways, last night made affidavit to the fact that Philip Allen, his superior officer in the department, had directed him to contribute $1 50 to the City party campaign fund. This morning Allen made affidavit he received the money, but it was a voluntary contribution.

Then Clayton was sent for. He found himself face to face with ex-Judge J. G. Gordon, who in the role of "private counsel," is running affairs for the mayor. Clayton tonight, in an affidavit, tells what passed between Gordon and himself. Gordon asked him why he did not complain to the mayor.

"I did not wish to trouble him, as I supposed Allen was acting under instructions."

"I suppose Jim McNichol told you to make the affidavit?" inquired Gordon.

"No, sir. I have not seen McNichol for 15 years."

"Then it was Durham, was it?" thundered the ex-Democratic judge.

"No, it's four years since I saw Durham."

"Why did you make the affidavit then?" asked Gordon.

"Because the mayor in his speech said there would not be any compulsory assessment of the employes. I wanted to know if he meant what he said."

Gordon did not care to ask more questions. He had a conference with Assistant Director Thomas L. Hicks, after which both Clayton and Allen were "suspended pending an investigation."

The affair is farcical, for everyone knows police, firemen and other city employes are being assessed to help the City party campaign. The payroll does not object to being assessed, because it always contributed to the Republican organization at campaign time. What the men do object to, they say, is the hypocrisy of the administration in trying to deceive the public by claiming for itself a moral plane above practical politics. The men think if they "give up" they are entitled to credit, especially as the City party claims to be working only for "reform."

WEAVER NOT CONGRATULATED

Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce Sends No Kind Felicitations to the Philadelphia Reformer.

The Pittsburgh chamber of commerce at its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon voted down a resolution congratulating Mayor Weaver and his party in their administration of the municipal affairs of Philadelphia. The resolution was opposed by Manager George H. Anderson of the chamber, who said that it would not be good policy or good taste for the representative people of Pittsburgh to criticise Philadelphia and its government, because Pittsburgh would not give much heed to any criticism of a similar nature which the Quaker city might pass on its sister in Western Pennsylvania. A report of the municipal affairs committee approving the action of Director Bigelow on the filtration plant bond issue was adopted.

The report of the committee on railroads and transportation, which practically indorsed the verdict of the coroner's jury in the Harrisburg disaster of last spring, was adopted after a wordy debate.

COUNCIL PASSES BILLS OVER WEAVER'S VETO

Mayor Approves Canal Measure and Thus Avoids the Possibility of Another Defeat.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—Mayor Weaver receded from his position in the matter of an appropriation by councils of $575,000 for deepening the Delaware channel, and today returned the measure with his approval. As Senator Penrose and the other Republican leaders urged this legislation, they regard the mayor's action as an organization victory.

There were exciting scenes in select councils today. The program was to pass the channel bill and other loan bills over the expected vetoes. In the channel matter this issue was avoided, but the mayor returned without approval the ordinance appropriating $2,000,000 for street improvements, and the one appropriating $4,000,000 to abolish Reading railroad grade crossings.

It requires a three-fifths vote—26 members—to override a veto. On the street improvement ordinance there was one vote short, and the mayor was sustained. The Republicans won out on the grade crossing loan bill, passing it despite the veto by a vote of 26 to 15. On the other bill the vote was 25 to 16, and the margin on both was but one vote.

Mayor Weaver's disapproval of the street improvement measure, Republican leaders claim, will lose the City party thousands of votes, which will be augmented by those who favor the immediate removal of grade crossings.

AN ORDINANCE—Requiring the laying of brick sidewalks on both sides of Carrie street, Twelfth ward, from Hemdersen street to Warren street, providing for notice to the abutting property owners to do said work, and on their failure to comply therewith authorizing and ordering the advertisement for proposals and awarding of a contract for doing said work, and providing for the collection of the cost and expense thereof.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same. That the laying of brick sidewalks on both sides of Carrie street, Twelfth ward, from Henderson street to Warren street, is hereby authorized and ordered, and the owners of the property abutting thereon are hereby required to lay said sidewalks in front of their several properties, within 30 days after notice to them to do so. Said brick sidewalks to be of a uniform width of eight feet, and the sidewalks to be laid upon such lines as shall be designated by the city engineer, and under the direction and to the satisfaction of the director of the department of public works.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the department of public works to serve a written notice upon the owners of property abutting on said Carrie street to do said work, and if the owners are residents of the city of Allegheny, said notice may either be served personally or by leaving a copy thereof at their place of residence with an adult member of their family. If the owners are not residents of the city of Allegheny, such notice may be served by posting three copies thereof upon the premises.

Sec. 3. Upon the expiration of 10 days after the service of said notices, the director of the department of public works is hereby instructed to prepare specifications for doing said work in front of all the properties, the owners of which have failed to comply with said notice, and the mayor and the said director are authorized to advertise for proposals for doing said work in accordance with such specifications, and award the contract therefor, according to the provisions of the acts of assembly in such cases made and provided.

The cost and expense thereof to be assessed upon the properties in front of or along which said work is done, and liens filed therefor, in accordance with the provisions of the laws of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania pertaining thereto.

Sec. 4. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing, be and the same is hereby repealed.

GUTHRIE WON'T TALK ON FUSION

Forbidden to Praise Berry at Old City Hall Meeting He Declines to Appear.

REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN BACK

George W. Guthrie will not be one of the speakers at the Citizens-Democratic meeting to be held in Old City hall tomorrow night. Mr. Guthrie was asked to speak, but as he has small love for the fusion aggregation and is earnestly for William H. Berry, the Democratic nominee for state treasurer, he consented to speak on one condition—that he be allowed to talk in advocacy of Berry's election. That could not be permitted, he was informed, and so Mr. Guthrie flatly refused to address the meeting.

Senator William S. Woods, chairman of the Citizens county committee, said yesterday he had not asked Mr. Guthrie to speak. "That is true, but Controller Larkin and Francis X. Barr, the latter chairman of the Democratic campaign committee, were empowered to secure the Democratic speakers for the occasion. Mr. Larkin is an old friend of Mr. Guthrie's, and it was to him Mr. Guthrie said he would consent to speak if he could advocate Berry. Mr. Larkin acquainted Director Bigelow with the condition made by Guthrie, and the director promptly ordered stricken from the list of eligibles the name of Mr. Guthrie.

Great Array of Speakers.

The speakers selected are John B. Larkin, William J. Brennen, W. B. Rodgers, city solicitor, and Stephen G. Porter, city solicitor of Allegheny. Mr. Porter and Mr. Rodgers are members of the Citizens party and Larkin was supposed to be and Brennen is a Democrat, but as Brennen always "follows the flag," and as Larkin recently aided in making E. M. Bigelow the Democratic leader over Col. James M. Guffey, it is believed that they will not disturb things by talking for Berry at the meeting.

Each of the four speakers named will be limited to a speech of 15 minutes duration and then all the candidates will talk two or three minutes. Senator Woods hopes to compress the whole meeting into a space of two hours. Senator Woods will be the temporary chairman and will no doubt be named as the permanent chairman.

F. P. Iams and W. L. Munro yesterday sent letters declining to act as members of the Democratic campaign committee. Mr. Munro is a Republican and Mr. Iams, although a Democrat, says he prefers the Republican candidates to those on the fusion ticket.

O'Toole Gets a New Lock.

John F. O'Toole is in active charge of the Democratic headquarters. Mr. O'Toole had the rooms scrubbed out yesterday and had a new lock put on the desk he is to use.

Chairman Thomas J. Ford of the Republican county committee and Secretary Charles A. Muehlbronner returned yesterday from Philadelphia, where they conferred with Senator Penrose and W. R. Andrews, chairman of the state committee. Mr. Ford says conditions throughout the state warrant the belief that the state ticket will have a big majority in the state and that the Republicans will carry Philadelphia.

The Sixth, Seventh and Eighth legislative district Republicans will meet at the headquarters on Saturday, the Sixth at 2, the Eighth at 2:30, and the Seventh at 3 p. m.

Administration's Terror Policy.

About 20 informations, charging small merchants in various parts of the city with selling goods on Sunday were made yesterday before Magistrate Kirby by the police. This activity of the police against a class of storekeepers who have not been molested for more than a year is understood to be for the purpose of lining them up for the fusion ticket this fall.

It is an old game to terrorize the small storekeepers, who usually have some influence among the voters, especially the Italians, Poles and Slavs. The theory is that they are scared when arrested, and are grateful if at the hearing they are discharged, or if, when fined, the money is returned to them. Even if the fine is retained, it is argued, they will become amenable by immunity from further prosecution, knowing that if they are not "right" politically, the police can at any time swoop down upon them and arrest them again. A prominent saloonkeeper, reported to the police as having kept his place open after midnight, is said to have been warned that it was to his interest to support the fusion county ticket.

WILL EXTEND WORK.

Women's Christian Association Secures Property on Stockton Avenue and Plan Institutional Building.

After waiting many weeks to secure the signatures of heirs living in Europe, Canada, Oregon, Michigan, West Virginia and a number of other states, the Women's Christian Association of Pittsburgh and Allegheny received the title yesterday to the property at 210 Stockton avenue, Allegheny, known as the old James O'Hara homestead. The deed was delivered by O. C. Vellner & Co.

The property fronts 20 feet on Stockton avenue and runs back 240 to Park way. It was purchased for $22,500. The association owns the adjoining property which fronts 75 feet on Stockton avenue and runs back 240 feet on Union avenue. This property has a three-story brick dwelling upon it which has been used as a home for working girls.

The new property will not be taken over until April next because of an existing lease. It is proposed to erect a large and modern building for institutional work. Plans have not as yet been fully decided upon nor has the cost of erection been fixed.

HAVE REVOLVER DUEL.

Glassport Officers Have Exciting Chase After Burglar—Thieves Lunch in Duquesne Home.

Policeman Thomas King and H. G. Hatfield of Glassport, had a revolver duel with a fleeing burglar yesterday morning. The thief escaped in the darkness. He was discovered at work on a store door by Officer King.

In Duquesne burglars entered several places and at one house sat down and ate lunch, after taking $40 from a pocketbook. Thieves entered the home of Charles Skryg, South Second street, McKeesport, and after getting the money, depleted the pantry of eatables. The homes of Armstrong Cunningham and Mrs. Laura Snowden, both in Second street, Duquesne, were also entered, but no valuables were touched.

MORE MONEY FROM TAXES.

Controller Shows Why City's Revenues Are Greater This Than Last Year.

Controller Larkin yesterday issued a comparative statement of the revenues of 1905, compared with those of 1904, from February 1 to September 30. The controller shows that this year the city took in $7,278,193 87, and in 1904 $6,896,311 93, the difference in favor of this year, $382,125 04, being made up from increases in taxation and water rents.

The receipts from switches fell off more than $14,000, those owning switches having interpreted the supreme court's decision knocking out the linear tax law as referring to switches and switch tracks. The controller suggests that the switches be removed unless the possessors pay up, and he expects to hear from City Solicitor Rodgers, in whose hands the matter is.

ALLEGED SLAVE DRIVER IS GIVEN SEVERE SENTENCE

Clarke Souls, aged 26, alleged to be one of the worst white slave drivers in this city, was yesterday sentenced to pay $100 and costs or serve six months in the workhouse. Souls denied he is engaged in the slave traffic, but admitted he had served a six-month-term in the workhouse for peddling cocaine among women of the disorderly house district. Ella Brooks, a mulatto inmate of a Water street resort, told Magistrate Kirby that Souls has been collecting from $2 to $6 a day from inmates of disorderly houses, and that he has taught women to use the drug.

BRAUN STEALS MARCH ON WYMAN

Peppery Alleghenian Appropriates Name "Citizens" and Secures a Patent on It.

HAS CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

'Squire E. L. Braun of the First ward has created a most peculiar and confusing situation in Allegheny politics. He has patented the appellation, "Citizens," and with former Representative Joseph Stewart has the exclusive right to the use of that party name. Mayor Wyman and other leaders of the Citizens party are wondering how to proceed.

It is all the more amusing as Mayor Wyman, Director Scandrett, Director McIlvain and several others played the same trick three years ago last August on the men who organized the Citizens party on the North Side. At that time Wyman waited until an organization had been perfected, headquarters rented and all plans made for a campaign. Then he secured a patent on the party name and squeezed out those whom he did not care to have.

When Wyman made his raid upon the new-born Allegheny Citizens party in August, 1902, he fell out with Braun. Braun later got into a dispute with the Republican organization of which he was the secretary, and threw up his job and apparently retired from politics in disgust.

Of late there have been many conferences in Braun's house in Western avenue. Former Representative "Joe" Stewart is Braun's closest friend, and since the discovery that Braun has appropriated Wyman's party appellation the fact has come out that Braun is preparing to launch the candidacy of Stewart for mayor of Allegheny. Stewart says he is not a candidate, but Braun smiles and says:

"Wait a while and there will be some real live news in this thing."

Mayor Wyman says he does not give any importance to Braun's claim on the party name "Citizens." He says he and his friends patented the name three years ago and that it still belongs to them. Braun contends they secured the title for the recordership election of February, 1903, and that their ownership of it expired at the conclusion of the election. Whatever is the truth in the premises will probably have to be decided by the courts, as Wyman is determined not to relinquish the party name without a fight.

It was suggested that perhaps Braun would try to force Wyman to take up Stewart as his candidate for mayor in return for Braun's back-down in regard to the party name, and his promise of political assistance. No one about city hall will admit that Braun has hinted at any dealings in regard to the mayoralty fight, and Braun denies having anything to do with the city hall crowd. One city hall politician says Braun was very desirous of having the Citizens nomination for prothonotary, and intimated that he held the ownership of the Citizens party name as an influencing factor.

It is almost certain that Stewart will be a candidate if there is the slightest chance for him. He is a close friend of the Rev. Dr. D. A. McClennahan, chairman of the executive board of the Allegheny federation of churches. Recently Dr. McClennahan has become silent regarding the political intentions of the federation, and said only the other day there would be no statement of the purpose of the organization in regard to the mayoralty fight until the political parties had made formal announcement of their candidates. Then Dr. McClennahan says the federation will inform the public of what it thinks about politics.

TRY TO LYNCH A NEGRO IN PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—An infuriated crowd of 2,000 men and women, bent on lynching, gave a half hour's hard battle today to a squad of 20 policemen who fought on the steps and in the corridors of the Third and Delancey streets police station to save the life of Joseph S. Stunley, a negro sailor, who had attempted to assault Mary Swartz, a four-year-old white girl. Stunley was finally landed in jail.

Avalon Bakery is Burned.

Fire last night between 11 and 12 o'clock partly destroyed the three-story building in which O. K. Kinsey's bakery was situated at Birmingham and Orchard streets, Avalon. The Avalon fire department quickly got the fire under control. The loss is estimated at $2,000, partly covered by insurance.

THE THREE RIVERS

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 5.—At 6 p. m. the Ohio river was 7.6 feet and rising. The rehabilitated P. Wells, under the name of the Chilo, will be ready to go into service on next Saturday in the Chilo trade. The crest of the rise, which came from the local rains in the vicinity of Parkersburg several days ago, was passing Cincinnati today. The swell was less than a foot in height and will pass off before Friday evening. The Catherine Davis went up today with a tow of empties for the Kanawha. Nearly all of the towboats plying in the Kanawha river coal trade are in the pools behind the dams in the river tending to the harbors and preparing to bring out coal at the earliest opportunity. Clear and pleasant.

MARIETTA—River 4 feet and rising. Clear and warm. Bessie Smith up at noon. Valley Belle down at 5 p. m.

STEUBENVILLE—River 3 feet 2 inches and rising. Clear and warm.

LOUISVILLE—River falling; in canal, 3.5; on falls, 1.1; below the locks, 6.1. Clear.

MORGANTOWN—River 5 feet 6 inches and stationary. Fair.

OIL CITY—River 9 inches and falling. Clear and cool.

GREENSBORO—River 6 feet and stationary. Clear and pleasant. Columbia down Friday. Woodward up.

POINT PLEASANT—River 2 feet 10 inches and falling. Clear. Up, Mountain State. Down, Greenwood.

GALLIPOLIS—River 4 feet 7 inches and falling. Clear and warm.

PARKERSBURG—River 4 feet and rising. Clear and mild. The Bessie Smith left at 10 a. m. for Wheeling. The Valley Belle at 7 p. m. for Middleport.

WHEELING—River 3 feet 3 inches and stationary. Cloudy and warm. Departed, Jewel, Newport, 11 a. m.; H. K. Bedford, Parkersburg, 8 p. m.

NEWS OF THE LOCAL RIVERS.

At 9 o'clock last night the marks on the gauge at the Davis Island dam indicated a stage of 3.8 feet and the river was falling.

Since Monday the water in the local harbor has risen and fallen several times, but at no time has it shown enough increase to warrant preparations for any coal shipment. Light and irregular rains at up-river points almost every day this week have caused the streams to rise a fraction of a foot each day, and as regularly a fall has followed during the night.

The new steel gates on Lock No. 6 in the Monongahela were put into operation yesterday and the lock was open for navigation for the first time in a month.

For the purpose of making soundings and observations down the Ohio the following steamer captains started yesterday in a skiff for Wheeling: Jad Grace of the Volunteer, Charles Sloan of the Rival, John E. Robinson of the Stella Moren, John H. Hudson of the J. C. Risher and William Cowan of the I. N. Bunton.

The Josh Cook returned to the harbor yesterday after being repaired at the Elizabeth ways. The Clyde has been docked for boiler repairs.

Capt. Harry Sweeney, master of the steamer Cruiser, came up from New Cumberland yesterday and was a visitor at the harbor rooms.

Government Inspectors Williams and Atkinson yesterday inspected the towboat Josh Cook and went to Kittanning to look over the F. K. Hullings.

Capt. A. R. Mackey, secretary of the local branch of the Masters and Pilots association, said yesterday that the members of Harbor No. 25 at the next meeting, October 17, will file a protest with the government against the delay in erecting in Pittsburgh a marine hospital. Capt. Mackey declares the appropriation for this purpose was made three years ago and that a year ago the arsenal grounds was chosen as a site for the building. Local rivermen are tired of the delays that have deprived the city of a marine hospital. Sick rivermen are sent to city hospitals, and, it is said, the government finds it cheaper to do this than to maintain a hospital. This plan is very unpopular with the 3,000 rivermen in Pittsburgh and they want some action taken soon toward the establishment of the marine hospital.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORING TOWNS AND COUNTRY

SCRANTON ENTERTAINS THE VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SCRANTON, PA., Oct. 5.—Fully 10,000 uniformed men, including members of 20 musical organizations were in line today on the occasion of the annual parade in connection with the state convention of the firemen's association. The 130 companies in line came from all parts of the state, one of the largest delegations being from Pittsburgh and vicinity. Besides there were companies here from New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

The parade was more than an hour in passing a given point, and it was a very picturesque spectacle. The city was gaily bedecked for the event, and it is estimated that 50,000 strangers were in the vast throng that viewed it. Col. Ezra H. Ripple was grand marshal, and his chief aid was Maj. W. S. Miller. The division commanders were Col. F. L. Hitchcock, Maj. Frank Robling, L. P. Wort, H. F. Forber and John Gabbons.

A delegation of the Volunteer Firemen's association of Philadelphia had the honor of occupying the right of line. Mayor Connell and other city and county officials and officers of the State Firemen's association occupied carriages. The prize of $25 for the largest company in line was awarded to the Greensburg fire company of Greensburg, Pa., and a $25 prize went to the Phoenix hose company of East Stroudsburg for the best uniformed company.

Pastors Resign Their Charges.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The Rev. M. B. Patterson, for the last four years pastor of the Mahoning and Harbor United Presbyterian churches in this county, has resigned from both congregations to take effect after the Beaver Valley presbytery acts upon it. The Rev. J. C. Kelley, pastor of the Harlansburg Presbyterian church, has also resigned. He leaves the pulpit to enter Princeton Theological seminary for post graduate work.

Asks for Divorce After 33 Years.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Married in 1872 Peter Stewart is defendant in proceedings for divorce instituted by his wife. The couple were married in Scotland. Stewart was convicted at the September court for abusing his wife and is serving a 60-day sentence in jail. The action of Mrs. Stewart for divorce is based on alleged cruel and brutal treatment on the part of her husband, who beat and kicked her.

Blind Woman Scares Burglars.

LATROBE, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The home of Edward Schultz near Baggaley was burglarized early this morning. The robbers secured two gold watches, a small sum of money and a few trinkets, but missed a wallet containing $250. Schultz started for work before daylight leaving the door unlocked by which the robbers entered. They were frightened away by the screams of Schultz's mother, who is blind.

COUNT WITTE'S DUCKS ARE VICTIMS OF SOME JOKER

WILKES-BARRE, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Count Sergius Witte, the Russian peace envoy, will not get a pair of spotless ducks which were to have been sent to him by Postmaster Slants of Mayfield, an admirer, because some joker has changed their spotless white to a deep, and it is believed, a lasting green.

Postmaster Slants had signified his intention of sending the ducks to Count Witte and this probably inspired the joker. At any rate, the postmaster this morning found the ducks had been painted green, and so well saturated that the green is not likely to wash out.

DISPLAY OF ALL TRADES.

Crowning Feature of Harrisburg's Old Home Week Is a Magnificent Parade.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The trades and educational display today was the biggest and best of the kind ever seen in Harrisburg and the crowning feature of the Old Home week attraction. About 500 decorated wagons and handsome floats were in line, showing every branch of trade from shoemaking to building locomotives and rolling steel plate. There were 21 floats, with a happy party of school children aboard, leading in the industrial division of the procession.

The program for tonight included special religious services in the churches and concert by a chorus of 250 trained voices, and music by 10 massed bands. At the Central church service Rabbi J. Leonard Levy of Pittsburgh preached the sermon. The celebration will close tomorrow evening, with an allegorical and fantastic parade. Saturday there will be football game between State college and the Carlisle Indians.

Meeting of Advisory Board.

HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 5.—At the call of Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon, his advisory board held its first meeting in the offices of the department of health today. There were present Dr. Adolph Koenig of Pittsburgh, Lee Masterson of Johnstown, Dr. Charles H. Penrose of Philadelphia, and Dr. B. H. Warren of West Chester.

Old Soldiers Will Reunite.

KITTANNING, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The Seventy-eighth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, will hold its annual reunion at Ford City Thursday, October 12, and citizens of that town are making elaborate preparations for a reception and entertainment for the veterans. Ex-Judge Rayburn of Kittanning will deliver the address of welcome.

Steel Plant Resumes Operations.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 5.—After an idleness of about two years, the Columbus plant of the Carnegie Steel company, High street, resumed operations today. Over 50 men are employed when the plant is in full operation.

ENDS HER LONG SERVICE.

Mrs. S. L. Keen Resigns as Secretary of Foreign Missionary Society.

WARREN, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. S. L. Keen of Philadelphia, for 32 years corresponding secretary of the Philadelphia Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, addressed the convention here today and resigned her office because of failing health and advanced age. Miss Carrie J. Carnahan of Pittsburgh, was elected to succeed Mrs. Keen.

Mrs. Hopkins of Corry, and Miss Emma A. Fowler of Pittsburgh, were selected as delegates to the meeting of the general executive committee at New York October 26. The First Methodist church at Wilkes-Barre was selected for the meeting place of the convention next year. This evening a Young People's rally was held which was participated in by children representing the societies of the nine conferences of the three states composing the Philadelphia branch.

Masked Robbers Beat Man.

SHARON, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Four masked men waylaid and assaulted G. W. Bovee of West Middlesex last night. He was beaten on the head with a club until unconscious. The robbers secured $75 and escaped.

PASTORS TO PRAY FOR RELIEF FROM FEVER

WILKES-BARRE, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The pastors of typhoid stricken Nanticoke, near here, today united to arrange a series of prayer meetings to pray for relief and the recovery of the many victims. There are now more than 400 cases and a steady increase each day. There have been 30 deaths. A meeting is to be held in each church in turn for the relatives of the victims, who will join the ministers in prayer.

REMAINS OF JUDGE HICE ARE INTERRED AT BEAVER

Beaver Bar Pays a Beautiful Tribute to the Memory of the Dead Barrister. Business Suspended.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BEAVER, Oct. 5.—The funeral of ex-Judge Henry Hice was held from his late home here this afternoon. As two days before when Capt. John P. Drave was buried, all business interests in town suspended during the hours of the funeral. Before the funeral at 1 o'clock a beautiful tribute to Judge Hice was paid his memory by the court and lawyers of the Beaver bar.

Court was convened in the regular manner, after which Judge J. Sharp Wilson, who presided, announced that adjournment would be taken until tomorrow morning out of respect to Judge Hice. Judge Wilson was then made chairman of the Bar association and presided, while short talks were made by several lawyers on the character of Judge Hice, the first judge of this, the Thirty-sixth judicial district of Pennsylvania.

Letters were read from Attorney D. K. Watson and Judge Edwin H. Stowe of Pittsburgh, who were unable to be present. The pallbearers were: Hon. T. N. Kennedy, New Brighton; Earnest Mayer, New Brighton; W. H. Beaver, Beaver Falls; John M. Buchanan, E. J. Allison, W. S. Moore, J. W. Stewart and A. R. Raymer of Beaver. The interment was private in Beaver cemetery.

YOUNG GIRL ELOPES IN BOY'S CLOTHING

HAZLETON, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Miss May Donovan, aged 16 years, of Shenandoah, eloped from her home with Joseph Tito, of this city, who is also a minor, and the couple were married upon their arrival here. In order to elude capture the girl donned a suit of her brother's clothing and drove all the way from Shenandoah to this city with Tito. Nobody suspected the identity of the girl and she made the trip without interference, though the police all along the route were on the lookout for the runaways. Upon their arrival in this city young Tito and the girl went to the former's home, where she attired herself more suitably and was married to her lover.

Elders Hold Annual Meeting.

SCOTTDALE, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The annual session of the Western Pennsylvania Eldership of the Church of God convened in Alverton this morning. An unusual large number of ministers and lay delegates are in attendance. The opening sermon was preached by the Rev. W. H. Guyer of Barkyville, the retiring president.

Dies of Injuries from a Fall.

KITTANNING, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—William Evans, a driller, died at his home in Gobeenville this morning from injuries received through a fall of 35 feet from a tree. Every rib was broken. He leaves a widow and family.

ANOTHER EXCEPTION TO MRS. M'KINLEY'S ACCOUNT

Columbus Buggy Company Claims to Be a Creditor of the Late Abner McKinley's Estate.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

SOMERSET, PA., Oct. 5.—The latest developments in the entangled Abner McKinley estate case was the filing of exceptions to the account of the executrix, Mrs. Annie E. McKinley today, by the Columbus Buggy Company of Columbus, O. They allege Mrs. McKinley has neglected to account for a number of large sums of money, which she received from life insurance policies, which were written by the New York Life Insurance Company and other policies, aggregating about $6,000 or $10,000. They also allege that the policies were changed and that they have a claim against the estate as follows:

"Subsequent to the death of Abner McKinley the sums of money represented by the policies of life insurance and to made payable to Annie E. McKinley by changing the beneficiary as named in the original policies from the estate of Abner McKinley were received by Mrs. Annie E. McKinley, that such change of policies was invalid and in fraud of the rights of the claimant, hence the aforesaid should be charged with the same and be required to account for them as a portion of the assets of the Abner McKinley estate.

That at the time the policies were so changed Abner McKinley was mentally incompetent and insolvent, being unable to pay his debts and was at that time indebted to the claimant in the sum of $900 and his estate is now indebted to the Columbus Buggy Company in the sum of $900, with interest from January 17, 1905." The time in which exceptions may be filed to this account has been extended 10 days.

LARGE AMOUNT FOR AGED MINISTERS

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Today's session of the West Virginia conference of the Methodist Episcopal church was devoted largely to the reading of reports by presiding elders of the various districts of the state. A. J. Clark, chairman of the permanent fund for aged and disabled ministers, reported a balance on hand of $17,000. This afternoon the anniversary of the Freedmen Aid and Southern Educational society was celebrated. This service was featured by a lecture by Prof. Robert A. Armstrong of West Virginia university, on the literature of the Bible.

Burial of the Marrying Parson.

SOMERSET, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The Rev. Benjamin F. Knepper of Wellersburg, this county, who it is said performed more marriage ceremonies than any other minister in the state, was buried in the Reformed church cemetery at Berlin this afternoon, the Revs. Hiram King and A. E. Truxal officiating. The reason the Rev. Mr. Knepper married so many couples was that he lived on the Mason & Dixon line, where no license was required.

CHARLEROI, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The Pittsburgh National league took Charleroi by storm this afternoon and played an exhibition game here before the largest crowd ever assembled on the local grounds. Charleroi showed up well, considering the reputation of its opponents, the final score being 10 to 4. The coming of the Pirates had been heralded in every town of the Monongahela valley and the spectators were wrought to a state of enthusiasm seldom equaled in Charleroi. It is estimated that 2,500 people witnessed the contest, and in addition to this number there were spectators in trees, houses and every available nook who were anxious to see this famous aggregation.

Archie Osborne of this city, who has just finished a highly successful season with the Homestead team, pitched for Charleroi and did fine work, his support being responsible for the majority of Pittsburgh's 10 tallies.

Patritch, a young Charleroi pitcher, was given a try-out in the last two innings.

In spite of the fact that the Magic City boys were a trifle afflicted with stage fright at critical times, the game was fast and interesting throughout, not being as one-sided as might have been expected. Harrell and Abbott each had two hits off Flaherty, Coulson and Fechter having the other two. Fechter did some excellent work at third, as did also Murray, who caught a good game.

Although the Pirates scored four in the first inning Charleroi landed on Flaherty and tied it up. After that he steadied himself and had the game well in hand. Hans Wagner created much merriment by getting caught off the bases twice, and the big Dutchman did not see the joke. For some reason Capt. Clarke did not play, but viewed the contest from the bench. PHILLIES AND GIANTS EACH CAPTURE A GAME

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—In a double-header today the Philadelphia National's broke even with the New York National league champions. Ten thousand persons saw the contests. Lush, the Philadelphia pitcher, who was in the box in the opening game, showed an unusual amount of courage in going back to the box after being hit and stunned by one of Mathewson's high inshoots. Lush got along very nicely until the eighth inning, and then he showed the effects of his injury so plainly that he was forced to retire, but not until he had won his game. Sparks took his place in the final inning and the score at the finish was 4 to 3 in favor of Philadelphia. The second game was called on account of darkness after the visiting team had finished the first half of the sixth inning. Scores:

Chicago Colts Beaten at Youngstown.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 5.—Youngstown won a tight game from the Chicago National league club here today 6 to 5. The good batting of Fohl and a timely hit by Maloney in the last half of the ninth brought the victory. Billy Thomas pitched a good game and was given excellent support. Lundgren was an enigma while he pitched, but he quit after the fourth and Wicker, who took his place, had nothing on the locals. They found him at just the right time. The playing of Fohl and Lobert and a sensational catch by Maloney of the Youngstown team were the features. Score:

PIN KNIGHTS WILL GATHER

Pittsburgh and Monongahela Valley Sections of the County League to Be Completed.

GOOD ANTE-SEASON SCORES

Tonight the Pittsburgh and Monongahela sections of the Allegheny County league will fill out their circuits. The new executive committee of the league will meet at this office at 8 o'clock ready to approve all schedules and act on the make-up of the sections. It is necessary for all the members of the committee to be present. The Pittsburgh section will also meet at this office to report on its work. The section has more applications than necessary, but intends to hold the clubs to 10. The Monongahela Valley section will meet on Seng's alleys in Braddock. The McKeesports, the Arcades of McKeesport and the Wilmerding teams have paid their dues and the section is now complete, thanks to the energetic work of Harry Votel.

Last night the Braddock and East Pittsburgh teams of the Monongahela section came together in a practice game and the Braddock team won two out of three games. There was some remarkably big scores put up in the contest. Aug. Seng had high score of 221, and Votel high average for the evening. The scores:

Braddock team—				E. Pittsburgh—
Bates	139	138	169	Wolfe	169	190	156
Sephs	191	177	181	Hill	187	135	...

Donovan	181	193	193	Kling	201	140	167
				Votel	189	202	202
Totals	389	875	979	Totals	949	815	853

The Braddock duckpin team challenges the Wilkinsburg or any other duckpin team in Allegheny county for a series of home and home games. Address all communications to Aug. Seng, through The Gazette.

The Hillside and Highland teams of the Liberty Valley league play tonight on the Penn avenue alleys. The schedule for next week is as follows:

October 9—Noname vs. Hillside.
October 10—Kenwood vs. Shadyside.
October 12—Meadow vs. Highland.
October 13—Schenley vs. Central.

These matches should all prove very exciting, especially the Kenwood-Shadyside and Schenley-Central contests.

The Mohockes of the Liberty Valley league won all three games from the Meadows. There will be some better scores put up by these teams later on. The scores:

Noname team—				Meadow team—

CHICAGO, Oct. 5

FOWNES, JR., WINS LOW SCORE MEDAL

BRAND IS OPEN CHAMPION

A field of 65 contestants returned cards in the qualifying round of the amateur golf championship competition at the Oakmont Country club yesterday. It was after dark when the last pair got in. W. C. Fownes, Jr., won the low score medal, leading the field home in 163 for the 36 holes. He accomplished the same thing last year, returning a score of 162, two rounds of 81 each.

E. M. Byers was second yesterday with 167 and G. A. Ormiston third with 168. Fownes' 77 for the morning round was the best of the day and gave him a safe lead.

The score of 177 qualified for the championship eight. In the second cup sixteen 166 was safely in and for the third cup sixteen it took 176. C. B. Fownes, J. F. Byers and R. P. Nevin, Jr., were tied at 177 for two places on the championship eight. They will play off this morning till one loses a hole. For the third cup sixteen J. C. Thaw, L. L. Voigt, G. A. Dillinger and Alexander Callow are tied at 197 for three places. They will play off this morning till one of the contestants drops out.

A star attraction of the day was the play-off of tie between Fred Brand and C. H. Rowe for the title of open champion. Brand won, 84 to 85. Brand receives $50, Rowe $30 and Dingwell $20, the first, second and third moneys.

It was another glorious day for golf, but the scores were surprisingly high, especially in the afternoon round. It was accounted for by the very keen greens, the contestants continually overrunning.

This will be the best day of the tournament, for the championship will practically be decided today, although the finals do not come till tomorrow. George A. Ormiston will meet W. C. Fownes, Jr., in the morning round and the winner will be a finalist. In the afternoon this witner will meet E. M. Byers and the winner of that match will in all human probability be the next amateur golf champion of Western Pennsylvania.

W. C. Carnegie was a visitor yesterday, but did not participate in the tournament. It was stated at the Chicago tournament that his uncle, Andrew Carnegie, offered him $1,000,000 if he would win the national championship.

Third cup sixteen—E. M. McMunn versus A. C. Whitcomb; B. H. Evans versus G. S. Proctor; J. T. Moore versus W. H. Haines; J. S. McCormick versus W. A. Nicholson; W. W. Patterson versus F. N. Steiner; S. M. Ament versus W. H. Duff II.; third winner in tie versus W. G. Carr; second winner in tie versus first winner in the tie.

Fred Brand, professional at the Allegheny Country club, defeated Charles H. Rowe, professional at the Beaver Valley Country club, in the play off of the tie of the previous day in the competition to decide the open golf championship of Western Pennsylvania. They were tied at 161 for 36 holes and played off at 18 holes. Brand won by one stroke, their scores being 84 and 85. Quite a gallery followed in the wake of the experts, the match starting at 2 p. m.

Brand took a lead of one stroke at the first hole, Rowe being short on his second. They halved the next in five, rather lucky for Brand, who pulled his tee shot and was short with his second, but Rowe did not get down a 5-foot one for his four. Brand added another stroke at the third after half-topping his brassie when Rowe overran his fourth and took three on the green.

Brand made it three strokes to the good at the fifth hole. Rowe had a good chance to pick up a stroke at the sixth, but took three puts again. Brand did not get down at the seventh and Rowe picked up a stroke, cutting Brand's lead down to two. Rowe missed a 5-foot put at the eighth for a half and Brand had his lead of three again. At the ninth Brand topped, his tee shot was badly out of the rough on his third, Rowe picking up a stroke, Brand being two strokes in the lead at the turn.

Brand gained one at the tenth, Rowe failing on a yard attempt for a half. At the eleventh hole Rowe pulled into the rough and Brand just missed for a three. The latter had now a lead of four strokes. Rowe reduced his lead to three at the thirteenth, but Brand added two at the fifteenth. Rowe missing a 6-foot put and Brand was five strokes to the good. Rowe drove the green at the sixteenth and picked up two strokes. He picked up two more at the seventeenth, Brand topping his drive. The latter had now only a lead of one stroke. They halved the eighteenth in five and Brand established his title as open golf champion of Western Pennsylvania for 1905. Their cards were:

EMIL PAUR QUALIFIES AS MOUNTAIN CLIMBER

Pittsburgh Conductor Spends Best Part of His Vacation Scaling the Tyrolese Alps.

People who have seen Emil Paur leading the Pittsburgh orchestra through the second Hungarian rhapsody or the vigorous overture from "Der Freischuetz" can imagine just how strenuous would be his efforts at mountain climbing. Mr. Paur had never qualified in the third degree until this summer, but when he comes home there will be no room to doubt his ability with the big stick—whether it be flourished at half a hundred musicians or thrust into the Alpine snows. In a word, Mr. Paur has scaled the Tyrolese mountains, and the exercise has more than qualified him for the busy season which lies before him at the Carnegie Music hall.

Mr. Paur last week wrote to some of his Pittsburgh friends and told them of his experiences on his summer vacation. He spent several weeks in Berlin and then went to a little seashore resort up on the North sea. He took an American-made piano along, and it was his constant companion while he remained at the hotels. When he forsook the lowlands, he packed away his instrument, put on a fur coat and took up the mountain-climbers' stick. He has just returned from a six-weeks' excursion through the Tyrol.

Mr. Paur will sail for Pittsburgh on the big ship Amerika on October 12, and is expected to arrive in Pittsburgh on the 25th. He will resume his usual apartments at the Schenley and commence rehearsals immediately for the coming orchestra season.

MOZART CLUB PREPARES FINE PROGRAM OF SONG

Will Give Four Concerts During Season of 1905-'06—Has to Incur Some Heavy Expenses.

The Mozart club, Pittsburgh's famous oratoria society, has prepared a fine program for the season of 1905-1906. On Tuesday, November 7, the club will sing Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah," in answer to many requests for its rendition. Miss Amanda Vierheller will be the solo soprano. On December 28 Handel's oratorio "The Messiah," will be sung, with four able soloists. On January 30 the first part of Elgar's "Dream of Gerontius" will be given. This work was given by the Mozart club last year for the first time in Pittsburgh. On March 6 Haydn's "Creation" will be sung.

It takes money to keep up such an organization as the Mozart club, as a concert with soloists and orchestra cannot be given for less than $300 to $1,200, the club being obliged also to stand heavy charges for rent, music and other things. The club has issued a circular, modestly hinting at its creditable history and asking that as many persons as possible ally themselves as either patrons or associate members.

LIBRARIAN EGGERS GIVES REPORT ON CIRCULATION

At the meeting of the Allegheny library committee last night Librarian E. E. Eggers reported that during September the circulation department issued 6,865 books; the reference department, 4,633; the children's room, 1,712, and the open shelf 1,773. There were 4,081 readers in the reading room, to whom 4,321 periodicals were issued. The total book circulation in September was 11,553, while the books and periodicals issued numbered 15,874, a grand total to date of 4,825,544.

TAKES OFFICER FOR FARMER AND WINDS UP IN PRISON

David Green, aged 19, a Hebrew, residing in Crawford street, was arrested by Officer John J. McGonagle last night on a charge of being a suspicious person. Green sized up Officer McGonagle, who was in plain clothes, for a Washington county farmer, and, approaching him, tried to sell him a "phoney" watch.

Society Elects Its Officers.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The Women's Foreign Missionary society of Redstone presbytery, in session at the First Presbyterian church here, has elected these officers: Mrs. F. M. Marsh, Mt. Pleasant, president; Mrs. J. W. Bailie, McKeesport, vice president at large; Mrs. F. G. Harrison, McKeesport, recording secretary; Miss M. E. McClintock, Carmichaels, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. C. Bierer, treasurer.

Open Session With Prayer.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The 31st annual convention of the W. C. T. U. of Pennsylvania was opened with the delegates' prayer meeting in the First Presbyterian church this evening. Following the prayer meeting an informal reception was tendered the visiting delegates by the local W. C. T. U. The first important session will be held tomorrow morning, beginning at 8:30.

SECRET PRACTICE BY THE W. U. P.'S

Nobody Allowed to See the Kickers at Work Beginning Monday Afternoon.

COLLEGE ELEVENS ARE BUSY

"Beginning next Monday, we will hold secret practice each day at Exposition park to which no one will be admitted who has not a special order from myself or Manager Thompson." The occasion of this declaration by Coach Mosse yesterday, the discovery that two suspicious characters sought to bribe their way into the grounds during practice yesterday. The men were refused admission. Signal work is humming along merrily these days in preparation for Saturday's contest. Mosse expects to use many men in this game, as this will be the first real opportunity of getting a line on each man's ability. Harry Frye, whose work in this capacity was so highly satisfactory last season, has been chosen by the Westminster authorities to referee the battle. The other officials have not been selected as yet, but will be announced before Saturday morning. Walter East, who has been in town for two or three days, appeared in uniform yesterday for the first time this season. East will not play in the opening game. Miller will likely start at right end, in contrast to the favorable conditions of the last week, the sick list has again assumed formidable proportions. Rice was confined to his bed, while Frank Griggs, Swenson and W. Banbury are in poor shape temporarily. Capwell and Klawuhn are laid up with sprained shoulders.

The coach introduced new features into practice. A tackling dummy has been rigged up out beyond center field, and the candidates were instructed to work out their spite on it. Three hours of signal practice were supplemented by a lively game of association football.

A record crowd is expected at Saturday's game, and due preparations are being made. Several hundred students from the different departments, who have been drilling on a bunch of famous old Wup yells, will parade the downtown streets before the game and proceed in a body to Friendship park.

Yale.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 5.—Frank A. Hinkey, former captain of Yale's football eleven, has redoubled his search for an end rush or two to make a pair with Captain Shevlin. The poor work in yesterday's game by Stuart and Congdon was taken as a problem by the coaching staff that must be solved at once. Oates, who is the track team captain, has promised to report in 10 days. Captain Shevlin got into the scrimmaging today for the first time in 10 days. He played strongly, winning out in a stern chase for Linn, a halfback, when the latter skirted the varsity line and had a clear field for goal. Shevlin caught and pulled him down. Owing to the heat, practice was short. Play was marred by much fumbling, probably because almost all who played yesterday were given a rest and the scrubs were not well balanced as teams.

Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 5.—Harry Bradley, a graduate of Groton school and candidate for an end position on the Harvard freshman eleven, fractured his skull this afternoon during a fierce scrimmage between two freshmen elevens. Bradley was rendered unconscious in the mixup, and when taken to the locker building a hurried examination revealed a fractured skull. He was conveyed to his home in East Boston and several experts were called to attend him. It was the first serious accident this season at Cambridge and cast a deep gloom over freshman circles.

Few of the Harvard varsity regulars figured in today's line-up on account of the hard game put up by Bowdoin yesterday. Coach Reid had the entire squad closeted in the locker building for some time and gave the men a stiff lecture for the miserable punting and fumbling shown in that contest. At the conclusion of the dumbbell drill there was a long session on punting and falling on the ball, after which the two elevens were lined up for scrimmage work. Montgomery, a sub end last fall, replaced Brill at left tackle, and Cavanee, a new candidate from the law school, took Squires' berth at right tackle. Harker had the signals at left-guard and White succeeded Cunniff at center. Timmins, a senior, directed the plays at quarterback and at fullback Carr and Corbett were tried out. Neither team was able to score in the 15-minute periods. The scrubs held the varsity several times for downs. Tomorrow afternoon Coach Reid will put the regular varsity team in action.

Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 5.—Practice today consisted of two hot 10-minute halves and the work was of a rather encouraging nature, especially in regard to the defense. The scrub was unable to make any openings in the line and had to play an open game to accomplish much. Otis made a touchdown for the varsity and then at one time the ball was brought within a few yards of the scrub goal, but was lost on a fumble. Among the most conspicuous on the field was Harlan, who is still being tried at the scrub quarter. He made some good gains and did some excellent punting. Two other scrub men that distinguished themselves were Fryer and Vaughan, the ends, who were remarkably efficient. One feature of the varsity work was the activity with which the backs dove through the line and some good gains were made in this way. The scrubs held the varsity for down once and exhibited a very consistent defense. Dillon is still out of the game with an injured hand. McCormick will appear tomorrow.

W. & J.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 5.—The candidates for the Washington and Jefferson football team are having a merry fight for positions. Several players who have occupied places on the varsity and who are thought to have their positions cinched are now playing with the scrubs. The coach is endeavoring in every possible way to bolster up the team and is trying all sorts of combinations. The practice today was an unusually stiff one. As in yesterday's work the entire varsity back field was placed behind the scrub line. Varsity held much better today, however, and the second team could make but few appreciable gains. The final practice tomorrow before Saturday's game with Ohio university will be a hard one.

U. of P.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—Dr. "Joe" McCracken, the famous University of Pennsylvania football player, will go to China as a medical missionary. Dr. McCracken was asked to go to China last spring by Thomas Evans, secretary of the University Christian association. The doctor has been an enthusiastic member of this association since he entered the university in 1898. For three years he was its president, and his interest in the work, coupled together with his winning personality and ability to rapidly make friends, led the authorities to pick him out as the man capable of successfully carrying the mission on.

While it is understood that Dr. McCracken is to go to Canton as a missionary the main object of the mission is to look over the field and investigate conditions with a view of establishing a medical school there. To do this would require long work, and should Dr. McCracken decide to accept the task he would be gone for at least five years.

Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Coach Warner gave the Cornell varsity another radical shakeup today by changing Capt. Costello to right tackle, his last year's position, and shifting Halliday to fullback, where he is needed as a line plunger and punter. The giant guard, Thompson, was shifted to the left position, and Downs was placed at right guard.

It now looks as though the regular varsity backfield will be Rice, Walders and Martin, halfbacks, and Halliday, fullback. Martin, formerly a baseball man, has been showing rapid development, and with his weight and strength is most likely to hold the place permanently. The freshman team, under the direction of Coach Louder, was given its first trial against the varsity, composed largely of subs, this afternoon. Except for a sensational 80-yard run for a touchdown by Rice, the first year men played the varsity off its feet. Witting and McCutcheon were able to keep the ball in varsity ground a large share of the time by fine line plunging, and McCutcheon surprised every one by his fine punting.

State.

STATE COLLEGE, PA., Oct. 5.—Arrangements have been made here for the sending of a big student delegation to the State-Carlisle Indian football game on Saturday. State, however, will not go into the contest with the expectation of winning. The strength of the Carlisle Indians is too well known here for that, and then, again, the Indians have more old and tried men on their eleven this year than State, the latter's team being made up mostly of new material. Coach Golden, with his assistants, have put in a few days of hard work this week getting the team into the best possible shape for the struggle. The coaching this week was along the line of defense so far as the linemen were concerned, and offense for the back field. There has been some marked improvement noticeable, especially when it comes to getting down the field after the ball. Coach Golden will take with him to Harrisburg a squad of about 30 men. The game will be started with practically the same lineup that went in against the California Normal team here last Saturday, with the exception that Moorehead will likely go in at quarter at the opening of the game.

W. U. P. Freshmen.

W. U. P. freshmen organized their class football team and elected J. R. Holliday of E. L. A. last year, captain, and G. S. McFeeters of Sharpsville last year, manager. They would like to hear from all school teams in Western Pennsylvania.

Gallant.

The Gallant A. A. will play the California Y. M. C. A. team at California on Saturday. The Gallants are in good shape.

RODGERS ENTERS DENIAL.

City Solicitor Says He Never Told Superintendent Wallace He Could Not Close Chartered Clubs.

City Solicitor William B. Rodgers yesterday denied he ever informed Superintendent "Buck" Wallace he had no legal right to raid speakeasies and gambling houses operating under a charter. The attorney said Wallace was not going to mix him in his troubles. Wallace alleged Rodgers informed him he had no right to investigate a club which was a chartered organization.

"I will not permit Wallace or any other person to place me in a false light," said the city solicitor. "A charter does not protect a gambling house or a speakeasy. Wallace has every right to enter such places and close them."

Elections in Two Churches.

Annual congregational meetings were held by two Braddock churches last night. At the Calvary Presbyterian church Prof. Samuel Hamilton, W. S. Colmery and George Smith were re-elected elders. New deacons elected were Samuel Stewart, Isaac A. Werter and Harry Sickler. F. G. Bishoff was elected Sunday school superintendent. The First Presbyterian congregation elected Edward McCrady, John J. Walker, Thomas M. Larimer and William Fausett trustees.

Aged Lady Passes Away.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mary Bella Lowes, aged 76 years, wife of the Rev. A. B. Lowes, died at her home in Main street this afternoon. She came to this county when but a child from Mercersburg, Pa., where she was born. In 1855 she was married to the Rev. A. B. Lowes, who survives her. Two children, a son and a daughter, also survive.

Vicious Dog Attacks Little Girl.

CONNELLSVILLE, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—Mary Carolina, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Soisson, was attacked and her body terribly torn today by a large dog owned by a foreigner. She was playing in front of her home in Patterson avenue. The dog was killed and its head sent to the Mercy hospital, Pittsburgh.

SOCIETY

A CONTINUOUS round of entertainment has been arranged by the Sewickley Heights colony for horse show week, beginning next Tuesday, and out-of-town visitors will be entertained at many homes. Mr. and Mrs. William Walter Willock will have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Dan R. Hanna of Cleveland, O., and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Herbert of Lakewood, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McK. Cook of Allegheny will go down to stay with the latter's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Harold Childs. Mr. and Mrs. Willock will start the social ball by giving a barn dance on Monday evening. For nearly each afternoon during the week there is an informal house tea scheduled and the Allegheny Country club will be the scene of numerous smartly appointed affairs. Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Jones, Jr., will give a breakfast at the club on Tuesday and on the following morning Mrs. Willock will entertain a number of ladies at breakfast at the same place. On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Hermon Griffin will be host and hostess at dinner, this function to be followed by a dance at "Wilpen hall," the home of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Snyder, who will also give a dinner on Friday evening. Mrs. Elizabeth M. Horne will also entertain during the week, she having selected Thursday as the day for a breakfast. The horse show will be brought to a close by a dinner dance at the country club on the Heights on Thursday evening. This affair gives every promise of being especially brilliant.

Stroyd-Owen.

Miss Alice Stroyd and Richard Owen were married last evening at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stroyd, in McPherson boulevard. The Rev. David L. Ferris, assistant rector of Calvary Protestant Episcopal church, solemnized the marriage at 8 o'clock, the attendants including the maid of honor, Miss Helen Reichard. Miss Edith Walker as flower girl, and the best man, Harry E. McLain. Instead of the usual veil the bride wore a wreath of white roses in her hair. She carried a cluster of the same flowers and her gown was of white mousseline, with lace trimmings. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace, which had been presented to her by Mr. Owen. The maid of honor wore white mull and carried a bouquet of white roses and maidenhair ferns, while the flower girl, carrying a basket of white roses, wore white point d'esprit. White roses, lilies of the valley, palms and ferns were used to decorate the house. Mr. and Mrs. Owen have announced Thursdays in November as at-home days in Hamilton avenue.

Mrs. Iams Is Hostess.

Mrs. Franklin P. Iams of Sheraden was hostess yesterday afternoon at a large reception, the hours for which were divided into two sets, from 2 until 4 and from 3 until 5 o'clock. The honors of the affair were given to Mrs. Jay Donald Iams, a daughter-in-law of the hostess, who was Miss Grace Donnan of Washington, Pa., prior to her marriage over a year ago. The arrangement of the floral decorations was exceedingly beautiful. The afternoon's entertainment was followed by an informal supper for the aids, who were Mrs. Alvan Donnan and Miss Lucy Donnan of Washington, Pa., Mrs. George B. Motheral, Mrs. Harry S. Keith, Mrs. Edward Stieren, Mrs. Charles S. Crawford, Mrs. D. P. Jones, Mrs. John Purman, Mrs. William J. Sheraden, Mrs. James McClure, Mrs. William Leatherman, Mrs. John Hall, Mrs. Edward E. Crocker, Mrs. Levi Bird Duff, Mrs. Simon R. Huss, Mrs. George B. Schleuderberg, Mrs. Philip I. Whitman and Mrs. G. A. F. Ahlberg.

Debutante Teas.

A December debutante will be Miss Hester Singer, Mr. and Mrs. George Harton Singer's only daughter, who will be introduced at a tea which her mother will give on Tuesday afternoon, the 10th. The affair will take place at the Allegheny home of the Singers in Park place.

One of the earliest buds will be Miss Helen Ayres, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Ayres of Morewood avenue. Mrs. Ayres will be hostess at a tea on Thursday, November 9, for her daughter. This will be followed on the next Wednesday, November 15, by Mrs. Thomas W. Bakewell's tea for her daughter, Miss Euphemia Bakewell. Mrs. Gilbert Black's daughter, Miss Evelyn Black, will have no formal coming out, but it is in her honor an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Snyder, will give their dance at "Wilpen Hall," Sewickley Heights, next Wednesday evening.

Gives Pink and White Tea.

Pink and white were the colors carried out at the charming little tea given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. William Keller of Thomas boulevard. The honors of the occasion were shared by Mrs. Edward Friebertshauser and Miss Alice Thomas, both cousins of the hostess, the former a bride of June and the latter a bride-elect of this month. Mrs. Keller and her two honor guests received together, assisted by Mrs. M. W. Everson, Mrs. J. H. Horton, Mrs. G. H. Swallow, Mrs. J. R. Hill, Mrs. William L. Clarke, Mrs. T. E. Wirsing, Mrs. Grant Murray, Mrs. George Murray, Mrs. Nellie Lloyd, Miss Rachael Thomas, Miss Ida Wilson, Miss Lloyd, Miss Jane Lloyd, Miss Grace Crocker of Cambridge, Mass., and Miss Elizabeth Smith of Hartford, Ind.

Recent Bride Is Honor Guest.

It was a beautifully appointed reception which Mrs. J. G. Patterson gave yesterday afternoon. The affair was conducted from 3 until 6 o'clock at the Patterson home in Stanton avenue, with Mrs. James Patterson of Dravosburg, a daughter-in-law of the hostess and a bride of June, as the guest of honor. The reception was followed by a dinner for the aids and an equal number of men, the former including Mrs. Robert M. Russell, Mrs. Humphries Miller, Miss Laura Crump, Miss Mary Henderson, Mrs. William Nelson Taylor, Mrs. John E. Shaw, Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. William Crump, Mrs. W. S. Van Dyke, Mrs. Charles Seely, and Mrs. Clarence Van Dyke Tiers.

Clark-McDaniel.

The engagement of Miss Kathryn Clark, daughter of County Commissioner James A. Clark, to Bruce McDaniel will terminate in their wedding on October 25. Owing to a recent death in the groom's family it will be a quiet affair, taking place at the home of the bride's parents in Park avenue at 8 o'clock in the evening, with the Rev. Dr. George W. Chalfant officiating. The bride's attendants will be Miss Edna Beaver and Miss Edna Keppel, and Mr. McDaniel will have as his best man Frank Rossing. Several affairs have been arranged in Miss Clark's honor, the first of which will be a miscellaneous shower to be given by her maids tomorrow afternoon.

Goodman-Watkins.

A wedding ceremony of unusual interest was that of Miss Dorothy Goodman and Clarence V. Watkins, both of Allegheny, which was performed by the Rev. E. L. Eaton, pastor of the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, yesterday morning. The bridal couple left immediately on an eastern trip. The wedding was a quiet event, taking place at the parsonage, the only attendants being Miss Ann B. Goodman, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and Walter H. Nichol as best man. At-home cards announce days after November 15 at Ritchey avenue, Allegheny.

Euchre and Fancy Work.

A charmingly appointed affair of the autumn was Mrs. James J. Campbell's euchre and fancy work which she gave in the Oakmont Boat club house yesterday afternoon. Eleven tables were in play, with six-hand euchre as the game. The prizes went to Mrs. Arthur Vining Davis, Mrs. Harry S. Paul, Mrs. John Crookston, Mrs. G. A. Moecklel, all of Oakmont, and Mrs. L. L. Strouss of the East End. The entire club house was decorated in red, carnations, dahlias and scarlet sage being the flowers used.

Mrs. Arrott Entertains.

Mrs. James W. Arrott of Beaver avenue, Sewickley, entertained yesterday with "500" in honor of Mrs. Hugh J. Murdock of Rochester, N. Y., who is visiting her mother, Mrs. John McMillan of Chestnut street, Sewickley. Mrs. Arrott was assisted by her sister-in-law, Mrs. William Arrott. There were about 30 guests. Mrs. Arrott will be hostess at a similar affair this afternoon.

Stewart-Williams.

Miss Leonora McMasters Stewart, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Robert E. Stewart of North Braddock, was married to Edward Rolfe Williams of Homestead at 5:30 o'clock last evening, at the First United Presbyterian church, Braddock, in the presence of 500 guests. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George E. Hawes, pastor of the church. After an extensive wedding tour, Mr. and Mrs. Williams will live in Homestead, where Mr. Williams is employed by the Carnegie Steel Company.

Reception and Housewarming.

Mrs. R. C. McQuiston of "Grace Hill," Bartlett street, East End, has issued cards for a large reception on Friday afternoon, October 20, from 3 until 6 o'clock. The affair will be in the nature of a house-warming for the new home of the hostess, who will have as her assistants Mrs. T. C. Morgan, Mrs. H. W. Neely, Mrs. T. C. Hartley, Miss Rhion McKee and Miss Pagnie McQuiston, while Mrs. A. B. Dias of Cleveland, O., will receive with her.

Among the Clubs.

Ohio State Federation.

The annual meeting of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs will open in Zanesville on Wednesday, October 25. This will be the week following the annual meeting of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women to be held in Cambridge Springs. A year ago the Ohio federation was divided into four districts, while its departments of work were made to co-ordinate with the departments of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The meeting in Zanesville is to be a business convention and social affairs will be eliminated, the compromise being an informal reception in the parlors of the Clarendon hotel on Wednesday evening, October 25. One of the features of the convention will be the visit arranged for the delegates and other visitors to the potteries. The convention will continue three days.

The officers of the Ohio federation are: President, Mrs. Edward L. Buchwalter, Springfield; vice president, Mrs. William Murdock, Akron; district vice presidents, Southeast district, Mrs. Lena Kline Reed, Portsmouth; Northeast district, Mrs. Howard Huckins, Oberlin; Northwest district, Mrs. Henry B. Harris, Defiance; Southwest district, Mrs. R. J. DeVore, Glendale; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Joseph B. Cartmell, Springfield; recording secretary, Miss Peachy, Cincinnati; treasurer, Mrs. Edwin F. Moulton, Warren; auditor, Mrs. Henry E. Beebe, Sidney; federation secretary, Mrs. Charles Insco Williams, Dayton.

Open New Optical Ward.

The formal opening of a new optical ward at the Passavant hospital was an interesting feature of the annual reception and donation day at that institution yesterday. The ward, completely equipped for the treatment of eye diseases, was presented by Dr. Edward Stieren, himself a well-known specialist in that particular branch of medical and surgical work. There were no patients in the ward yesterday and the visitors to the hospital were given an opportunity to thoroughly inspect both the ward and its equipment. The donation day was successful. Many donations were received in money to be used for lessening the debt and for the maintenance of the institution and for its equipment, together with a large number of hospital supplies including bed linen, toweling and other articles used in the hospital and delicacies for the sick. The debt now resting on the east wing and the laundry addition is $7,624 12, while $7,781 34 is the amount of the debt on the sisters' home and the nurses' home. Last year 1,333 patients were treated in the hospital, with 370 outdoor patients. There were 25,647 nursing days, of which one-fifth were free. This made an average of 14 patients treated free every day in the year. The entire hospital was thrown open to the visitors yesterday, the receiving hours being from 2 until 5 in the afternoon and from 7 until 9 in the evening. Members of the Ladies' Aid society served refreshments.

Inspection of Block House.

An all-day reception was held yesterday at the old block house. Members of the Pittsburgh chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, were received by the board of directors in charge of the property. Miss Matilda Denny, president of the board, personally welcoming the visitors to the new custodian's lodge.

The little historic building was crowded during the day, many of the visitors registering. Many climbed the steep ladder to the floor above. Souvenirs were for sale and many of the daughters carried away trinkets and pictures, whose sale adds to the fund for the maintenance of the block house property. This afternoon at 2 o'clock the regular meeting of the Pittsburgh chapter will be held in the Twentieth Century club.

Elected Delegates.

Delegates to the annual meeting of the Graduate Nurses' association of Pennsylvania were elected at the monthly meeting of the Alumnae association of the Homeopathic hospital training school for nurses. The delegates are Miss Wilhelmina Duncan, Miss Ida Giles, Miss Eleanor Locke, Miss Belle Jones and Mrs. George O. Loeffler. The state meeting will be held in New Castle October 17, 18 and 19.

The annual meeting of the Quadru-County Graduate Nurses' society will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Free Dispensary building, Federal street. The annual election of officers will be conducted.

Hold Adjourned Meeting.

An adjourned meeting of the United Presbyterian Women's association will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the assembly room of the Publication building, Ninth street, to consider plans for the opening of the new Columbia hospital in Penn avenue, Wilkinsburg, and also for the opening of the training school for nurses. This business was not completed at the regular monthly meeting of the association held last Friday.

Tourist Club's Presidents' Day.

Presidents' day will be observed by the Tourists club on Monday in the room of the Business Women's club, 515 Arch street, Allegheny. The invitations include the president and one other officer of all of the federated clubs of Pittsburgh and vicinity. No notices will be sent to the members of the Tourists.

ROYAL Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

A GRAPE CREAM OF TARTAR BAKING POWDER

FREE FROM ALUM, LIME, OR PHOSPHATIC ACID

Alum baking powders are unhealthful. Do not use them for raising food under any circumstances. So detrimental are alum baking powders considered, that in most foreign countries their sale is prohibited. In many States in this country the law compels alum powders to be branded to show that they contain this dangerous acid, while in the District of Columbia, Congress has prohibited the sale of all food that contains alum.

Alum baking powders are sold to consumers at from 10 cents a pound to 25 ounces for 25 cents, or 25 cents a pound, and when not branded may generally be distinguished by their price.

Pleases All Lovers of Good Music

Now that the Fall and Winter Season is at hand, music naturally will be one of the chief sources of entertainment for some months.

There is an abundance of music—and of pianos—well, there is a variety of makes "too numerous to mention." However, the thoroughly satisfactory pianos can be counted on a few fingers.

Among the instruments at the top of the list none commands more general respect and admiration than

THE KRAKAUER

The Krakauer is distinctly high class—an embodiment of all the more scientific features which experience has taught are indispensable in a piano appealing to persons of discrimination.

If you are looking for a piano whose merit is absolutely guaranteed—one whose fame is widespread—it is in your interest that we suggest that you make a thorough investigation of The Krakauer—which is worthy of any family or any occasion.

Distinctly high class, but not the highest priced.

Obtainable on payments if you desire.

UNION LEAGUE CLUB CASE UP

County Detectives' Raid of Rooms in Wylie Avenue Is Being Aired in Court.

BANK CANNOT HOLD OFFICE

Marshal Ruff, "Kid" Bates, George Potter and James Parker, said to be officers of the Union League Republican club at 712 Wylie avenue, a place that was raided by county detectives when "Buck" Wallace's policemen failed to find disorder in the house, were on trial before Judge Brown yesterday in criminal court. All the defendants are negroes and are charged with selling liquor without a license, and on Sunday, and keeping a gambling house. The case has attracted considerable attention on account of the fact that the club was supposed to be a chartered affair. Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb, Jr., is prosecuting the case and Attorney James F. Burke is looking after the interests of the defendants.

Mr. Burke made a motion to quash the indictments on the ground that the first indictment presented to the grand jury had been ignored and the case sent back to another grand jury, which, he alleged, was something illegal. Judge Brown ruled against him.

Chief County Detective Robinson testified regarding the order to raid the club from District Attorney Stewart. Detective John W. Reed stated that with Detective Frank Sonnefeld and Constable Thomas A. Joyce he raided the club on August 31 and again on September 5. He said liquor was being sold and gambling being carried on. Reed told of visiting the club on different occasions while dozens of negroes were shooting craps and men and women were sitting around drinking liquor. Reed stated that the only one of the defendants he had ever seen in the club was Potter, who was working at the crap table.

Attorney Burke asked Reed about his connection with a certain Dauphin club and about drinking in the Commercial club, but he denied knowing anything about either club, except in his capacity as a detective. Detective Sonnefeld and Constable Joyce corroborated Reed's testimony regarding the raids on the club.

Club's Bartender Interesting Witness.

John Rolls, who acted as bartender for the club until he was sent to the workhouse for six months for running a disorderly house a short time ago, was brought down from that institution to testify for the commonwealth. He appeared to be an unwilling witness. Rolls said he had been bartender since the opening of the club and thought it was chartered. He said the "club" had bought its charter from a man in Fifth avenue for $100 and the man had told the "club" it was all right. Rolls said he received his salary from Marshal Ruff and had been instructed not to serve liquor to anyone not a member. Rolls said there were many members, but he could not remember any names besides the four defendants, his brother and himself. He could not remember whether liquor had been sold to women or on Sunday.

Half a dozen negroes were called who testified that they were not members of the club but had purchased liquor. In each case the men admitted that they were employed as janitors in the Frick building, and Attorney Burke tried to prove by them that Night Superintendent Wills of the Frick building was back of the prosecution on account of having a personal grudge against Ruff, one of the defendants. Each of the witnesses denied this, however.

Attorney Burke then showed them the membership book of the club in which they had been entered as members. They admitted to having signed the membership blanks but said they did not consider themselves members, as it was recognized as a formality gone through to get the necessary drinks.

Bank Ousted as Treasurer.

A judgment of ouster was granted by Judge Frazer in the suit against the First National bank of Sheraden to test its right to act as treasurer of Sheraden borough. Two points were raised in the suit—one questioned the right of a national bank to act as treasurer for a municipality and the other related to the failure of the bank to file a bond as treasurer.

Judge Frazer says that under the act of congress national banks are created to carry on the banking business. There is nothing in the law giving power to accept public office, and it is clear that congress never contemplated the assuming of such power. The duties of borough treasurer are not necessary to the bank's existence nor incidental to its business; in fact, they are entirely foreign to a legitimate banking business. The court says it has been the policy of congress to confine national banks to the banking business, and it is clearly of the opinion that national banks are not authorized to act as borough treasurers.

Judge Frazer finds also that the failure to give bond as required by the act of 1851 is fatal. Under that act until the bond has been given the treasurer cannot act, and it is not sufficient to say that the proper officers failed to fix the amount of the bond.

In the present case it appears to the court that the bank acting as borough treasurer has been of advantage to the borough, but that cannot be considered. It is the duty of the court to pass on purely legal questions without regard to the motives actuating the proceedings or the benefits accruing to the parties.

Suit to recover $5,000 for alleged slander was entered by Nettie Milford against Edward Selgwarth and Katherine Selgwarth.

Acquitted of Charge of Murder.

Leonard Geduli, the Italian boy charged with killing Guiseppi Folo on Nansen street, Hazelwood, was acquitted yesterday. The jury went out shortly after 1 o'clock and returned with the verdict that set Geduli free at 4:30. The only defense put in was the testimony of several character witnesses.

An affidavit of defense was filed in the case of W. H. Brown against Isadore Goldstein, an action to recover commission on the sale of property at 28 Chatham street. It is alleged that the plaintiff had an offer for the property at $17,500 at the time he persuaded affiant to sell it for $13,000, and that the plaintiff did actually resell the property a short time after for $17,500. The defendant now says that the plaintiff, not having acted in good faith when he was acting as his agent, caused the defendant to lose the difference in the selling of the property of $4,500, and that the plaintiff is not entitled to recover any commission on the sale.

Gustave A. Jahn & Co. of New York sued Lowenstein Brothers Co. to recover $501.32 for merchandise sold to the defendant.

A libel in divorce was filed by Laura B. Gray against Robert C. Gray on a charge of desertion.

Executions issued: Louis Dauenhauer against August Mauritz, $423; Sarah Guedeman against John B. Bell, $1,080.50; Justus Mutert, trustee in bankruptcy of the Highland Brewing Company, against Marshall Taylor, $471.22; J. Moll. Reinhart against Charles H. Harrison, $1,268.85.

A charter was granted to Subordinate circle No. 1, Homeless 26.

Date for Marshall's Trial Set.

Arthur G. Marshall, charged with several alleged insurance frauds, will be called for trial next Thursday and witnesses in the cases are being summoned. Frank D. Dunbar, who is also wanted in connection with the alleged frauds, has not yet been captured.

Missouri Lifts Quarantine.

WARRENSBURG, MO., Oct. 5.—Secretary J. A. B. Adcock of the state board of health issued an order today that the quarantine instituted in Missouri because of yellow fever in the south, is rescinded, effective October 7.

Too Much Worry.

Worry kills more people than disease. It turns our hair gray; draws wrinkles on our face, places lines of care on our brow. We worry because we have too much to do. We worry because we have nothing to do. We worry about our friends. Make our friends wonder at our impatient and irritable nature, and if we don't take the trouble to learn the great secret we will worry ourselves into the grave. Worry is caused by a diseased stomach. Lactonene Dyspepsia Tablets cure it. Get them today. A contented mind is surely yours—the greatest blessing man or woman can have. "Ask the Druggist."

CONTINUED TIGHT MONEY DID NOT AFFECT STOCKS

Prices Closed Higher Under the Lead of the Industrials—Foreign Markets Depressed—Local Securities Averaged Lower.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market was less active yesterday, the sales for the day footing up only 550,000 shares, but prices were steady to firm and closed higher, under the lead of the industrials. The rally was in the face of tight money, which seems to be world-wide.

The governors of the bank of England at their weekly meeting did not raise the minimum rate of discount, but the report for the week indicated the strain upon the London money market. Despite the reduction of $14,530,000 in loans there was a decrease of more than $14,000,000 in reserve, and the percentage of reserve to liability fell to 38.00 per cent, which is unusually low. A dispatch from Paris stated that the bank of France had shipped $4,400,000 gold to London during the day, and this was almost the exact amount of the loss in gold reported by the bank of France for the week. The latter institution also reported an increase of $5,310,000 in loans, which was extremely small by comparison with the weekly report of the imperial bank of Germany last Monday, which showed an expansion of more than $77,000,000 in loans. Foreign security markets were depressed, American stocks in London being down ¼ to ⅜ per cent, and English consols showing a decline of 3-16 per cent for the day, while the decline for the past two weeks has amounted to 1 per cent.

London was a seller of American securities on balance in New York, but as soon as this selling ceased the stock market rallied. Wall street was informed of foreign conditions before the hour of beginning business, and in view of the firmness of money both in London and on the continent, traders were prepared to see higher quotations here. In this they were not disappointed. The range on call loans to stock exchange borrowers was between 6 and 8 per cent with an average of about 7 per cent. It was reported that some call loans had been made privately as high as 10 per cent, but this was not an official quotation. At the very time when rates were highest the stock market was firmest, and in the more important stocks final sales were at net advances.

The iron and steel group, particularly the minor issues, were quite strong during the greater portion of the day. There was a sharp rally in Republic preferred to 95⅞ on the report that the directors were considering a plan for financing the deferred dividends, and the common stocks rallied, reaching 25⅜. United States Steel common recovered to 38⅞ and the preferred to 106⅝, and both closed at net gains. Cast Iron Pipe common closed ½ higher and American Car and Foundry ¾ per cent higher than on Wednesday. All departments of the iron and steel trade are buoyant, and the urgent demand for coke at higher prices for future delivery is an indication of sentiment regarding the outlook for the industry.

The smelting and copper stocks also made good recoveries, although they did not close at the highest prices of the day. It was reliably reported that large sales of copper metal had been made at 17 cents, and there were confident predictions of an increase in the dividend rate on American Smelting common, which recovered to 130¾ and closed with an advance of 1⅛ per cent.

There was some irregularity in the railroad list, and prominent issues like Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific and Louisville & Nashville closed unchanged for the day. Pennsylvania was a strong feature of the late dealings and closed 1 per cent higher for the day. Baltimore & Ohio closed ⅝ higher and Reading and Erie each ¾ higher.

While the stock market held surprisingly strong, the principal buying was thought to be covering of shorts put out earlier in the week on the theory that the higher prices for money would cause liquidation. There has been no liquidation to speak of and no perceptible increase in outside buying.

There was a decided increase in the volume of business on the Pittsburgh stock exchange, but it was mainly in low-priced issues, and values averaged lower. Crucible Steel common declined from 13½ to 13¼ on the sales of 1,600 shares. The preferred declined from 68½ to 68⅛, but closed firm. It is expected that the annual report will be mailed to stockholders tonight, and all the forecasts are of a favorable tenor. Manufacturers Light and Heat was firm at 36 to 36¼, and Philadelphia Company common rallied to 48¾. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas sold at 6⅝ to 16 and closed at 64 bid, 66½. American Sewer Pipe was one of the strongest stocks on the list and advanced fa 22¾ at the close. The gossip relating to the stock was that an account that had been hanging over the market had been liquidated, and that the stock was now in a position to rally.

Just before the close some weakness developed in National Fire Proofing preferred, which broke from 26 to 25. The decline was due to the announcement that the directors had met to consider the bond proposition, but had reached no conclusion, bids for the issues being reported as unsatisfactory. Another meeting of the board will be held next week, when it is expected that the matter will be definitely disposed of.

Pittsburgh Coal preferred also turned weak in the late dealings and on light sales declined from 58½ to 57½. There were no transactions in the common. River Coal common sold at 8, a decline of ¼ from the last previous sale. Small lots of Westinghouse Air Brake sold at 149 to 150. There were no sales of Electric. Mining shares were active and lower. Ohio Tonopah declined to and closed at 24 cents. Lustre, after selling at 37½, reacted to 36¾. United Copper sold unchanged at 24. There were no dealings in bonds and prices were steady and unchanged.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows: Available cash balances, $138,831,476; gold coin and bullion, $95,-647,594; gold certificates, $48,388,880; silver coin and bullion, $6,958,012; silver certificates, $4,502,-495; United States notes, $9,930,360; treasury notes of 1890, $16,103; national bank notes, $14,-940 614; total receipts this month, $8,000,587; total receipts this year, $153,021,806; total expenditures this month, $8,450,000; total expenditures this year, $165,038,957.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH	IN WALL STREET
Bank exchanges increased $1,200,000 for the day.	Stock market rallied in the face of tight money.
Stock market was fairly active, but prices averaged lower.	Trading less active, but prices closed firm.
National Fire Proofing preferred broke from 26 to 25.	Sales included 551,800 shares stock and $2,498,000 bonds.
Pittsburgh Coal preferred sold off from 58½ to 57½.	Iron and Steel and Smelting stocks led the advance.
Crucible Steel declined slightly, but closed firm.	Pennsylvania led the late rally in the railroad list.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Wall street is beginning to revise its opinion of the future of the money market. Last week it was thought that the stringency would last but a few days, until syndicate transactions were out of the way and quarterly settlements were completed. But the strength of foreign money markets suggests that the only way we will be able to attract gold from Europe is by bidding a higher rate of interest for it. The high rates for call loans to stock exchange borrowers yesterday had the effect of attracting funds from outside sources, and there were large offerings on account of banking institutions at other points. These funds, however, were drawn for the most part from deposits in New York banks. The effect was the same as the process of transfer of loans from the New York banks to the trust companies, which has been going on for several weeks, the new loans necessitating to some extent the calling of old loans by the New York banks. Some of the recent lenders among the trust companies were reported also to be among those calling loans yesterday. A rise in New York exchange at Chicago was a reflection of the attraction of the higher money to Wall street. The decline in foreign exchange was another result. Large additional arrivals of gold are expected in London today and the day's decline in sterling rates here leaves open the question of New York's ability to secure a portion of this. Discounts moved upward in London and in Paris and the extraordinary low proportion of the reserves reported by the Bank of England gave occasion for surprise that the expected advance in the bank rate was not made. The fact that continental exchanges had continued to move against London in spite of the week's rise in the open market discount rates there adds to the puzzle of the retention of the present rate. The continued pressure for funds at Paris is believed to be due to heavy losses involved in the collapse of the sugar speculation in France. The day's movement in the money markets and in the international exchanges of the world offered no explanation for the reported shipments of $4,400,-000 of gold from the Bank of France to London and the operation was the subject of interested surmise in banking circles.

Local bank and trust company stocks remain extremely dull. The only sale in this department yesterday was seven shares Fort Pitt National at 218, a decline of 2 per cent from the last previous sale.

Among traders sentiment on National Fire Proofing continues bearish, the prolonged negotiations in connection with the proposed bond issue having a bad effect, so far as the market is concerned, because it suggests the possibility of a reduction in the preferred dividend in the event that favorable terms cannot be obtained for the bonds. From a stockholders' standpoint it would be better to forego a year's dividend, if necessary, rather than to sell bonds at a heavy discount, and it is doubtful if the market value would be seriously affected.

A leading member of the Pittsburgh stock exchange expressed himself as bullish on Union Switch and Signal for a long pull. "Many of the railroads," he said, "have closed their books on the last fiscal year and now know exactly how they stand. The indications are that the new fiscal year will be the best on record. Managers will therefore be more disposed to make liberal appropriations for improvements, and Union Switch and Signal will be strengthened by the public demand for safety apparatus. The installation of automatic switches and signals not only protects the traveling public, but they expedite the movement of freight and thereby reduce operating costs. From information I have received I believe the business of the Union Switch and Signal Company during the ensuing two years will be the largest ever handled, and that it has the best prospect for increased dividends of any stock now on the local list."

In the local "curb" market the sale was reported of 500 shares Oriental and Mashate at 50c, and that price was bid for more. The sale was also reported of 50 shares Fayette County Gas at 97. Union National Gas was offered at 105. Golden Anchor was quoted at 90c bid, 95c asked.

James K. Duff has transferred his membership in the Pittsburgh stock exchange contingent upon the election of A. Fleming Felt.

North Butte broke from 56 to 52¾ in the Boston market yesterday, but recovered to 53¾ bid at the close. In the local "curb" market sales were reported of about 500 shares at 53 to 53¾.

The net earnings of Norfolk & Western for August increased $91,166.

In the new York "curb" market Standard Oil sold at $670 a share, an advance of $10.

The gross earnings of Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh for the fourth week in September increased $55,892, and for the month increased $68,425.

The gross earnings of Canadian Pacific for the fourth week in September increased $229,000, and for the month increased $640,000.

Net earnings of Denver & Rio Grande for August increased $157,278. Gross earnings for September increased $210,170.

Gross earnings of Chicago Great Western for August increased $60,152, and net earnings increased $59,054.

The gross earnings of the New York City Railway, which operates the Metropolitan system, for August were $4,417,611 for the quarter ended June 30, a decrease of $42,751. Net earnings for the quarter increased $39,582.

The report of the Illinois Central company for the year ending June 30 shows that it earned surplus over charges equal to 10.6 per cent on the stock, and after paying dividends and making deductions for additions and betterments there remained a surplus of $1,259,087.

The directors of the Sharon Savings and Trust Company declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent. William L. Wallis was elected a member of the board of directors in place of Earl L. Wheeler, deceased. After the deduction of running expenses, etc. $42,906 was added to the undivided profits, making the fund $82,000.

The H. B. Claflin Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent on its common stock, payable October 14.

The Associated Merchants' Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ and an additional dividend of ¼ of 1 per cent on its first preferred and the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent and an extra ¼ of 1 per cent on its second preferred stock, payable October 15.

United States Rubber Company yesterday declared a dividend of 1½ per cent on second preferred stock. The regular dividend of 2 per cent each was declared on first preferred and old preferred stock.

The Rock Island Company of New Jersey declared the regular quarterly dividend on the preferred stock of 1 per cent, payable November 1. Books close October 13.

There was some active buying of Louisville & Nashville in the afternoon, credited to the western interests, which was undoubtedly influenced by the very favorable character of the annual report. It is obvious that the company is in position for an increase on the dividend on the stock, and there are many who believe that the dividend rate will be raised.

The Copper Range Company, one of the subsidiaries of Copper Range Consolidated, has declared an initial dividend of $1.50 a share.

The testimony of Jacob H. Schiff before the life insurance investigating committee that a director in corporations in most instances is considered as "a negligible quantity by executive officers" seems to be bearing fruit. Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, and director of 40 other corporations, said in his remarks at the American Steel Foundries meeting, yesterday, that it is frequently the case that directors of corporations do not give enough attention to directing the affairs of the companies with which they are identified. He added: "We have no right to neglect our duties as directors and I for one intend to give more attention to the affairs of this company in the future than I have in the past."

As if to account for the raise of 1½ points in Colorado Fuel today, a report was circulated at the close that a contest is on for control of the company at the next annual meeting. It being asserted that an unknown interest has sent out requests for proxies.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Great Northern Railway Company is scheduled to be held in about a week. Those who have been expecting that the shareholders would receive a bonus or extra distribution in some form have not looked for an official announcement prior to that meeting. Official information is not forthcoming, but the information is made that two plans are now being actively considered. One, it is said, is to capitalize the company's valuable ore lands and turn them over to the United States Steel Corporation with a provision for a valuable traffic agreement with the Hill lines for handling the ore. The other plan is said to be to sell the ore lands outright to the Steel Corporation without first capitalizing them.

The board of directors of the Consolidated Ice Company met yesterday and declared a dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred stock. It is payable October 20.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The local money market is firm and unchanged at 6@8 per cent on call and time loans. Clearing house comparisons:

Foreign Money Market.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Rates for money were firmer in the market today, despite the release of government dividends. Discounts hardened with adverse foreign exchange and dearer money in New York. Trading on the stock exchange was generally dull, owing to the prospect of dearer money in the near future. The talk of the Bank of England raising the discount rate today to 5 per cent was not filled, though it is feared the rate will be raised soon. Consols weakened and home rails did not benefit materially from excellent traffic returns. Americans opened flat under the influence of the general disposition and selling from New York and declined mostly to below parity, recovered slightly later and closed steady. Foreigners were dull. Japanese were a shade easier. Kaffirs were lower. Consols for money, 86 11-16; consols for account, 86 15-16. Bar silver steady at 28¾d per ounce. Money 2½@3¾ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 2½@2¾ per cent; three-months' bills, 2¾@2¾ per cent.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—Stocks on the bourse today were heavy, but at the close prices were steady. Russian imperial 4s were quoted at 94.50 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 93.60. The private rate of discount was quoted at 2¾ per cent. Three per cent rentes, 90 francs 12½ centimes for the account.

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—Trading on the bourse today opened extremely quiet and later prices had a tendency to be weak. Exchange on London, 20 marks 48½ pfgs for checks. Discount rates for short and three months' bills, 2¾ per cent.

Banks and the Treasury.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the Seattle assay office today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out yesterday $540. Total thus paid since Friday, $236,334, against $168,794 for the same period a week ago. Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $4,000,000. Payments by banks to government, $2,314,000. Inclusive of the day's transactions, $23,000 paid by government to banks. Total net payment by banks to government since Friday, $980,000, against $5,081,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago and $4,408,000 also paid by banks to the government a year ago. Included in the foregoing summary is $130,000 deposited by banks with the sub-treasury for payment at interior points. Total thus deposited since Friday, $1,225,000, against $600,000 for the same period a week ago and $1,540,000 in the same period a year ago.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Money on call strong at 6@8 per cent; closing bid, 6 per cent offered at 6¼ per cent; time loans strong; 60 days, 5½ per cent; 90 days, 5 per cent; 6 months, 4¾ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 6@6½ per cent; sterling exchange weak, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4 85.25@4 85.30 for demand and at $4 82.20@4 82.25 for 60 days' bills; posted rates, $4 83@4 83½ and $4 86@4 86½; commercial bills, $4 80½@4 81; silver certificates, 65c; mexican dollars, 47c; government bonds firm; railroad bonds firm.

MARKET IMPROVES AS MONEY RATE ADVANCES

Professional Element Refuses to Regard Financial Situation as Bear Argument.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The Herald this (Friday) morning says: Stocks were irregular yesterday, closing, as a rule, for recoveries in price after early heaviness. The normal action of the market, that of easing off on high money, was not very long continued in yesterday's market. At the outset prices were irregularly heavy, with money at 6 to 7 per cent. Prices improved as money advanced, and the highest prices of the day were attained coincident with the highest call rate of the day, which was 7 per cent.

If the increasing stringency in the money market had any influence at all in the stock market, it was simply reflected in the curtailment of activity. Dealings fell away materially. There was, of course, no public buying. Dealings continued professional, and the character of the market may be inferred from the fact that for quite an interval during the day Colorado Fuel sold from 44 to 45 net lower. The rise was so absurd that toward the close some interests pushed Pennsylvania into first prominence.

News of yesterday again centered about the monetary situation. Money was the real factor in the market so far as genuine interests were concerned, but the professional element attached little importance to the money rates. Their argument yesterday was that, as the high rate reflected the increasing demand from legitimate sources, it was legitimate, reflecting the increased prosperity of the country and in consequence high money rates were not a bear argument.

Still, it seemed to be the professional element that was the strongest advocate of the theory of money. Foreign markets, in contrast to our own, were depressed, as a result of higher London and Berlin discounts. No change was made, however, in the Bank of England discount rate, which was regarded as a favorable factor locally.

Foreign Bank Statements.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total reserve decreased £3,530,000; circulation increased £302,000; bullion decreased £2,228,462; other securities decreased £2,324,000; other deposits decreased £3,962,500; public deposits decreased £2,398,000; notes reserve decreased £2,992,000; government securities decreased £4,000. The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 38.00 per cent, as compared with 40.80 per cent last week.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows the following changes: Notes in circulation increased 171,000,000 francs; treasury deposits decreased 152,000,000 francs; general deposits decreased 5,425,000 francs; gold in hand increased 22,775,000 francs; bills discounted increased 79,350,000 francs.

Fireproofing Bonds Not Yet Sold.

"Nothing definite accomplished" was the report made at the meeting of the board of the National Fireproofing company yesterday. The question of disposing of the bonds remains still in the hands of the committee headed by President W. D. Henry. The regular meeting of the board will be held next Thursday, when the question of the dividend upon the preferred stock will come up.

FINANCIAL AND TRADE NOTES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—A coal at the New York stock exchange was sold today for $10,-600, a new high record.

FIRST AVENUE PROPERTY SOLD

W. B. Bennett Buys the Mellor Holdings at 429-435 for $100,000.

BIG WOOD STREET PROJECT

The deal of the C. C. Mellor holdings at 429-435 First avenue, mentioned in The Gazette last week, has been closed, and Mr. Mellor receives $100,000 for the property after having declined three offers slightly under that figure within 10 days. W. B. Bennett is the purchaser and the deal was made through the Real Estate Corporation. The property formerly belonged to the M. N. Varner estate and was secured by Mr. Mellor about two years ago. It consists of a three-story brick warehouse on 85x75 feet, facing on the north side of First avenue, between Cherry alley and Grant street. The building is occupied by the Carey Roofing Company. At the price paid the property figures at $1,250 a front foot, or $16.67 a square foot. Mr. Bennett takes it for an investment and no improvements are contemplated at present.

Will Likely Build $100,000 Warehouse.

Isaac Kaufmann has all but decided to improve his Wood street holdings, recently acquired, with an eight-story store and warehouse building, to cost $100,000. He has secured the deed to the property from George W. Eberhart and J. R. Stoner, Jr., for $305,000, the deal having been handled by C. H. McAuley. There is at present only one tenant in the buildings, and he will move at the option of the landlord. A large firm is now figuring for a long lease on the four-story brick warehouses which stand on the lot, and in case this deal is made the present buildings will be remodeled at considerable cost. It is probable, however, that plans will be drawn next week for the proposed structure, which will be 81.4x92.5 feet and will have four large warehouses.

Mr. Kaufmann is also having plans drawn for the making over of the Methodist Episcopal church building in Fifth avenue, opposite Magee street, into a modern store building. He secured the property, which measures 96x90 feet, several months ago for $150,000. A congregation is still meeting there, but may move to another place this fall. In addition to the present building will be made, so that the new structure will be three stories high and will have five storerooms 90 feet deep instead of the four shallow rooms there now.

Resale of Corner Property.

Through the Aronson-Friedman Company, Ira Aronson has sold to an Allegheny merchant the former Zieher holdings at the northeast corner of Kirkpatrick and Mahon streets, opposite Center avenue, for $38,000, thereby netting $1,000 on an investment of two weeks. The lot is 100 feet square and is improved with five brick stores and dwellings, which bring in a rental of $2,700 a year.

The East End Savings and Trust Company has closed the sale to George W. Schmidt of the property of Francis T. F. Lovejoy at the southeast corner of Dithridge and Bayard streets, Fourteenth ward, for $25,000. Mr. Schmidt, who last spring sold his residence in Center avenue, which he had occupied 35 years, to the Homeopathic hospital, will move into his new home as soon as the present lease expires. The residence is an 18-room brick house on a lot 82x173 feet.

D. F. Shanahan of the Shanahan Transfer Company has bought through the office of Alexander Borland a farm of 52 acres on Coraopolis Heights. The property is on the new county road, about 20 minutes' ride from Coraopolis station, and at the junction of one of the small country roads. It is in three different plots, one of 22 acres and the others of 15 acres each. The buyer intends to use one of these as a site for a $15,000 house and to dispose of the remainder of the land to city men for sumer homes.

Warehouse for First Avenue.

Demmler Brothers have had plans prepared by Architect C. M. Bartberger for a warehouse 60x96 feet, to be erected on the former Kimball lot at the northeast corner of First avenue and Ross street, now occupied by the stables of the Pittsburgh Transfer Company. The proposed building, for which bids are now being taken, will be a five-story structure of the slow combustion type. A part of the present building on the lot will be utilized in the improvement.

The trustees of the Boys' Industrial Home at Oakdale have commissioned Architect J. P. Bailey to prepare plans for a fine home for the boys, which will be built on the 150-acre farm on the hill one mile back of the home. This farm was secured about 18 months ago, and 16 or 18 of the larger boys find steady employment on it this year. These boys now have to return every night to the home buildings in Oakdale to sleep. The proposed residence will be a handsome brick structure, costing $10,000, and will accomodate 25 boys. Bids will be taken in a short time.

Architects Robison & Winkler have awarded the contract to the Hill Construction Company for the 12-room school house to be built at Punxsutawney.

Architects McCollum & Dowler have awarded the contract to Edward E. Weigand of Butler for the Masonic temple at Tarentum. The building will be a three-story structure of brick and terra cotta.

Better Service to Thornburg.

Residents up the Panhandle, and particularly at Thornburg, are rejoicing over the prospect of getting excellent train service in a few weeks. As soon as the new Panhandle yards at Scully, three miles beyond Thornburg, are completed one or more trains will be put on the new line that runs through Thornburg to accommodate the hundreds of men that will be employed in the yards, and the trainmen who live in Pittsburgh and will have to go to Scully to get on their "runs." The schedule will be about 20 minutes to the Union station, which will be a big boon, as it will be a great saving in time and convenience.

In a short time a $15,000 church will be started on the site in Edmond street, near Friendship avenue, to which the Right Rev. Regis Canevin secured title Monday. The building will be for the Italian parish presided over by Vincent Masselli, and will seat 300 persons.

Quite a building boom is "on" at the South Park allotment out the Brownsville road, in Carrick borough. Ten houses are now in course of building there. H. W. Klein will shortly start to build four houses in Park View avenue, to cost $2,500 each, and C. E. Succop will build six similar houses in the same street. The property has come into greater notice since the tunnel line was completed, as this brings it within 15 to 20 minutes of the postoffice.

Change in Directorate.

The directors of the John K. Ewing Company yesterday elected Stephen Stone of the law firm of Stone & Stone as a director of the Union Realty Company and vice president of the John K. Ewing Company to succeed Guy P. McCandless, who resigned.

C. G. Mitchell has outgrown his former quarters on the fifth floor of the Arrott building, and with an increased force of salesmen and renting agents is now located in three large rooms on the ninth floor of the same building.

Allegheny: Kiefer & Colvin sold for George Buettner to Mathias Boss 5 Geyer avenue, Fourteenth ward, Allegheny, a four-room frame house on a triangular shaped lot, 35x45x30 feet.

Fisk street: D. Behen & Son sold for Sara Lindsay to John A. Keil a three-story brick building on 20x139 feet in Fisk street for $4,400; for Edward W. Leeds to Charles Tuckey a brick house in Verona avenue, Lincoln Park, for $3,400; for Mary Manold to James Simpson 35x110 feet in Millvale avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $850.

Crawford street: The Aronson Realty Company reports the sale of the Joseph Whalen property at 15 Crawford street, a brick house on 22x100 feet, to John Ait, for $2,000, and the James R. Devine property at 205 Erin street, a brick house on 16x27 feet, to George Walsh for $2,200.

Meyran avenue: C. H. Chance sold to Edwin J. Carter an improved lot, 22x143 feet, on the west side of Meyran avenue, near Louisa street, Fourteenth ward, for $6,500.

Belmar place: James A. Martin sold to Margaret E. Ritchie 35x88 feet on the south side of Race street, Twenty-first ward, for $2,000.

Crawford street: Abran C. Stein sold to Aaron D. Shoenfeld an improved lot, 17x40 feet, on the west side of Crawford street, Eighth ward, for $2,600.

Forbes street: George Jacob sold to John O'Neil 25x200 feet on the south side of Forbes street, near Wightman street, Twenty-second ward, for $3,125.

Ophelia street: Catharine J. Evans sold to Solomon Jacobson an improved lot, 25x14 feet, on the south side of Ophelia street, Fourteenth ward, for $6,100.

Wylie avenue: Martin Siebert sold to Thomas Allton an improved lot, 20x104 feet, in Wylie avenue, Thirteenth ward, for $3,000.

Hazelwood: John D. Sweeny sold to John F. Woodburn an improved lot, 87x122 feet, at Hazelwood avenue and Notley street, Twenty-third ward, for $3,000.

September's Building Record.

S. A. Dies, superintendent of the Pittsburgh bureau of building inspection, yesterday completed his report for the month of September, 1905. It shows that during the month 376 permits were issued, the estimated cost of which is $1,332,751. During the same month of last year, 321 permits were issued, the cost for which was $5,077,879. Last year, during September, the permit for the addition to the Carnegie free library building, which cost $3,500,000, was issued, as well as several other permits for costly buildings. This is the reason that, although 65 more permits were issued during September of this year than during the same month of 1904, there is a loss of nearly $3,500,000 from the total cost of the September permits of a year ago.

During last month 248 permits for new buildings, with a cost of $1,221,824, were issued. In September of last year 214 permits were issued for new buildings to cost $4,969,864. Last month 59 permits for additions to cost $41,970 were issued, as against 26 additions to cost $48,260 for the same period last year. For alterations and repairs to cost $69,557 69 permits were issued last month, while for September, 1904, only 57 permits for the same kind of work, with a cost of $50,265, were issued.

QUINCES AND APPLES ARE IN LARGE SUPPLY

Good Receipts of Sweet Potatoes and Nuts—Advance of Quarter Cent on Oats.

Housewives were gratified yesterday by the large quantities of quinces on hand in market, especially as most of the fruit is of excellent quality. Receipts are getting larger every day and a drop in price is looked for the last of the week. Apples are also more plentiful in the commission houses and winter varieties are beginning to arrive, including Baldwins, New York Imperials and Northern Spies. California apples are in market at $2 66 a box. Sweet potatoes are arriving in larger quantities, but the price remains firm, as dealers were unable to supply the demand

J. B. THAYER TO SUCCEED PREVOST

Important Traffic Promotions in P. R. R. May Reach Company's Officers Here.

DIRECTORS AT HICE FUNERAL

Slates of almost endless variety have been been made up by railroaders for the Pennsylvania railroad following the death of Southerland M. Provost and the vacancy his death left in the third vice presidency. Most of these slates have had the fourth, fifth and sixth vice presidents, Messrs. Samuel Rea, John B. Thayer and Henry Tatnell, respectively, advanced one step; General Manager W. W. Atterbury elected as sixth vice president, General Superintendent G. W. Creighton of the Pennsylvania railroad division made general manager of the company's lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie, and General Superintendent R. L. O'Donnel made general superintendent of the main line.

In Pittsburgh railroad circles and along the divisions extending out from here, Superintendent Simon G. Long of the Pittsburgh division, has been the most talked of man as successor to Mr. O'Donnel, while other rumored promotions have followed for Mr. Long's present position and others that would ensue. This has been the slate that has been talked of most generally, the opinion doubtless being based on the reported intention of the Pennsylvania directors, some time ago, to create a new vice presidency and place Mr. Atterbury in it.

But this slate, cleverly wrought out as it may be, lacks one essential thing in the Pennsylvania railroad affairs. Mr. Prevost was distinctly a traffic man and for years he stood as the head of the traffic department, Mr. Cassatt having given him full charge of the department without restriction. So if promotions are made it seems altogether reasonable that they will come in the line of the traffic department rather than the transportation side of the company's personnel. About three years ago John B. Thayer was advanced from freight traffic manager to the newly created office of fifth vice president, his duties being to assist the third vice president in the affairs of the traffic department. George D. Dixon was at the same time advanced to freight traffic manager, and E. P. Bates was made general freight agent. Other promotions were made at the same time, among which was the advancement of Robert C. Wright to the position of assistant general freight agent and of George D. Ogden to the office of division freight agent of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division in Pittsburgh as successor to Mr. Bates.

This may be but another slate, but it seems only reasonable that Messrs. Thayer, Dixon and Wright will be the men who will step upward, while these changes will likely necessitate a number of changes in the division freight agencies. That the latter will affect the Pittsburgh offices is also probable, for nowhere else in the country are traffic men so thoroughly trained as in the Pittsburgh district, where competition is keen and where real tonnage originates and must be looked after.

A telegram from Philadelphia last night said that it was officially stated there yesterday that Mr. Thayer would succeed Mr. Provost. As to representing the Pennsylvania in the various boards of the railroads, which the company controls entirely or in part, nothing definite has been decided on, although it is believed that Mr. Thayer will be selected to succeed Mr. Provost and that he will also be elected a director of the Pennsylvania. Mr. Thayer is 44 years old and is considered one of the best traffic men of the country. He has had many flattering offers to become identified with other railroad systems, one being an offer at a princely salary to become head of the Harriman lines traffic department.

Official Party at Hice Funeral.

An official party representing the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company, of which the late Judge Henry Hice was a director, attended his funeral at Beaver yesterday. The party was composed of Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president and general manager; John G. Robinson, secretary and treasurer; J. B. Yohe, general superintendent, and the members of the board of directors who reside in this district, John B. Jackson, George E. Shaw, M. W. Watson and D. Leet Wilson.

Judge Hice was identified with the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie almost from its inception. He represented the Economite society in the early days of negotiations for the road from the mouth of the Beaver river to New Castle, which is known as the Beaver district, and afterward also became personally identified as a stockholder and then as a director. He was counsel for the Beaver district of the road for many years.

"Judge Hice was a gentleman of the old school," said Col. Schoonmaker, "and he was very active, useful and conscientious in his work for the company's interests. His judgment was relied upon in many a time of need. The company has lost a valuable man."

Will the B. & O. Build It?

Whether it is to be again a mere matter of consideration or whether it is actually to be carried to completion, the matter of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad having in contemplation for probable construction next year a passenger station for the East End district is of much interest, it is reported that negotiations are on for this station with the city in connection with the proposed improvement of the junction railroad trackage through the city and the new line from Pittsburgh to Youngstown. The station, as has been rumored several times in the past, is to be built in the Bellefield district, just off Forbes street. It is said that the plans have been prepared for a handsome station in keeping with the finest residential section of the city. Director Bigelow is quoted as saying that the station is a part of the proposed Baltimore & Ohio improvements in this city. Chief Engineer D. D. Carothers said to a representative of The Gazette a few weeks ago that the company will not undertake the construction of the line from Pittsburgh to Youngstown next year, and this included the contemplated reconstruction of the Junction railroad within the city.

Waiting Result of Wabash Meeting.

For some time past there has been a slackening of attention to construction work in certain phases within the immediate Pittsburgh district on the proposed Wabash improvements and new lines, excepting on the connection with the steel plants. This circumstance has led some to believe that the Gould interests are holding in abeyance the work, pending the result of the annual meeting next Tuesday. It is known that some minor matters have been held in abeyance for this reason, but the larger projects have been and are now being carried out as outlined by President F. A. Delano a few months ago. He said at that time that the attention would be centered directly on getting the lines connected up with the steel mills for freight traffic and that the city freight station in the Point district would also be rushed along. These matters are going ahead. The extension of sidings along the lines between here and Toledo and other road improvements have also gone ahead and the road is in good shape for work through the winter, although some of the new trackage is still under construction. The station at Hickory, which was destroyed by fire last Monday, will be rebuilt at once.

Oculists to Travel on Flyer.

To make eye tests and study conditions under which trains signals are displayed, oculists will be placed on the engines that pull the fast trains on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad. The tests will be made preliminary to a revision of the system of examining trainmen for defects of sight, and may result in a change in the present manner of displaying lights and semaphore arms.

Railroad Notes.

B. A. Worthington, vice president of the Wabash, returned with his family from New York.

A. O. Ellis, assistant city ticket agent of the Wabash, is confined to his home in Knoxville by illness.

George Walker, contracting agent of the Erie, has returned to duty after having been away because of the death of his mother.

A. L. Stewart, chief clerk in the trainmaster's office of the river and low grade divisions of the Pennsylvania in Pittsburgh, is on duty again after a vacation jaunt.

James T. Pond, general passenger agent of the Wisconsin Central, who was ill several weeks, has regained his health and returned to duty. He is expected in Pittsburgh in a short time.

The Pennsylvania railroad's coal and coke shipments for the week ended with September 30 aggregated 978,839 tons—669,227 tons of bituminous coal, 220,910 tons of coke and 88,702 tons of anthracite.

W. W. McIntyre, chief clerk to Robert Pitcairn, resident assistant to the president of the Pennsylvania, accompanied by his family, left last evening for a vacation sojourn of three weeks with friends and relatives in Illinois cities.

The Pennsylvania lines carried an unusually large number of people into Pittsburgh on the exposition excursions yesterday. The excursions on the lines west tomorrow will be confined to the Panhandle from Washington, Wheeling, Bennison and intermediate points.

Curtis M. Yohe, son of General Superintendent J. B. Yohe of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, has been chosen a member of the mandolin club at Cornell university, where he went a couple of weeks ago, and he will come to Pittsburgh with the Cornell Glee club in December. He was graduated from Shadyside academy last June.

ANY LACK OF BLOOD

CALLS FOR THE USE OF DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

These Pills Cure Bloodlessness Just as Surely as Food Cures Hunger.

When the body is weak and the blood thin it is sometimes difficult to find the cause unless a wasting illness has preceded, or the sufferer happens to be a girl on the verge of womanhood. In such cases a complete change of climate or of work will sometimes effect a cure. It takes a long time, however, and for the great majority of sufferers is out of the question.

Mr. C. E. Legg of Tipton, W. Va., found a method of treating bloodlessness that is within the reach of all and that much testimony has demonstrated to be wonderfully successful. He says:

"I have tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills several times and they have never yet failed to build up the system and renew the blood. I used them on one occasion for weakness caused by a lingering malarial fever that began in the spring of 1896. The worst effects of this was indigestion and a bad state of my blood. I was anaemic, as the doctors say. People generally would say that I didn't have blood enough, or that I didn't have the right kind of blood; mine was too thin. I was badly annoyed by sour risings from my stomach. There was a good deal of pain, too, in my back and under my right shoulder blade."

"How long did these troubles last?"

"For over two years. For four months of that time I was under the care of a physician, but his medicine did me no good. Meanwhile I learned of the cures that had been wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

"You owe your cure then to these pills?"

"I certainly do, and I also know that they are helping others to whom I have recommended them. One friend reports that they have done more to relieve her insomnia and nervousness than any medicine she had ever taken. Another friend says they have cured her indigestion and made her sallow complexion a clear one. They have real merit and I know of nothing that would take their place."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure bloodlessness just as surely as food cures hunger. A pale, anaemic person needs one thing only—new blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new blood. They don't act on the bowels. They don't bother with mere symptoms. But, when Dr. Williams' Pink Pills replace bad with good blood, they strike straight at the root and cause of many diseases like headache, biliousness, indigestion, anaemia, neuralgia, sciatica, locomotor ataxia and the secret troubles that every woman knows. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or direct by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schnectady, N. Y.

Geisha Girls.

The Japs won because they were right—our methods are bound to win for us.

What spurred the "Little Brown Men of the East" to heroic achievements and unparalleled success in their war with mighty Russia? 'Twas the knowledge that they were right and their methods perfect—their every action was prompted by the unalterable belief that success must surely crown their efforts. We feel the same way in regard to our business. We have enlarged and enlarged because our qualities were always the best obtainable, because our styles were absolutely correct, because our prices were positively the lowest quoted, because every person gets a square deal here. Merit wins in all things. In conclusion let us call your attention to these

Security Stamps Gain in Popularity Daily

The splendid advantages of Security Stamps are becoming more and more apparent daily. They mean that you'll be able to give some Christmas gifts that won't cost you a penny; they mean that you'll be able to indulge in some luxuries otherwise impossible; they mean opportunities never before realized. You get one Security Stamp with each 10c cash purchase—a book of 500 Security Stamps can be exchanged for $1.50 worth of the best merchandise we have in the house. 1,000 Security Stamps are worth $3 in merchandise, and greater numbers worth proportionately more. There is every reason in the world why you should save them—trading stamps are not to be compared to Security Stamps for value. By the way, we'll exchange one Security Stamp for two S. & H. green trading stamps if you so desire. Hundreds of women are making the exchange daily.
